SATCEDAY, JULY 17, 1880.

Hancock can Carry Pennsylvania ! We clip the following correspon the columns of the N. Y. Sun of the 12th inst. The letter is dated Philadelphia,July 10th,and the writer evidently knows whereof he writes: The Democracy of this State is in better heart than it has been since 1856. The Harriaburg Convention settled all divisions in the party, and the Cincinnati nominations have filled it with enthusiasm. Hunt where you will, you cannot find a sorehead or a croaker, There is not a Demotrat in Pennsylvania who does not Islieve that Hancock will be elected, and ecarcely one who does not believe he will curry his own State. They may: "The last Democratic President was a Pennsylvanian nominated at Cincinnati, and so will the Hent one be." There are in this State 80,-000 soldiers who served under Gen. Hanwek or with him. The people, without regard to party, are grateful to him, not only for his aplendid services to the Union on distant fields, but for the immediate preservation of their homes and firesides at Gettysburg. There is no man that could have stirred Pennsylvania feeling to a greater depth than Hancock, and it is exactly true that his nomination was received in every city, town and village with a general outburst of applause. He will poll the full party vote, a large independent and Republiran vote, and pretty much the whole sol-dier vote. Under these circumstances the talk of carrying Pennsylvania is anything
