A VALUABLE PREMIUM!

We will present every person calling at this office and paying $1.00 for one year's subscription to the CARBON ADVOCATE, with a copy of Dr. J. B. KENDALL'S TREATISE ON THE HORSE, one of the most valuable books for Farmers and Horsemen ever published. The book is handsomely and profusely illustrated, and gives symptoms and treatment for the various diseases to which the horse is subject. Remember, for $1 you get the ADVOCATE for one year and a copy of the BOOK FREE! Now hand in your names and the dollar.

We have just received a limited number of KENDALL'S TREATISE ON THE HORSE AND HIS DISEASES, printed in German, which we will give to those paying one year in advance for the CARBON ADVOCATE.

Voters should recall that Saturday, October 2nd, is the last day on which they can pay taxes. Those who have not paid a State or county tax within two years should attend to it at once.

The L. & S. railroad company have contracted for the erection of a new bridge on the line of their road, above March Chunk, 600 feet in length. The Philadelphia bridge building company is to do the work.

"Tune up your voice" and stop that cough by taking Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup. Price 25 cents.

Shortly before noon on Saturday Quintus Snyder, seventeen years of age, was run over by a train of four cars which was passing the Lehigh Valley Railroad, opposite the Mazon Forge Works, Allentown, by the engine No. 10. Snyder was on the second last car loaded with the top of the truck, but as he was not held in, it is believed that the car was not held up. Snyder was run over at the back of the car, and he was killed. His body was found at the scene of the accident. The cause of the accident is being investigated.

Wentherly Special.

—The repair of cars in the new car shops has already begun.

—Mr. George Lantz and wife started on Thursday last on a visit to friends in the West. We wish them a pleasant time.

—Mr. Dan Moutz, while enroute on Sunday, fell from a tree and broke his arm. He is expected to be well again by the end of the week.

—A splendid assortment of Lamp and Glassware just received at Daniel Graver's Bee Hive store, and selling very cheap for cash. Call and see for yourself.

—Paper and envelopes, in boxes, hand some, for $75 cents at Luckenbach's, March Chunk.

—The Berks County Fair will be held in the city of Reading, from the 28th inst. to the 1st of October, both days inclusive. The indications are that it will be the largest and most successful that the county has ever known. Most of the stalls for horses and cattle have already been taken up, and the display of thoroughbred stock will be unusually fine. There will also be an excellent exhibition of fruit, grain, vegetables, and all products of the soil. A large amount of space has been allotted for the exhibition of improved agricultural machinery and implements. There will be special attractions every day of the fair, including a national exposition on Wednesday, September 27th. Races will take place every afternoon, between noon and five o'clock. The grounds are situated on a fine natural walk of the railroad depots, are delightfully located, affording a magnificent view of the city of Reading and Schuylkill and Lebanon valleys. Excursion tickets will be sold at all railroad stations at reduced rates of fare.

—We printed last week fifteen hundred sets for J. T. Nusbaum & Son, of the popular one price store, which that enterprising firm have distributed, and in consequence they are doing a rushing business. Printer's ink pays.

—Sparks from some of the engines on the L. V. Railroad set fire to the dry leaves on the Mazoning mountain south of the city, and it burned at a lively rate for two or three days.

—Christians will be plenty on the mountain on Monday morning last.

—Our public schools opened for a six month term on Monday morning last.

—During the week ending on the 18th inst. there were 192,907 tons of coal shipped over the Lehigh Valley Railroad, making a total for the season to date of 5,342,792 tons, showing an increase, as compared with same time last year, of 148,497 tons.

—Miss M. C. Cullen, White street, Weisport, announces to the ladies that she has just returned from the city, and is now opening an immense assortment of fall and winter millinery goods, trimmings, notions, &c., to which she invites their early attention, as she is prepared to offer unique and bargains. A large stock of the new and popular plush hats—very pretty and very cheap.

—David O'Brien, of the Canal Store, Weisport, claims to have hoisted the first Hancock and English flag in that borough.

—The Miner Bros., of the Fort Allen Foundry, Weisport, are busy as bees—running full time and full hand.

—James Campbell, a brickman, had both legs cut off while firing bricks at White Haven on the Lehigh Valley Railroad, Wednesday.

—Who will men allow themselves or their noble horse to suffer when Kendall's Spavin Cure applied properly will remove it.

—The following directors of the Lehigh Valley Iron and Coal Company were elected Tuesday at Scranton: Moses Taylor, John J. Blair, William E. Dodge, Percy K. Payne, J. C. Platt, B. G. Clark, Samuel Sloan and Edward Hatfield. Mr. Hatfield was elected President, and C. F. Matto General Manager, to succeed W. W. Sherman, resigned.

—The Rev. Dr. C. S. Volker, the venerable pastor of the Reformed church of the Holy Trinity in Carlisle, South Carolina, preached last Sabbath morning for the Rev. James A. Little's congregation at Hoken dauphin.

—All suffering from man and beast. See ad.

—Kendall's Spavin Cure always cures if properly used. Read advertisement.

—The Republicans, about 325 strong, of March Chunk and East March Chunk paraded Tuesday evening in the two boroughs.

—It is said by those who witnessed it to have been a tame affair after the grand Democratic parade of two weeks ago. Wake up, gentlemen!

—John Kline, the Democratic candidate for District Attorney was in town on Wednesday, calling upon his friends. He informs us that his prospects for an election are bright. So much he is.

—A new and beautiful stock of Lamp just received at Dr. C. T. Horn's Central Drug Store, Lehighton, which he is offering at lowest prices for cash. If you need lamps you should buy before examining this splendid assortment.

—The Garfield and Arthur clubs of this borough, paraded 128 strong, last Saturday evening, in honor of the victory (7) in Maine.

—If you desire to secure one of the stand privileges at the fair grounds during the coming fall, remember the sale will take place to-day (Saturday), the 25th inst., at 3 p. m.

—Saratoga advised young people to view themselves in the glass, the virtuous and handsome that they might do nothing derogatory to those virtues, and the ugly that they might endeavor to make the beauties of the mind compensate for the defects of the body, and the Earlwood & Sons' Post Co. advise all lovers of easy writing to use their popular Steel Pens, to be had at all stations.

—Ladies, do not fail to call at Daniel Graver's Bee Hive store and inspect those beautiful Oriental Cashmere Flannels, in Gendarme, Marine and Navy Blue, Garnet, Myrtle Green and Black, for ladies and children's settings. They are very cheap and pretty.

—Notwithstanding the trouble in Maine as to who is legally elected Governor, David Ebert will continue to furnish Democrats and Republicans with teams at astonishingly low rates for cash.

Brutal Murder of Elizabeth Ray.

We are indebted to the columns of the Carbon County Democrat of last Saturday, for the following particulars of the brutal murder of Mrs. Elizabeth Ray, in the borough of March Chunk, Friday morning, quite early, our people were thrown into considerable excitement by the announcement of the murder of Mrs. Ray, who was found dead floating on the river of her home, her head covered with blood and evidence of having been struck a violent blow behind the right ear. Her residence is an old fashioned building owned by Charles McFadden, a few doors below the county jail. About 7 o'clock we entered and found the victim as above stated, and the filthy condition of the room presented a scene the like of which we never believed could exist in this community. It is reasonably safe to say that the house has not been cleaned for years. The sight of the bloody corpse in such a place was simply sickening.

After a short Mr. John Painter arrested Thomas Dowdell, aged 45 years, and employed as a laborer on the L. & S. railroad. The arrest was made without formal proceedings, on information that demanded prompt action. Mr. Painter found him on Susquehanna street, and apparently under the stupifying effects of liquor. He was taken before Squire Frisbie, and witnesses were examined as follows:

George Van Runk sworn. He said that he is from Stock last (Thursday) night, about 10:30 o'clock and saw Dowdell coming along, and some one hurra'd for Gathell, and Dowdell responded and continued to walk in that direction. He did not hear him, but he saw him on his way home. Dowdell crossed the street at the school house, and he saw him on his way home. Ray's horse, which was standing at the Army and crossed over near the jail, but Dowdell had disappeared.

E. H. Hohl sworn. He was coming down about 11 o'clock and heard a noise near the jail, in a small house standing in the hollow—saw Mrs. Ray a man and a woman. It was a moonlight night, the prisoner looks like the man—he was drunk and wanted the woman inside to open the door, and threatened to hurt it. Witness saw about 10 minutes the woman inside said he should go away and didn't want him there.

Alfred Haines sworn. He lives opposite his sister called his attention to the noise and he looked out and listened, heard it, but could not understand the words. He saw a man and a woman, the man was Mr. E. M. Mulhearn, came along and witness called him and stated that something was going on at Mrs. Ray's. Mr. M. Mulhearn replied that he did not know. Mr. E. M. Mulhearn and witness went over into Mulhearn's room at the door, which was opened and saw a man and a woman. Mr. Mulhearn said he was not going to open the door, and witness went back and informed Mr. Kuntz. The witness heard a woman's voice, and she said she was going to open the door, and witness went back and informed Mr. Kuntz. The witness heard a woman's voice, and she said she was going to open the door, and witness went back and informed Mr. Kuntz.

—Mr. Patrick Welsh, a young man residing in the western part of town, on Monday evening fell from a second story window of his home and broke his back. He is now confined to his home and is now under the treatment of Dr. J. B. Truesdell.

—Mr. Jacob Knecht, a machinist, and an old resident of this place, was injured very severely on last Thursday. The accident was caused by a part of the shafting becoming detached and striking Mr. Knecht on the head and back. He was brought home on Friday and is now doing right well.

—Mr. Wm. Bakelstein, Jr., is now our happy hunter, having received a licensing by on Tuesday last.

—Mrs. Hannah and Mrs. Homer of March Chunk, were the guests of E. L. Ebeloy on Tuesday last.

—Mr. George Lantz and wife are visiting friends in Philadelphia, Pa.

—Miss Minnie Houser is visiting in town, the guest of Mr. N. Houser, a family.

—Miss Ida Fletcher, of Hazleton, is keeping house for Mr. and Mrs. Lantz during their absence from town.

—On Monday last Mrs. J. Edinger took advantage of the absence of her husband to "pick up and go." This is only the third time, but is reported to be the last. John can now truly say "I am monarch of all I survey."

—Messrs. John Brown and Ed. Klotz made a trip to Eriestown last Saturday last.

—Mr. E. B. Ebeloy paid a visit to March Chunk, Tuesday last.

—The Ladies Aid Society had a pleasant meeting at Mr. Faust's on Tuesday last.

—Mr. Jackson, an aged resident of this town, died at his residence, on First St., on Thursday. Interment to take place to-day (Friday).

—Mr. S. G. Eby, paid a visit to friends in Hazleton on Sunday last.

—The Misses H. Pfeiffer, Miss Nora Smith and Nettie Dinko were among the party who visited Glen Onoko Thursday last.

—Miss C. White, of Mahoning City, is visiting friends in town, the guest of Mr. D. Evans and family.

—Mrs. S. G. Eby is visiting friends in Williamsport.

—The addition of the elegant motto to the Garfield flag improves its appearance very much.

—Chestnating at a present occupying the leisure hours of quite a number of our young folks.

—Miss Lizzie Hartman and Clara Miller paid a visit to friends in Beaver Meadow.

—Mrs. Musselman and Miss Olive are visiting friends in Wilkesbarre. Fly.

Coal Trade.

The anthracite trade continues very active. We learn that anthracite, especially for the harder kinds of anthracite, are greatly in excess of production, and the difficulty of supplying demand is further aggravated by the scarcity of vessels at all shipping points and the high prices of seaward freight. Freight to New England are fully 50 cents per ton higher than they were two months ago, and this advance, which may be increased as the season progresses, added to the increased price of coal, will probably add nearly a dollar to the cost of the fuel to such dealers and consumers as failed to act upon the advice of the Ledger and lay in their stocks when the prices were low. The capacity of the anthracite companies is fully equal to the demand (steady work is had during the eight or nine months of open navigation); but, if the purchasing companies hold back orders and compel the producing companies to work at a half rate, the supply of coal will be very limited, and the price will be very high. It is not to be expected that the coal companies will be able to get very low prices in the middle of the season, but orders filled during the remaining three months of active work, but no one can blame the coal companies for taking advantage of the present condition of the trade to make up some of the losses incurred in consequence of the refusal of the public to send in their orders during the summer. The present relation between supply and demand for the entire season will undoubtedly give from eight to nine months of full work from three to four months of half or one-third time, and with the trade regulation, the coal companies could earn money without any very violent fluctuations in price—both if there is to be nine months of full time, mostly during the high price of coal will be during the rush of the remaining three months. We notice a paragraph originating in New York and going the rounds of the papers, and which, had it been without qualification or explanation, found place in these columns on Saturday last, that the present production of over 20,000,000 tons per week, being at the rate of 200,000,000 tons per year, will necessitate either restriction of production or decrease of price. But eight months of the year are already gone, the total production of anthracite is only 13,000,000 tons. It is possible to get a weekly tonnage of 600,000 tons for the remainder of the year, the total production would be 19,200,000 tons, making 24,644,431 tons or two millions less than last year's tonnage of 26,142,669 tons. The total production of September, October, November and December of last year's struggle for large tonnage was only 9,519,491 tons, and we doubt whether any of the scarcity of vessels, any greater tonnage can be brought forward for the same four months of the year. If so, then the aggregate tonnage of 1881 would be 25,265,522 tons, or a reduction of 2,777,557 tons, the product of 1879. From last year's four millions in various ways, it is estimated that the product of 1879 carried over and consumed in 1880, notwithstanding the mild winter of 1879-80. Taking it at 2,000,000 would make the actual consumption of 1880 about twenty-five and a half millions of tons. Allowing 5 per cent as the natural rate of annual increase of consumption, and the fact that there are not likely to be as large stocks on hand at the end of 1880 as there were at the end of 1879, it would follow that 26,000,000 will be required in 1881 if there are no great changes in business and manufacturing interests; but if the next winter should be a cold one and add, say 2,000,000 to the domestic consumption of the country, nearly 28,000,000 of tons may be wanted in 1881. With the prospect of such a business before them, it will require but ordinary prudence on the part of the managers of the coal companies during the coming winter to prevent an over stock and place the trade by the first of April next in a position in which, for the first time for ten years, the absolute control of prices will be held by the producers and not by the consumer.—Ledger, Monday.

Death of an Accident.

Thomas John, a very highly respected citizen of Yorktown, died at 8 o'clock on Monday morning last, at his residence in that town. His death was caused by an accident which occurred to him on the previous Thursday, while driving into town, when driving down Poplar street, and at the Mazon street crossing, an engine was passing which frightened his horse—a spirited one—which caused the horse to turn suddenly, throwing Mr. John out of the log seat on to the railroad track. Upon being taken to his home it was found that he had received injuries which were beyond repair, and he remained in a low condition, bleeding inwardly from that time until his death Monday morning. Deacons Longshore, of Hazleton, Brown, of Jeanesville and Lazarus, of Antietam, were called in for consultation, but all their efforts proved unavailing, and at the hour above stated Thomas, one of the best men in the coal, passed away from this earth to another one. His death is universally mourned and sincerely regretted.

Sheriff's Sales.

Death of an Accident.

Thomas John, a very highly respected citizen of Yorktown, died at 8 o'clock on Monday morning last, at his residence in that town. His death was caused by an accident which occurred to him on the previous Thursday, while driving into town, when driving down Poplar street, and at the Mazon street crossing, an engine was passing which frightened his horse—a spirited one—which caused the horse to turn suddenly, throwing Mr. John out of the log seat on to the railroad track. Upon being taken to his home it was found that he had received injuries which were beyond repair, and he remained in a low condition, bleeding inwardly from that time until his death Monday morning. Deacons Longshore, of Hazleton, Brown, of Jeanesville and Lazarus, of Antietam, were called in for consultation, but all their efforts proved unavailing, and at the hour above stated Thomas, one of the best men in the coal, passed away from this earth to another one. His death is universally mourned and sincerely regretted.
