More attention is being given to quality of milk, by dairymen, than was done a few years ago. It is a new topic, comparatively but one which may be profitably investigated A correspondent of our Albany contempor stancer of variations in richness in milk in the same animals that are a little remarkable, and will serve a good purpose in stimulating inquiry and observation, with a view to obtaining more information in this behalf "A neighbor has a grade Jersey cow. In June her milk was exceedingly rich, testing by the cream gauge upward of 24 per cents; the middle of October it tested enly 18 per cents. The general observation of dairymen is that quality increases with the lengthening of the period of milking. This cow was in perfect leasth throughout the season, and her feed was unchanged. ary not long ago related the following in-This cow was in perfect health throughout the scanon, and her food was unchanged. What is the cause of this exceptional action? No cause has been discovered except it be a superscanor of Falling of the Womb. No cause has been discovered except it be a superscanor of the supersca this: In June she was fat; in October she was poor in flesh from excessive milk production. The theory based on this is that in June she started with an accumulated store of material which went to add quantity and quality to the milk sile naturally would have produced from her food. But that store being exhausted the quantity and was poor in flesh from excassive milk prothat store being exhausted the quantity and
