A few weeks ago a little girl who had just recovered from diphtheria was taken by her parents to visit a family in a neighboring town. She slept with the children of that family, and shortly afterward three of four of them were taken sick with the malady, and at least two of them have since died. This family permitted neighbors and relatives to visit them, and the results several cases of diphtheria in the neighborhood. They had public funerals, even keeping the remains of one child an unusuit time, waiting for another one to die, so as to bury them together; this also believes as monopolists and extortionists, when the contagion. The following statement of Wm. J. Coughiln, of Somerville, Mass., isso remarkable that we beg to ask for it the attention of our readers. He says: "In the fall of 1576 I was taken with a violent Blending of the laws taken with a violent Blending of the Lunca, followed by a severe cough. I soon began to lose my appoint and ficel. I was so weak at one time that I could not leave my bed. In the asummer of 1577 I was admitted to the City Hospital. While there the doctors said I had a hole in my left lung as big as a haif dollar. I expended over a hundred dollars in dectors and medicine. I was so far gone at one time a report went around that I was dead. I gave my hope, but a friend told me of DR. W.M. HALLE'S BALSAM FOR THE LUNGS. I laughed at my friends, thinking that my case was incurable, but I got a bottle to satisfy them, when, to my surprise and gratification, I commenced to feel better. My hope, care dead, began to revive, and to-day I feel in better spirits than I have the past three years. "I write this hoping you will publish it, so that every one afflicted with Diseased Lungs will be induced to take DR. W.M.
