Receping Eggs. In reply to a question as to the method of seeping eggs, the N. E. Farmer says: There are a great many different processee recommended for preserving eggs, none of which are 'reliable,' if by reliable you mean such as will keep them without date rioration; but there are several ways in which they may be kept for months with more or less loss of freshness and flavor. But whatever preserving medium is used, the sooner the eggs are placed in it after being taken from the nest the better; if they are allowed to lie around exposed to the air even for a day, or if they are handled and shaken in the least, their keeping qualities will be greatly impaired. The old fashioned method is to stand them on end in dry salt, in a keg or box, being careful that they do not touch each other, and that the salt fills all the interstices; when the keg is full head it up, and turn it over once a week. Or coat the eggs thickly with sweet lard, and pack in the same way in bran. Or pack in powdered unslacked lime. Or dissolve quicklime in water, making the solution as strong as possible, add as much ream of tartar as the solution will take up and put in the eggs taking care to keep then covered all the time. A French process, much recmmended, is to make a varnish by melt ing together beeswax and linseed oil, and poroughly coating the eggs with it, packing iem in boxes with paper pasted over the eracks to exclude the air. The object of all these processes is to exclude the sir, which would otherwise find its way through the pores of the shell. It should be added that the eggs should be stored in the coolest and dryest place possible." The Seventeen Year Locust. Professor C. V. Riley states in the American Naturalist that the present year will be marked by a quite extended appearance of this interesting insect, both a seventeen and 68 a thirteen year broad simultaneously appearing. These two locusts agree in every respect expect in the time required for their full development. The last simultaneous 68 appearance of the two broods was in 1880. and their appearance this present year will doubtless give entomologists a chance t perfect their knowledge as to the geographi 68 cal range of the insects. Pupes have stready been reported either near or upon the sur face of the ground in several localities. The thirteen-year brood is by far the more ex tended, and occurs very generally through out the Southern States, both east and west of the Mississippi. FARM NOTES.

-A small maturing hog is much more valuable than a large one, as no more food 68 will be required to raise two good quick growing ones than it will for a large but slow all-lard hog.

-American granberries have at lest beer successfully cultivated in England. The bushes are planted in pest beds which re surrounded by water. The fruit has been ound delicious even when gathered as late 68 as the middle of April.

-Mrs. J. A. Hewlett, Queen's county, Long Island, has on her estate a mediar tree, fourteen feet high, which yielded last 68 suson about two bushels of fruit. The medlar appears to succeed well when grafted on the pear. In England the quince is a favor ite steek for it.

-Of the 1,000,000,000 seres of cultivable land in the United States, only eleven and a half per centum are used. The 2,586,463,-320 bushels of wheat, corn, cats, burley, rye, buckwheat and potators raised last year were produced on 105,985,005 acres, and the cultivation is in most cases careless.

—A correspondent of the Manchester (N. H.) Mirror asserts that the crow is externi were produced on 105,985,605 acres, and the nating the singing-birds of New England He says: "Few are the nests that escape his vigilant search, and fewer still the young birds that do not go to satisfy his revenous appetite. I have watched them for years. I have seen them posnee upon the nest of the lark and of the plover; I have seen them leaving the nest of the robin with the young in there beaks." -A London paper says: "One of the most remarkable signs of the times, as far as weather is concerned, is the fact that a cloud of bees has actually been swarming in the busiest part of London. Wellington street, Strand, was the locality chosen on Tuesday by these little visitors, who settled down on the outside of a newspaper office as if they were in the most rural nook of the pleasant Surrey meadows, whence they had probably strayed. The swarm was hived without any trouble."

-A newly- varnished carriage is fiable to spot. To preyent this some wish the carriage two or three times in clean cold water applied with a sponge instead of using a hose. This will help harden the surface and prevent it, to some extent, from being injured by the mud or water getting aplashed on the job. Never let mud dry on the surtace and then wash off expecting to see no anote on the varnish. You will certainly be disappointed, and the only way to remedy $40 to $65 the evil will be to have it revarnished. Soft water is better than hard water for the washing of carriages. In this connection, I desire to call the at-ention of the people to my ample facilities in greatest point of superiority at from two to -The best beef is young beef, reaching its three years. The same is true of sheep and swine. A wether, for the best mutton, should be in market at two years. As a general rule, a 250 pound pig is much better in quality and more profitable than a hog that weighs 500 pounds. The point of appreciation of quickly maturing animals is being reached, though somewhat gradually, and it mains to improve the various breeds, es pecial regard being taken to carefully select contain 10 per cent. of these substances. Investigation goes to prove that all kinds of grass cut in blossom contains more fat and wax than when out later. Professor Way found that early out grass contained 61 per cent. of fat, while that cut the latter part of June did no contain more than 2 per cent. There are few persons who have not noticed a bluish bloom on the leaves of grass and grain, perhaps more distinctly noticeable in seasons when the rainfall is 400 abundant-Now this bloom is the wax of the plant, and at times is so abundant as to seriously interfere with the easy working of the mowing machine. This wax preserves the sugar of the plant from being too easily washed outshoat Muxic and books furnished on short in case the grace gole wat after it is mown this wax will have to be washed of before the sugar can be reached.
