RESCUED FROM DEATH. The following statement of Wm. J. Cough-lin, of Somerville, Mass., is so remarkable that we beg to ask for it the attention of our read-ers. He savs: "In the fall of 1876 I was tak the ground below, when the night watch-one time that I could not leave my bed. In detected and folled them. They had the summer of 1877 I was admitted to the Co the work with knives given them to Hospital. While there the doctors said II. done the work with knives given them to make eigars. The well around the yard is a lost in my left lung as big as a baif toollar full of holes, and a ten-year-old boy with a stick could easily scale it. Had the eight desperate men who so nearly got away reached the ground, they would most likely have set some other prisoners at liberty.
