The London Cottage Gardener says : "We have learned to jest at gapes by making free use of camphor. We give to a chicken in a very bad case a pill the size of a small gardea pos. As soon as we see symptoms of gapes we give the birds water to drink which is strongly impergnated with camphor, thus giving to the chickens that which was a favorite medicine with our grandnothers, 'comphor julep.' The treatment cems to explain itself. The gapes or gaping is caused by the presence of small redworms in the windpipe. No medicine can reach them unless it does so by vapor. An hour after the chicken has swallowed the pill it smells of camphor. Camphor is a strong vermifuge and the worms die."
