

Democratic Ticket.

STATE TREASURER, ORANGE NOBLE, of Erie. JUDICIARY, ASSOCIATE JUDGE, HARRY E. PACKER, of Mauch Chunk. COUNTY, SAMUEL RICKETT, of Summit Hill. TREASURER, CAPT. HENRY E. SWARTZ, of Kildler. COMMISSIONERS, JOHN J. GALLAGHER, of Banks, E. SENSINGER, of Franklin. AUDITORS, SAMUEL ZEIGENFUSS, of Lower Township. J. W. HUNTER, of Weathersly.

THE DEMOCRATIC NOMINEES.

ORANGE NOBLE—The Democratic nominee for State Treasurer, was born in Washington county, New York, in 1829. When a young man he went to Crawford county, Pa., and from there took up his residence in Erie about the year 1864, and served as Mayor of that city about four years. He is at present a member of the House of Representatives from that county. He is President of the Keystone National Bank, of Erie, and is one of the largest individual producers of oil in Bradford county, owning thirty or more wells. Mr. Noble is also largely interested in the Main Iron and other manufacturing establishments of Erie.

HARRY ELDRIDGE PACKER—This young and popular Democrat was born at Mauch Chunk in 1850, and in every respect may be considered a representative Carbon county man. He is bright as a dollar, a graduate of Lehigh University, and possesses the qualities of firmness and sound judgment to a greater extent than many of his order here. He is Vice-President of the Lehigh Valley Railroad, and so popular among the people from his liberality and modest demeanor, that our Republican friends, finding that his nomination meant an election, gracefully endorsed him on their ticket, their party leaders at Mauch Chunk having to late years changed their tactics somewhat, concluding that it was a wise thing not to drive this young gentleman from the county as they had his esteemed father, the Hon. Asa Packer, by continuous shabby treatment. Mr. Packer is a chip from the Yankee stock, a representative of the young Democracy and will wear the judicial ermine quite fitting the son of the first Associate Judge of this county. He is heart and soul for the whole ticket, and will use all honest endeavors for its success.

SAMUEL RICKETT—Of Summit Hill, a successful railroad, mechanic and merchant, about 45 years old, in the prime of life, careful, honest, upright, sober and industrious, of Pennsylvania Dutch stock, a good accountant, and having managed his own affairs in the past, is the man to entrust with the county's affairs. He at present conducts a large store and tin ware store, and at the end of each day retires to rest at peace with the world, with his account books posted and balanced. He will without doubt make a strong run throughout the county.

HENRY E. SWARTZ—Is a representative type of the sturdy German element of our county having commenced his life in the backwoods of Kildler township as a wood chopper and lumberman. At the breaking out of the war he joined the famous Bucktail Rifles, one of the bravest in the field, and was promoted for meritorious conduct. Having a thorough German and English Education, he taught school for a number of years, until he accepted the clerkship of the County Commissioners. He is warm-hearted and sociable to a fault, and without doubt one of the most rapid and best penmen in the county. He speaks, reads and writes German as well as translates it readily into English, and will keep the books and records of the Register and Recorder's office in an accurate and first-class condition. Captain Swartz is in the prime of life—is a man of large family and in humble circumstances, but has hosts of friends who will see to it that he is elected.

J. J. GALLAGHER—Is an intelligent representative of the Irish miner and laborer, having served a full apprenticeship in this dangerous vocation for years in the mines near Beaver Meadow, in this county. He is honest and liberal in every respect, and has for years been a strict teetotaler. He is about forty-five years old and was nominated three years ago by the Democrats for County Commissioner, and through prejudice in the county, although he won some 350 votes and lost 50 more by the misprisioning of his name on some of the tickets, yet he ran so well that he had the largest majority of the three Commissioners. Since holding this office, he has been the controlling spirit of the Board and as such has proven himself careful, practical, honest and judicious, and has made an acceptable Commissioner as the county ever had. During his term the valuation of the miner, laborer, mechanic and railroad have been reduced from 50 to 100 per cent. from their previous valuations; the county tax rate that notwithstanding the hard time was 10 and 15 mills on the dollar, is now only 8 mills; important surveys of the boundary lines between Carbon and Luzerne and Carbon and Schuylkill counties were made at his instance; several new county bridges were built and the old ones placed in capital repair; the county buildings put in the best repair, and the Court House, which for years and especially in winter was almost untenable, judges and jurymen often getting sick, and Judge Decker being compelled to sit over hot bricks and attorneys with their legs enveloped in buffalo robes to keep comfortable, the whole building has been put in such an improved condition that the new Court House agitation is now a thing of the past. Notwithstanding the county property is

WASHINGTON.

There has never been such a scene as the Capital witnessed during the last three days. The stream of people was endless. They stopped passing by the body of the late President about 2 o'clock this morning. There was a respite then until 1 o'clock this morning, when they commenced to come again. They have kept it up all day long and will continue until the funeral. It is estimated that at least a hundred thousand people visited the Capital yesterday to look upon the face of their late President. It was one long line of mourners until far into the night hours, after which it was found necessary to close the lid of the casket. Now can this wonderful outpouring of the people be attributed to a merely morbid curiosity. In the case of nine out of every ten of them, it was an impulse of loving sorrow, and patriotic admiration of the man that led them thus to wend their slow and tedious way to that sacred catafalque, for a momentary glance at his unburied dust, and the memorable scenes at the Capital yesterday, to be more than duplicated to-day, furnish but a renewed assurance that the Government which rests upon such a people for its foundations is safer from destruction than the revolving pyramids. Nobody will or can forget that face. It has become blackish. The beard was thin and gray. It could barely be seen where on the right of the face it had been cut away, so carefully was the body arranged. The eyes were sunken and hollow. Dark circles under them extended down to the cheek bones. The nose was the only feature that was recognizable. The darkness is drawn so lightly over the bones of the face that it would seem as if it would be cut by the pressure. The lips are slightly parted and show the tightly clenched teeth beneath. The people who see the face will remember it forever.

At about quarter before 12, accompanied by Senator Jones and Gen. Grant, President Arthur was driven to the Capitol, and alighted at the Senate wing of the east front. He quickly entered the building by the basement door, and proceeded thence to his old room. Then it became noised about that the oath of the Presidential office was again to be administered. It was ten minutes of twelve when Chief Justice Waite and Justices Harlan and Matthews entered the room. Clerk McKinley had with him a small Bible. Simultaneously with the arrival of the Chief Justice, there was profound silence. With some seeming trepidation, as if unconquered personally with the President, the Chief Justice advanced and extended his hand. It was taken and given a most cordial greeting. Then Clerk McKinley advanced, opened the Bible and read the opening words of the oath. He laid his hand upon it, when the Chief Justice, with due solemnity, administered the oath. It was simple and short. It merely consisted of an obligation to faithfully administer the high office which he had been called. As the President kissed the book he said, in clear tones, "So help me God."

The President and Cabinet decided to call the Senate together in executive session on Monday, October 13. The official proclamation convening the body will be issued in a few days. The household now called to the White House by the death of President Garfield has no lady to preside. President Arthur lost his wife a year ago last January, and sadness over her loss is among his griefs. She was the daughter of Lieutenant Commander Herndon, of the United States Navy, who went down on his ship, the Central America. President Arthur's accession to his new responsibilities has been too recent for him to give any consideration to family arrangements for his residence at Washington. If the case of his own family will permit, Mrs. McElroy, his sister, will most probably be the lady who will preside at the White House. Accur.

Before the remains of the dead President had been carried here to their final repose, his place at the head of the Nation had been filled, and already public attention is directed to the new order of things. Not that we have ceased to mourn the late Chief Magistrate, for the emotions of mourning and the evidences of sorrow are an every hand still, and James A. Garfield will live in the hearts of the people as long as his country shall last, but the ever changing tide of human affairs flows on so necessarily that we have but time to cover the faces of our dead before the concerns of the living press upon our attention. The death of the past was a case of long life described. It was a mournful case that came down Capitol Hill bearing the body of President Garfield to the train that was to convey him out of the sight of Washington and away from the scene of all his earthly triumphs. And if any looked on who had, in the heat of political strife, given and taken blows with the dead when he was in the full vigor of his strength, and able as he was willing to cope with any adversary, hard indeed would have been his heart if he could have seen the man who was carried as the horse moved by wherein was laid the head and brain so quiet, and the heart so silent and still.

But now these scenes, though never to be forgotten, have passed away and we turn to contemplate the living present, and the future. Great interest attaches to the movements of the new President. He did not go with the funeral train to Cleveland because the Cabinet advised against it. Under all the succession provided for it was thought best for him not to incur any unusual risk, and that trip, amid all the excitement now existing, was feared to be an unusual risk. To satisfy all possible questioning, President Arthur took the oath of office a second time and was sworn in by Chief Justice Waite, at the Capitol, in the presence of a number of prominent spectators. It was an impressive scene. At the right of the President stood Senator Jones and Speaker Sharpe, of New York. Ex-President Hayes was a conspicuous figure well in the foreground, with General Grant but a few feet behind. All of the Cabinet were present. Of the Senators there were present Hale, Jones, Sherman, Dawes and Anthony, and Representatives Hiscock, McCook, Townsend and Hayes. During the ceremony, ex-President Hayes sat near ex-President Grant. The administration of the oath was followed by the President's brief inaugural.

Many Senators, Congressmen and prominent politicians are now here and the policy of the new administration is much discussed. The opinion of those who know President Arthur best is that his administration will very positively assert his individuality. He is believed to be a discreet and sagacious politician and is unimpaired by any of the plagues that usually harass men who are elected to the Presidency. Undoubtedly he understands the difficulties of his position and appreciates also his own advantages. While he will not be rash, he will be decided and the policy of the Administration will be changed from conservative to stalwart with as little violence as possible. This is the general expectation. Among those with whom I have talked there are none who do not anticipate changes in the Cabinet. What they will be and how soon they will come I will not predict, but nothing is more certain than that Blaine and MacVeigh will finally resign. Of the others it is more difficult to prognosticate. It has been predicted that Hamilton Fish or Senator Edmunds would be made Secretary of State, and that Frelinghuysen, or Emory Storrs, succeed Arthur McVeigh. As to Senator Edmunds I must express some doubt. I do not think he would accept the place. A special session of the Senate has been called for October 10th, and perhaps at that time we shall get an insight into future events. Of one thing, however, there is no future doubt. It will be the aim of the new executive to make his administration distinguished for its statesmanship, but it will be stalwart, and no half-breed or independent need apply.

WASHINGTON.

There has never been such a scene as the Capital witnessed during the last three days. The stream of people was endless. They stopped passing by the body of the late President about 2 o'clock this morning. There was a respite then until 1 o'clock this morning, when they commenced to come again. They have kept it up all day long and will continue until the funeral. It is estimated that at least a hundred thousand people visited the Capital yesterday to look upon the face of their late President. It was one long line of mourners until far into the night hours, after which it was found necessary to close the lid of the casket. Now can this wonderful outpouring of the people be attributed to a merely morbid curiosity. In the case of nine out of every ten of them, it was an impulse of loving sorrow, and patriotic admiration of the man that led them thus to wend their slow and tedious way to that sacred catafalque, for a momentary glance at his unburied dust, and the memorable scenes at the Capital yesterday, to be more than duplicated to-day, furnish but a renewed assurance that the Government which rests upon such a people for its foundations is safer from destruction than the revolving pyramids. Nobody will or can forget that face. It has become blackish. The beard was thin and gray. It could barely be seen where on the right of the face it had been cut away, so carefully was the body arranged. The eyes were sunken and hollow. Dark circles under them extended down to the cheek bones. The nose was the only feature that was recognizable. The darkness is drawn so lightly over the bones of the face that it would seem as if it would be cut by the pressure. The lips are slightly parted and show the tightly clenched teeth beneath. The people who see the face will remember it forever.

At about quarter before 12, accompanied by Senator Jones and Gen. Grant, President Arthur was driven to the Capitol, and alighted at the Senate wing of the east front. He quickly entered the building by the basement door, and proceeded thence to his old room. Then it became noised about that the oath of the Presidential office was again to be administered. It was ten minutes of twelve when Chief Justice Waite and Justices Harlan and Matthews entered the room. Clerk McKinley had with him a small Bible. Simultaneously with the arrival of the Chief Justice, there was profound silence. With some seeming trepidation, as if unconquered personally with the President, the Chief Justice advanced and extended his hand. It was taken and given a most cordial greeting. Then Clerk McKinley advanced, opened the Bible and read the opening words of the oath. He laid his hand upon it, when the Chief Justice, with due solemnity, administered the oath. It was simple and short. It merely consisted of an obligation to faithfully administer the high office which he had been called. As the President kissed the book he said, in clear tones, "So help me God."

The President and Cabinet decided to call the Senate together in executive session on Monday, October 13. The official proclamation convening the body will be issued in a few days. The household now called to the White House by the death of President Garfield has no lady to preside. President Arthur lost his wife a year ago last January, and sadness over her loss is among his griefs. She was the daughter of Lieutenant Commander Herndon, of the United States Navy, who went down on his ship, the Central America. President Arthur's accession to his new responsibilities has been too recent for him to give any consideration to family arrangements for his residence at Washington. If the case of his own family will permit, Mrs. McElroy, his sister, will most probably be the lady who will preside at the White House. Accur.

Before the remains of the dead President had been carried here to their final repose, his place at the head of the Nation had been filled, and already public attention is directed to the new order of things. Not that we have ceased to mourn the late Chief Magistrate, for the emotions of mourning and the evidences of sorrow are an every hand still, and James A. Garfield will live in the hearts of the people as long as his country shall last, but the ever changing tide of human affairs flows on so necessarily that we have but time to cover the faces of our dead before the concerns of the living press upon our attention. The death of the past was a case of long life described. It was a mournful case that came down Capitol Hill bearing the body of President Garfield to the train that was to convey him out of the sight of Washington and away from the scene of all his earthly triumphs. And if any looked on who had, in the heat of political strife, given and taken blows with the dead when he was in the full vigor of his strength, and able as he was willing to cope with any adversary, hard indeed would have been his heart if he could have seen the man who was carried as the horse moved by wherein was laid the head and brain so quiet, and the heart so silent and still.

But now these scenes, though never to be forgotten, have passed away and we turn to contemplate the living present, and the future. Great interest attaches to the movements of the new President. He did not go with the funeral train to Cleveland because the Cabinet advised against it. Under all the succession provided for it was thought best for him not to incur any unusual risk, and that trip, amid all the excitement now existing, was feared to be an unusual risk. To satisfy all possible questioning, President Arthur took the oath of office a second time and was sworn in by Chief Justice Waite, at the Capitol, in the presence of a number of prominent spectators. It was an impressive scene. At the right of the President stood Senator Jones and Speaker Sharpe, of New York. Ex-President Hayes was a conspicuous figure well in the foreground, with General Grant but a few feet behind. All of the Cabinet were present. Of the Senators there were present Hale, Jones, Sherman, Dawes and Anthony, and Representatives Hiscock, McCook, Townsend and Hayes. During the ceremony, ex-President Hayes sat near ex-President Grant. The administration of the oath was followed by the President's brief inaugural.

Many Senators, Congressmen and prominent politicians are now here and the policy of the new administration is much discussed. The opinion of those who know President Arthur best is that his administration will very positively assert his individuality. He is believed to be a discreet and sagacious politician and is unimpaired by any of the plagues that usually harass men who are elected to the Presidency. Undoubtedly he understands the difficulties of his position and appreciates also his own advantages. While he will not be rash, he will be decided and the policy of the Administration will be changed from conservative to stalwart with as little violence as possible. This is the general expectation. Among those with whom I have talked there are none who do not anticipate changes in the Cabinet. What they will be and how soon they will come I will not predict, but nothing is more certain than that Blaine and MacVeigh will finally resign. Of the others it is more difficult to prognosticate. It has been predicted that Hamilton Fish or Senator Edmunds would be made Secretary of State, and that Frelinghuysen, or Emory Storrs, succeed Arthur McVeigh. As to Senator Edmunds I must express some doubt. I do not think he would accept the place. A special session of the Senate has been called for October 10th, and perhaps at that time we shall get an insight into future events. Of one thing, however, there is no future doubt. It will be the aim of the new executive to make his administration distinguished for its statesmanship, but it will be stalwart, and no half-breed or independent need apply.

New Advertisements.

ESTATE NOTICE. Estate of HENRY SPERLBAUM, late of the Borough of Lehigh, Carbon county, Pa., deceased. All persons indebted to said estate are requested to make immediate payment, and those having legal claims against the same will present them without delay, in proper order of settlement.

Public Sale. The undersigned will sell at Public Sale, on the premises, situated on the road leading from Weisport to Parryville, Carbon county, Pa., on Saturday, Oct. 29th, 1891.

$500 Reward. We will pay the above reward for any case of Liver Complaint, Dyspepsia, Sick Head, or any other ailment, if cured by Dr. J. C. Clark's Compound. The reward will be paid in full on receipt of a certificate from the patient, or from any other person, that the patient has been cured by the use of the Compound.

EXECUTORS SALE. There will be sold at public sale on the premises of John Kretz, deceased, in East Penn township, Carbon county, Pa., on Saturday, Oct. 29th, 1891.

EXECUTORS SALE. There will be sold at public sale on the premises of John Kretz, deceased, in East Penn township, Carbon county, Pa., on Saturday, Oct. 29th, 1891.

EXECUTORS SALE. There will be sold at public sale on the premises of John Kretz, deceased, in East Penn township, Carbon county, Pa., on Saturday, Oct. 29th, 1891.

EXECUTORS SALE. There will be sold at public sale on the premises of John Kretz, deceased, in East Penn township, Carbon county, Pa., on Saturday, Oct. 29th, 1891.

EXECUTORS SALE. There will be sold at public sale on the premises of John Kretz, deceased, in East Penn township, Carbon county, Pa., on Saturday, Oct. 29th, 1891.

EXECUTORS SALE. There will be sold at public sale on the premises of John Kretz, deceased, in East Penn township, Carbon county, Pa., on Saturday, Oct. 29th, 1891.

EXECUTORS SALE. There will be sold at public sale on the premises of John Kretz, deceased, in East Penn township, Carbon county, Pa., on Saturday, Oct. 29th, 1891.

EXECUTORS SALE. There will be sold at public sale on the premises of John Kretz, deceased, in East Penn township, Carbon county, Pa., on Saturday, Oct. 29th, 1891.

EXECUTORS SALE. There will be sold at public sale on the premises of John Kretz, deceased, in East Penn township, Carbon county, Pa., on Saturday, Oct. 29th, 1891.

EXECUTORS SALE. There will be sold at public sale on the premises of John Kretz, deceased, in East Penn township, Carbon county, Pa., on Saturday, Oct. 29th, 1891.

EXECUTORS SALE. There will be sold at public sale on the premises of John Kretz, deceased, in East Penn township, Carbon county, Pa., on Saturday, Oct. 29th, 1891.

EXECUTORS SALE. There will be sold at public sale on the premises of John Kretz, deceased, in East Penn township, Carbon county, Pa., on Saturday, Oct. 29th, 1891.

EXECUTORS SALE. There will be sold at public sale on the premises of John Kretz, deceased, in East Penn township, Carbon county, Pa., on Saturday, Oct. 29th, 1891.

EXECUTORS SALE. There will be sold at public sale on the premises of John Kretz, deceased, in East Penn township, Carbon county, Pa., on Saturday, Oct. 29th, 1891.

EXECUTORS SALE. There will be sold at public sale on the premises of John Kretz, deceased, in East Penn township, Carbon county, Pa., on Saturday, Oct. 29th, 1891.

EXECUTORS SALE. There will be sold at public sale on the premises of John Kretz, deceased, in East Penn township, Carbon county, Pa., on Saturday, Oct. 29th, 1891.

EXECUTORS SALE. There will be sold at public sale on the premises of John Kretz, deceased, in East Penn township, Carbon county, Pa., on Saturday, Oct. 29th, 1891.

EXECUTORS SALE. There will be sold at public sale on the premises of John Kretz, deceased, in East Penn township, Carbon county, Pa., on Saturday, Oct. 29th, 1891.

EXECUTORS SALE. There will be sold at public sale on the premises of John Kretz, deceased, in East Penn township, Carbon county, Pa., on Saturday, Oct. 29th, 1891.

EXECUTORS SALE. There will be sold at public sale on the premises of John Kretz, deceased, in East Penn township, Carbon county, Pa., on Saturday, Oct. 29th, 1891.

EXECUTORS SALE. There will be sold at public sale on the premises of John Kretz, deceased, in East Penn township, Carbon county, Pa., on Saturday, Oct. 29th, 1891.

EXECUTORS SALE. There will be sold at public sale on the premises of John Kretz, deceased, in East Penn township, Carbon county, Pa., on Saturday, Oct. 29th, 1891.

EXECUTORS SALE. There will be sold at public sale on the premises of John Kretz, deceased, in East Penn township, Carbon county, Pa., on Saturday, Oct. 29th, 1891.

EXECUTORS SALE. There will be sold at public sale on the premises of John Kretz, deceased, in East Penn township, Carbon county, Pa., on Saturday, Oct. 29th, 1891.

EXECUTORS SALE. There will be sold at public sale on the premises of John Kretz, deceased, in East Penn township, Carbon county, Pa., on Saturday, Oct. 29th, 1891.

EXECUTORS SALE. There will be sold at public sale on the premises of John Kretz, deceased, in East Penn township, Carbon county, Pa., on Saturday, Oct. 29th, 1891.

New Advertisements.

ESTATE NOTICE. Estate of HENRY SPERLBAUM, late of the Borough of Lehigh, Carbon county, Pa., deceased. All persons indebted to said estate are requested to make immediate payment, and those having legal claims against the same will present them without delay, in proper order of settlement.

Public Sale. The undersigned will sell at Public Sale, on the premises, situated on the road leading from Weisport to Parryville, Carbon county, Pa., on Saturday, Oct. 29th, 1891.

$500 Reward. We will pay the above reward for any case of Liver Complaint, Dyspepsia, Sick Head, or any other ailment, if cured by Dr. J. C. Clark's Compound. The reward will be paid in full on receipt of a certificate from the patient, or from any other person, that the patient has been cured by the use of the Compound.

EXECUTORS SALE. There will be sold at public sale on the premises of John Kretz, deceased, in East Penn township, Carbon county, Pa., on Saturday, Oct. 29th, 1891.

EXECUTORS SALE. There will be sold at public sale on the premises of John Kretz, deceased, in East Penn township, Carbon county, Pa., on Saturday, Oct. 29th, 1891.

EXECUTORS SALE. There will be sold at public sale on the premises of John Kretz, deceased, in East Penn township, Carbon county, Pa., on Saturday, Oct. 29th, 1891.

EXECUTORS SALE. There will be sold at public sale on the premises of John Kretz, deceased, in East Penn township, Carbon county, Pa., on Saturday, Oct. 29th, 1891.

EXECUTORS SALE. There will be sold at public sale on the premises of John Kretz, deceased, in East Penn township, Carbon county, Pa., on Saturday, Oct. 29th, 1891.

EXECUTORS SALE. There will be sold at public sale on the premises of John Kretz, deceased, in East Penn township, Carbon county, Pa., on Saturday, Oct. 29th, 1891.

EXECUTORS SALE. There will be sold at public sale on the premises of John Kretz, deceased, in East Penn township, Carbon county, Pa., on Saturday, Oct. 29th, 1891.

EXECUTORS SALE. There will be sold at public sale on the premises of John Kretz, deceased, in East Penn township, Carbon county, Pa., on Saturday, Oct. 29th, 1891.

EXECUTORS SALE. There will be sold at public sale on the premises of John Kretz, deceased, in East Penn township, Carbon county, Pa., on Saturday, Oct. 29th, 1891.

EXECUTORS SALE. There will be sold at public sale on the premises of John Kretz, deceased, in East Penn township, Carbon county, Pa., on Saturday, Oct. 29th, 1891.

EXECUTORS SALE. There will be sold at public sale on the premises of John Kretz, deceased, in East Penn township, Carbon county, Pa., on Saturday, Oct. 29th, 1891.

EXECUTORS SALE. There will be sold at public sale on the premises of John Kretz, deceased, in East Penn township, Carbon county, Pa., on Saturday, Oct. 29th, 1891.

EXECUTORS SALE. There will be sold at public sale on the premises of John Kretz, deceased, in East Penn township, Carbon county, Pa., on Saturday, Oct. 29th, 1891.

EXECUTORS SALE. There will be sold at public sale on the premises of John Kretz, deceased, in East Penn township, Carbon county, Pa., on Saturday, Oct. 29th, 1891.

EXECUTORS SALE. There will be sold at public sale on the premises of John Kretz, deceased, in East Penn township, Carbon county, Pa., on Saturday, Oct. 29th, 1891.

EXECUTORS SALE. There will be sold at public sale on the premises of John Kretz, deceased, in East Penn township, Carbon county, Pa., on Saturday, Oct. 29th, 1891.

EXECUTORS SALE. There will be sold at public sale on the premises of John Kretz, deceased, in East Penn township, Carbon county, Pa., on Saturday, Oct. 29th, 1891.

EXECUTORS SALE. There will be sold at public sale on the premises of John Kretz, deceased, in East Penn township, Carbon county, Pa., on Saturday, Oct. 29th, 1891.

EXECUTORS SALE. There will be sold at public sale on the premises of John Kretz, deceased, in East Penn township, Carbon county, Pa., on Saturday, Oct. 29th, 1891.

EXECUTORS SALE. There will be sold at public sale on the premises of John Kretz, deceased, in East Penn township, Carbon county, Pa., on Saturday, Oct. 29th, 1891.

EXECUTORS SALE. There will be sold at public sale on the premises of John Kretz, deceased, in East Penn township, Carbon county, Pa., on Saturday, Oct. 29th, 1891.

EXECUTORS SALE. There will be sold at public sale on the premises of John Kretz, deceased, in East Penn township, Carbon county, Pa., on Saturday, Oct. 29th, 1891.

EXECUTORS SALE. There will be sold at public sale on the premises of John Kretz, deceased, in East Penn township, Carbon county, Pa., on Saturday, Oct. 29th, 1891.

EXECUTORS SALE. There will be sold at public sale on the premises of John Kretz, deceased, in East Penn township, Carbon county, Pa., on Saturday, Oct. 29th, 1891.

EXECUTORS SALE. There will be sold at public sale on the premises of John Kretz, deceased, in East Penn township, Carbon county, Pa., on Saturday, Oct. 29th, 1891.

EXECUTORS SALE. There will be sold at public sale on the premises of John Kretz, deceased, in East Penn township, Carbon county, Pa., on Saturday, Oct. 29th, 1891.

IF YOU ARE IN NEED OF CLOTHING, Boots, Shoes, Hats, Caps.

or, Gents' Furnishing Goods GO TO

CLAUSS & BROTHER THE POPULAR

Merchant Tailors, Bank Street, Lehighton.

PRICES VERY LOW FOR CASH. The public patronage solicited.

E. F. LUCKENBACH, MAUGH CHUNK, PA.

Dealer in all Patterns of Plain and Fancy Wall Papers, WINDOW SHADES, Paints & Painters' supplies, LOWEST CASH PRICES.

$1000 REWARD. For any case of Liver Complaint, Dyspepsia, Sick Head, or any other ailment, if cured by Dr. J. C. Clark's Compound.

PENSIONS. For all soldiers disabled in the U. S. service from any cause, also for heirs of deceased soldiers.

M. HEILMAN & CO., BANK STREET, Lehighton, Pa.

MILLERS and Dealers in Flour & Feed.

All kinds of GRAIN ROUGHED and SOLD at REGULAR MARKET RATES.

Best of Coal. From any Mine desired at VERY LOWEST PRICES.

M. HEILMAN & CO., DANIEL WIEAND, Carriages, Wagons, Sleighs, &c.

REPAIRING. In all its details, of the very lowest prices.

FOR FASHIONABLE DRESS GOODS, Dress and Trimming Silks, Dry Goods, NOTIONS, Groceries, Provisions, Glass & Queensware, Standard Silver Ware, &c.

E. H. SNYDER, BANK ST., Lehighton.

VASSAR COLLEGE, Poughkeepsie, N. Y. FOR THE LIBERAL EDUCATION OF WOMEN.

Inventors. Should address EDISON BROS., Attorneys at Law and Patent Solicitors, 417 1/2 Street, Washington, D. C.

NOTICE. Notice is hereby given that an Application will be made to the Court of Common Pleas of Carbon County for the dissolution of the Lehigh Building and Loan Association.

NOTICE. Notice is hereby given that an Application will be made to the Court of Common Pleas of Carbon County for the dissolution of the Lehigh Building and Loan Association.

NOTICE. Notice is hereby given that an Application will be made to the Court of Common Pleas of Carbon County for the dissolution of the Lehigh Building and Loan Association.

NOTICE. Notice is hereby given that an Application will be made to the Court of Common Pleas of Carbon County for the dissolution of the Lehigh Building and Loan Association.

NOTICE. Notice is hereby given that an Application will be made to the Court of Common Pleas of Carbon County for the dissolution of the Lehigh Building and Loan Association.

NOTICE. Notice is hereby given that an Application will be made to the Court of Common Pleas of Carbon County for the dissolution of the Lehigh Building and Loan Association.

NOTICE. Notice is hereby given that an Application will be made to the Court of Common Pleas of Carbon County for the dissolution of the Lehigh Building and Loan Association.

NOTICE. Notice is hereby given that an Application will be made to the Court of Common Pleas of Carbon County for the dissolution of the Lehigh Building and Loan Association.

NOTICE. Notice is hereby given that an Application will be made to the Court of Common Pleas of Carbon County for the dissolution of the Lehigh Building and Loan Association.

With Medicine Quality not Quantity is the greatest importance; next is the Knowledge and Experience to Correctly Prepare and Dispense the same.

At A. J. DURLING'S POPULAR Drug & Family Medicine Store, Bank Street, Lehighton.

You can always rely upon getting STRICTLY Pure and Unadulterated Drugs and Medicines.

DURLING carries the largest stock of PATENT MEDICINES in the county. DURLING has a complete stock of DRUGS, GISTS, SUDDIES, FANCY and TOILET ARTICLES for the ladies as well as the gent.

DURLING makes HORSE and CATTLE POWERS a specialty. His 25 years experience in the drug business gives him a great advantage in that line.

TRUSS, SUPPORT