FARMERS' COLUMN.

FARM NOTES.

Fowls sometimes get insane from pecks on the head by other fowls, and in that case they can be fattened—if necessary—by cramming, and eaten or marketed. An intellectual disorder of this sort in the fowl don't effect the quality of the flesh. Among the signs of insanity are wild fluttering, neglect to eat though looking at food, and a frequent disposition to keep other fowls from eating.

To save a fowl which has broken a leg the New York Times advises to "put the broken parts in the right position and connection, and wrap wet brown paper around the broken shank. Then cover strips of wet paper with gum of mucilage, and wrap them around the limb until it is held firmly." But it may be added that unless the fowl is a valuable one the trouble and care required to cure will not pay. If in fit condition to kill cut off the head and cook.

The food much used in cramming poultry is a mixture of oat-meal, corn-meal, milk and sugar boiled together so as to make a mush. It is fed nearly cold, in pills to about as large as the fowls can readily swallow, which is forced down until there is no apparent room for more. This is done three or four times a day, and the bird kept in a box where it can get no exercise, and in nearly total darkness, without water. It reads like an absurd and an unnatural process, but the flesh is said to be good, and sells well.

Fowls should have a good range, and in an orchard will keep down all vegetation if the orchard and the size of the flock are adapted to each other; but to imagine that fowls will keep the curculio from plum or peach trees, and the borers out of the latter also, is a delusion. In most cases they will not eat a curculio when they have the chance, and as this insect keeps himself on the fruit or among the branches the fowls have a poor chance at him. Fowls are useful in an orchard, but not to the extent that is sometimes claimed.

The poultry farm of Isaac C. Wilbur, Rhode Island, referred to in the Press some weeks ago, is systematically conducted, as would be expected when profit is desired. The greater part of a 200 acre farm bordering on the ocean, is devoted to poultry. The divisions of land number thirty with about fifty fowls assigned to each division, total of fowls and chickens, about 1,500. Mr. Wilbur, also markets eggs for his neighbors, and ships about 4,000 dozen per week. He also has 1,200 geese and 1,200 ducks, with a great deal of noise from them, of course. The stock geese or breeders are picked for their feathers as often as they mature a crop in mild weather. Four geese usually yield a pound of feathers. The pick ng is done by an expert, and to pick twenty in a day is a day's work. When the fattening period arrives, the geese are shut up and fed for market, grass is not allowed them then, as it discolors the flesh. There is a head poulterer, with a cottage on the farm, and he is supposed to know a good deal about poultry, or the business would not be profitable. Not "everybody can be a farmer," that is, a good farmer. These facts are condensed from the Providence Journal.

The late Chicago Fat Stock Show was better attended than any of its predecessors; but on account of largely increased premiums did not pay expenses. A still more earnest attempt will be made next year to bring out the farmers to compete.

At the Chicago Fat Stock Show seven steers from the Industrial University were exhibited, all fed alike, in order to ascertain the effect of the same treatment on different breeds. The Shorthorns showed the greatest proportion of lean meat to gross weight when butchered, and all made a fine appearance.

The horse distemper is something like scarlet fever or measles among children. Medicines that alleviate it during the first eight or ten days are better than those which aim to cure. Keep up the animal's strength by good care and feed, and let the disease run its course.

The American Wine and Grape Grower has a communication from Mr. C. A. Wetmore, in which he shows that the worst enemies of American wines are hotel keepers, restaurateurs and wine dealers generally, as they pretend to their customers that American wines are not fit to drink. They keep and sell American wines, but under foreign names and at high prices, and the gullible wine-drinkers whose tastes are humored by this sort of lying, swallow it and think it the real imported stuff. American wines, under their own names, could not be sold at the high prices of the foreign, and that explains the reason for the enmity. It can also be stated that vast quantities of wine are sold which has no grape juice in it at all.

Four Essex pigs, 11 weeks old, fed by Prof. Miles, of Michigan, gained a trifle over five pounds a week each during 16 weeks, or about 22½ lbs of meal each week. Four native pigs—that is, of no particular breed—four months old, each ate 26½ pounds of meal a week, and gained not quite 4½ pounds each. The "moral" is—raise the Essex.

As regards the best methods of protecting steam pipes, flocculent or fibrous materials, which are poor heat conductors, are to be preferred and, if possible, an air space should be left between the pipe and the inner wall of the covering. Hair, felt, loosely felted wool shoddy, or called mineral wool, asbestos, cork scraps, ect., are all good non-conductors. A trench filled with saw-dust, answers very well for under ground pipes.

SEEKERS AFTER HEALTH.

Unfortunates who are seeking to renew their health, are many. So often have they been deceived by the advertisements of worthless compounds, that many are discouraged, and refuse to believe anything they read in the papers. Therefore, the best advertisement of a really good medicine is the reputation it has gained in places where it is being sold. No other remedy ever discovered has grown so rapidly in public favor as that true medicinal tonic called Brown's Iron Bitters. In localities where its extraordinary merits have become fully known and realized by those who have been in ill-health, the sale is unprecedented. One druggist in our city reports the sale of 228 bottles in one week. It is, indeed, a wonderful, health-giving, life-saving preparation. It is soothing and refreshing in its effect, and strengthens every part of the body, and creates healthy appetite and digestion, even when the system is almost destroyed by the many hurtful cathartics so commonly used. Reader, beware! duty demands that you try Brown's Iron Bitters, if your health is poor from any cause.—Enquirer.

Rheumatism

Neuralgia, Sprains,

Pain in the Back and Side.

There is nothing more painful than these diseases; but the pain can be removed and the disease cured by use of Perry Davis' Pain Killer.

This remedy is not a cheap Benzine or Petroleum product that must be kept away from fire or heat to avoid danger of explosion, nor is it an untried experiment that may do more harm than good.

Pain Killer has been in constant use for forty years, and the universal testimony from all parts of the world is, it never fails. It not only effects a permanent cure, but it relieves pain almost instantaneously. Being a purely vegetable remedy, it is safe in the hands of the most inexperienced.

The record of cures by the use of PAIN KILLER would fill volumes. The following extracts from letters received show what those who have tried it think:

Edgar Cady, Owatonna, Minn., says:
About a year since my wife became subject to severe suffering from rheumatism. Our recent use to the PAIN KILLER, which speedily relieved her.

Charles Powell writes from the Sailors' Home, London:
I had been afflicted three years with neuralgia and violent cramps of the stomach. The doctors at Westminster Hospital gave up my case in despair. I tried your PAIN KILLER, and it gave me immediate relief. I have resumed my eleventh, and am now able to follow my usual occupation.

G. H. Walworth, Saco, Me., writes:
I can recommend immediate relief from pain in the side by the use of your PAIN KILLER.

E. York says:
I have used your PAIN KILLER for rheumatism, and have received great benefit.

Barton Beaman says:
Have used PAIN KILLER for thirty years, and have found it a never-failing remedy for rheumatism and lameness.

Mr. Burditt writes:
Have found PAIN KILLER a prompt relief in case of rheumatism.

Phil. Gilbert, Somerset, Pa., writes:
From actual use, I know your PAIN KILLER is the best medicine I can get.

All druggists keep PAIN KILLER. Its price is so low that it is within the reach of all, and it will save many times its cost in doctors' bills. 25c., 50c. and $1.00 a bottle.

The New York SUN, for 1882.

THE SUN for 1882 will make its fifteenth annual revolution under the present management, shining, as always, for all, big and little, mean and great, as contented and unhappy, Republican and Democratic, depraved and virtuous, intelligent and obtuse. THE SUN'S light is for mankind and womankind of every sort; but its genial warmth is for the good, while it pours fiery discomfort on the blistering backs of the persistently wicked.

THE SUN of 1803 was a newspaper of a new kind. It did scarlet many of the forms, and a multitude of the superfluous words and phrases of ancient journalism. It undertook to report in a terse, concise, unconventional way all the news of the world, omitting no event of human interest, and commenting upon affairs with the fearlessness of absolute independence. The success of this experiment was the success of THE SUN. It effected a permanent change in the style of American newspapers. Every important journal established in this country in the dozen years past has been modelled after THE SUN. Every important journal already existing has been modified and battered by the force of THE SUN'S example.

THE SUN of 1882 will be the same outspoken, truth-telling, and interesting newspaper.

By a liberal use of the means which an abundant prosperity affords, we shall make it better than ever before.

We shall print all the news, putting it into readable shape, and measuring its importance, not by the traditional yardstick, but by its real interest to the people. Distance from Printing House Square is not the first consideration with THE SUN. Whenever anything happens worth reporting we get the particulars, whether it happens in Brooklyn or Bokhara.

In politics we have decided opinions; and are accustomed to express them in language that can be understood. We say what we think about men and events. That habit is the only secret of THE SUN'S political course.

THE WEEKLY SUN gathers in eight pages the best matter of the seven daily issues. An Agricultural Department of unequalled merit, full market reports, and a liberal proportion of literary, scientific, and domestic intelligence complete THE WEEKLY SUN, and make it the best newspaper for the farmer's household that was ever printed.

Who does not know and read and like THE SUNDAY SUN, each number of which is a Golconda of interesting literature, with the best poetry of the day, prose every line worth reading, news, humor—matter enough to fill a good sized book, and infinitely more varied and entertaining than any book, big or little?

If our idea of what a newspaper should be pleases you, send for THE SUN.

Our terms are as follows:

For the daily SUN, a four page sheet of twenty eight columns, the price by mail, post paid, is 55 cents a month, or $6 50 a year; or, including the Sunday paper, an eight-page sheet of fifty-six columns, the price is 65 cents per month, or $7 70 a year, postage paid.

The Sunday edition of THE SUN is also furnished separately at $1 20 a year, postage paid.

The price of the WEEKLY SUN, eight pages, fifty-six columns, is $1 a year, postage paid. For clubs of ten sending $10 we will send an extra copy free. Address that a remedy made of such common, simple plants as Hops, Buchu, Mandrake, Dandelion, &c., should make so many and such great cures as Hop Bitters do; but when old and young, rich and poor, pastor and doctor, lawyer and editor, all testify to having been cured by them, you must believe and try them yourself, and doubt no longer.

It Seems Impossible

Only Two Bottles.

Messrs. Johnson, Holloway & Co., wholesale druggists of Philadelphia, Pa., report that some time ago a gentleman handed them a dollar, with a request to send a good catarah cure to two army officers in Arizona. Recently the same gentleman told them that both the officers and the wife of Gen. John C. Fremont, Gov., of Arizona, had been cured of catarrh by the two bottles of Ely's Cream Balm.

Messrs. Ely Bros., Druggists, Owego, N. Y.—A few days ago I saw a lady who had used your Cream Balm for Catarrh, and had found more relief in one bottle than from all other remedies she had tried. I enclose $1 for two bottles. Yours respectfully, James Hitchen, M. D., Providence, R. I.
