FARM NOTES.

-Chloral hydrate has proved an efficient antidute in several recently reported cases of severe polyoning by beliadonna in Eng-

- Charred corn is one of the best things which can be fed to hens to make them lay, but as a regular fliet, but in Innited quantitres each day. -It costs but very little per head to raise sheep. Not only will they juy as farm stock but it is being commonly known that cheep restore fertility to land. -Anybedy can have grape vines by cutting them properly. Trim off a portion of the old vine and leave a but at each end. Stick one end in the ground and it will take -Strawberry plants -Lould be set out as early in the season as possible in order to avoid a dry spell. Nothing is as fainl to young plants as lack of moisture after being transplanted.

- In breeding fewls for eggs use the Leghorns, Hondans, Black Spanish and Hamburga - non-netters. For market chicks, the Piymouth Rocks, Brahams and Cockinsshould be tried.

-Those feeding bean should not lose sight of the fact that wheat ground by the "new process" converts the best part of the bran into flour, and what is left is of but litde value as cattle food.

-Gray bodies properly selected as to Beight of tone, when contiguous to colore bodies, exhibit the phenomena of centrast color more strikingly than either black o white substances do. -One enw well fed and comfortably care for will produce quite as much milk and butter, as two that are allowed to run at large, he on the wet ground, and be subject to the exposure of the weather. -An application of 100 pounds of nitrate of soda to an agre of wheat, where the crop looks weak will show its benefit in a few days, not only improving it in growth but largely increasing the yield. -Ensilage is nothing new, as far as preservation is concerned. It is simply keeping green food through the winter by exclusio of the air. It is on the same principle : canning, only on a larger scale.

---An application of a bushel and a held of plaster to the sere on clover, early this spring will intuse new life into to. If wood ashes are added it will be still better. As' es and player are special fertilizers for clover.

-Onlone are the first vegetables that get in the ground. The land should be rich. They can be grown in the same place every year, as they are very merty equally preportlaned in the constituent elements derived from the soil.

-Alum water is recommended for preventing bugs and worms from infesting flour mills. Dissolve two pounds of alum in three quarts of worm water, and apply with a brush to cervices where lurects may

-Sigal tools should never be heated either for forging or tempering, in a fresh fire unless it be charooul. If coke is not at hand the fire should be allowed to burn until all the gas is burned out of the coal before the steel is introduced.

-Some farmers think that a cow must cat all the time when confined in the stall. It is a poor economy which puts fresh hay into a manger on top of older hay. A little tossing of the hay, is ft. in the manger will dry it and make it seem of renewed piceness to cows or horses. -The Illinois Department of Agriculture issues a slip containing returns received in Becember as to the condition of the winter wheat erop of the State. The acreage is reported at 12 per cent Jess than the previous year, but the state of the crop is very generally above the average.

-Occasional sowing of little rutches of ground with mustard, green pens, oats, etc., will do much to aestst in keeping a cow on a small farm. They grow quickly and the same land will give several crops. A little discretion in this way will save much expense as to keep as well as furnishing early green feed.

-Green peas are early crops. Most per sons preter the dwarfs, but the tall varieties yield better. A fault with the dwarfs is the they furnish families growing them with such few pickings. This is because they ripen nearly all at once. The better plan is to put them in the ground at intervals for cession of crops.

- Distemper in a colt takes about three weeks to run its course. All the medicine required is a light dose of Epsom salis-say four to six ounces-and good nursing. Give warm bran mashes, linseed or natmeal gruel; keep the animal warm, and rub the legs with cloth, dipped in hot water; a tenspor ful of mustard in the water would be beneficial if the legs seem to be weak and numb.

-It is said that no animal is so extensively diffused over the globe or increases a rapidly as the hog. Biarshal Vauban calculated that the produce of a single sow in ten years, assuming six pigs at a litter would increase to 6,434,150 pigs, or an many as any of the chief European States would support. If this calculation were carried on to the twelfth generation we should find that they would fill all Europe with a supply, and by the exteenth cover the whole

-"The great majority of ringhane young horses comes from a failure to short en the two," To this may be added that ringbone is apt to be formed if colts are allowed to stand on a plank flor, or anywhere glse where the feeting is hard, during the first 18 months of their age. Whether in stable or yard, during this period let thou have earth for standing or walking, free from stone or gravel. If their summer pasture is a gravelly soil, or even stony, it is not objectionable, because the cult will always pick out springy turf enough to stand and walk on without injury to his feet, legs or joints.
