HOW MUCH LAND FOR EACH ! The recent Census gives the total area he United States (not reckoning Alasks) a 3,025,600 square miles, of which 55,00 quare miles are occupied by water-lakes ivers, bays, etc.,-leaving 2,970,000 squar niles of land, or 1,900,800,000 acres. Th otal population is 50,155,783. The land evenly divided would give to every man. mman and child 352 acres, and an onion atch 3 by 6 rods, over. If we divide the opulation into families of six persons, each family could be allotted 227 acres. Allow> ing one quarter of the land to be mountain idges, sandy and stony tracts, and otl er bad lands," there would still be left the egulation "quarter section" (169 acres) for ach family. But the censos figures not being made up are for June 1880. Since then over one million people from foreign ands "have come to stay," as American citizens, and the natural increase has been onsiderable ; the total increase from 1870 to 1880 was 3 per cent. per annum. So we have now (March 1, 1882) usariy fifty-four nillion inhabitants. As the area of land does not expand, there are now less than 36 acres each, or not 152 acres per family and the average amount is rapidly decreas ing. No cause for alarm, however. With the best culture, one acre will supply plenty of food for one person, and at this rate we and twenty volumes of the same size in talk. This is only another proof of woman's superiority, as the suffragists would say.

-A confession: "I've had ふやう that one boot shine played on me," said Sniffkins, "and I wish you'd show it up. A gamin offered to give me a shine for a nickel. I put my left hoof up on his box; he polished it, rapped on the side est of his box and said 'Gimme a nickel.' I said go on with the other boot. 'N-a-a-w ! I said a shine for a nickel. Another nickel, boss, for the other boot.' I had to give it."

-Unreasonable: A correspondent asks us how many men entered the Confederate service. Do you think we are going around from 1861 to 1865 with a note book and pencil, keeping tally of Conlederate soldiers? You are unreasonable, man. How would you like some interrogatories of that character thrown at Every Dairy Fatmer, Producer and Dealer in Dairy Products should Subscribe for you? What would you think of us if we asked you to inform The AMERICAN DAIRYMAN. of us if we asked you to inform us how many mince pies were made in the United States during 1881 or how many fleas a yellow dog could support without personal inconvenience ?
