—There is a Thirteen Club of good fellows in New York, the only object of whose association seems to be, after eating good dinners, to vindicate the good fame of the number 13. They are doing it in fine style. Everything is done by thirteens. There are 13 plates at dinner, 13 guests, 13 waiters; and all the adjuncts and accessories, even to 13 singing canaries, are made up with the same defiance of the luck of the unlucky number. So far as they have progressed their diet appears to agree with them, no plague has overtaken them and no sudden earthquake has vindicated tradition by swallowing them up.

—Definition of a novel: Mr. Swing says "that a novel is the world's truth, with a beautiful woman walking through it." Generally, we may add, with a man after her.

—Spring is the time for sowing. In the city women sew skirts at forty-five cents per dozen. In the city, also, the wicked sow tares and reap tears. And everywhere in the spring time men sow the wind and reap the whirlwind. Spring is a season much sung about by poets. It is the season that moves people—especially about the first of May. It is the season for raising things. The first thing generally raised in the spring is—the rent. After that comes spring radishes and greens.

Money for a Rainy Day.

"For six years my daughter was sick from kidney and other disorders. We had used up our savings on doctors, when our dominie advised us to try Parker's Ginger Tonic. Four bottles effected a cure, and as a dollar's worth has kept our family well for over a year, we have been able to lay by money again for a rainy day."—A Poor Man's Wife.

—It doesn't make a man bad because he gets a party nomination for a public office, and it doesn't make him good. General Hancock is just as tolerable a citizen now that he is no longer a candidate for the Presidency as he was before he was defeated for that office, but the altered tone of Republican newspapers in referring to him would lead to the inference that he was developing angelic traits they have just discovered.

—A contract has been drawn and signed between the Bathlehem Iron Company and the managers of the Pennsylvania & New England Railroad for 80 miles of steel rails to be delivered sometime during May. It is to be cash on delivery.

—Sometime ago Mrs. Brown, of Allen county, Ky., gave birth to twins. Notwithstanding there is but four minutes difference in their ages, yet one was born in 1881 and the other in 1882, one in December and the other in January, one on Sunday, the other on Monday.

—The meanest man: The meanest man on record sent through a post office presided over by a woman a postal card on which was written: "Dear Jack: Here's the details of that scandal." And then the rest was in Greek.

Suffering Women.

There is but very small proportion of the women of this nation that do not suffer from some of the diseases for which Kidney-Wort is specific. —The wheat crops of 1882 looks well on paper. If the statisticians could grow our crops and the speculators sell them for us we might all be happy.

PERRY DAVIS' PAIN KILLER

A Never-Failing Cure for Burns, Scalds, Bruises, Cuts, Sores, etc.

After forty years of trial, Perry Davis' Pain Killer stands unrivaled. It is safe! It acts immediately! It never fails!

Editor of the St. John (N. B.) News, says:
In flesh wounds, aches, pains, sores, etc., it is the most effectual remedy we know of. No family should be without a bottle of it for a single hour.

From the Cincinnati Dispatch:
We have seen its magic effects, and know it to be a good article.

From I. S. Potter, U. S. Consul at Crefeld, Rhenish Prussia:
After long years of use, I am satisfied it is positively efficient as a healing remedy for wounds, bruises, and sprains.

W. W. Sharper, Valdosta, Ga., says:
It is a panacea for all bruises and burns.

From R. W. Adams, Saco, Me.:
It gave me more immediate relief.

R. Lewis says:
In forty years' use it never has failed me.

W. W. Lum, Nicholville, N. Y., says:
I use your PAIN KILLER frequently. It relieves pain and soreness, and heals wounds like magic.

J. W. Dee says:
For scalds and burns it has no equal.

PERRY DAVIS' PAIN KILLER is not a new untried remedy. For forty years it has been in constant use; and those who have used it the longest are its best friends.

Its success is entirely because of its merit. Since the Pain Killer was first introduced, hundreds of new medicines have come and gone, while to-day this medicine is more extensively used and more highly valued than ever before. Every family should have a bottle ready for use. Much pain and heavy doctors' bills may often be saved by prompt application of the Pain Killer. Unlike most medicines, it is perfectly safe even in the hands of a child. Try it once thoroughly, and it will prove its value. Your druggist has it at 25c., 50c. and $1.00 per bottle.

FARMERS' COLUMN.

Long Rows in the Garden.

Works on gardening give plans for laying out the ground—certain beds to be put in one place, with paths here and there. This is all well in order to make the most of a small piece of ground. With the farmer's garden the case is different, as there are few farms where a square rod or two more or less in the garden is of importance. In such a garden there should be very few beds, but all the larger vegetables should be placed in long, straight rows, in order that the working may be done, so far as practical, with the horse cultivator. The permanent beds, such as those of rhubarb, and asparagus should be near one another and at one side of the land to be occupied by the annual crops. In sowing or planting it, the cultivator used upon the farm is also to do work in the garden; this is to be borne in mind in laying out the rows, which should be at such distances as will allow of the passage of the implement. In going to or coming from farm work, the cultivator may often take a few turns in the garden. Those who have never tried horse-power in the garden, will be surprised at the great help it is in keeping it in proper order, and it will go far to do away with the complaint that the garden "takes too much time."—American Agriculturist for April.

Don't Neglect the Garden.

No part of the farm pays better than the land devoted to the garden, yet on no part is the work more grudgingly given. Often it will be true economy to have an acre or two less of wheat, or other field crop, and invest the labor that would have been given these upon the garden. When farmers learn that a constant diet of corned beef and cabbage, varied by pork and beans—both excellent in their way—can be easily varied by many other, and not more costly forms of food, we shall hear less of the question: "How to keep boys on the farm?" and in other forms of food, we include an ample supply of fruits.—American Agriculturist for April.

Take Good Care of the Horse.

If at work, they need a regular allowance of grain. If worked hard, ten quarts of ground corn and oats mixed will not be too much. The hay may be cut and moistened, and the feed mixed with it. Such a ration is not over bulky, and contains sufficient nourishment to keep a working horse in good trim. At this season the coat begins to loosen, and the skin is irritable. When much so it may be corrected by giving daily, for a week, an ounce of equal parts of Sulphur and Cream of Tartar. Good grooming with soft brush and curry-comb is decidedly useful. Everything about the stable should be kept neat and clean, as the warm weather approaches. Turn brood mares loose into a box stall as foaling time approaches. They should receive gentle treatment, as this is likely to influence the disposition of the colt.—American Agriculturist.

Save and Care for the Pigs.

For many years past no spring season has found so few swine in the country in proportion to the coming wants. Owing to the scarcity and high price of corn, and the demand for hog products at figures far above average years, the last hog, grown and half grown, that could be got into anything near a fit condition to be slaughtered, has been sent to market. It is reported that a good many breeding sows have gone into the barrel and lard pans. This being the case, with the probability that the markets of this country and elsewhere will be cleared up and nearly bare of pork, bacon, ham, and lard before next winter, makes it important to look well after the pigs; to see that not one is lost for want of care and protection until warm settled weather arrives; also to give the young porkers a good start and continuous vigorous growth by liberal feeding; also to do all that can be done to multiply the number. The foreign demand for hog products is always large, and 10 lbs of corn, when converted into 1 lb. of pork or lard, is transported at one-tenth cost.—American Agriculturist.

Horseradish.

Horseradish is more frequently tolerated than cultivated on the farm. It is often found occupying some odd corner, making a slovenly weedy patch, from which a few pieces are taken as wanted in the spring. When left to itself it takes such thorough possession of the soil that it is difficult to get rid of it. The only way to keep it under control is, to plant the roots, let them grow one season and then dig the whole up. If left longer it will make trouble, and the roots will not be so good. Sets, are the small side roots, about six inches long, and half an inch or less in diameter. They are made when trimming the roots for use or for market; as they must be planted right end up, the top part is cut off square, and the lower end with a slant. In this shape they are sold at the seed stores, but enough for the home garden may be dug from any accessible patch. Market gardeners plant them between the rows of early cabbages; if they start before the cabbages are mature, the tops are cut off in hoeing; when the cabbages are removed the horseradish is allowed to grow. In the family garden a small planting may be made without reference to the cabbage or other crops, planting the sets eighteen inches apart each way, with a sharp pointed dibble, having the tops of the sets three inches below the surface. Be sure and take up the roots, large and small, in autumn or early next spring.—American Agriculturist.

The New York SUN, for 1882.

THE SUN for 1882 will make its fifteenth annual revolution under the present management, shining, as always, for all, big and little, mean and generous, contented and unhappy, Republican and Democratic, depraved and virtuous, intelligent and obtuse. THE SUN'S light is for mankind and womankind of every sort; but its genial warmth is for the good, while it pours hot discomfiture on the blistering backs of the persistently wicked.

THE SUN of 1882 was a newspaper of a new kind. It discarded many of the forms, and a multitude of the superfluous words and phrases of ancient journalism. It undertook to report in a fresh, summer, unconventional way all the news of the world, omitting not even that of human interest, and commenting upon affairs with the fearlessness of absolute independence. The success of this experiment was the success of THE SUN. It offered a permanent change in the style of American newspapers. Every important journal established in this country in the dozen years past has been modelled after THE SUN. Every important journal already existing has been modified and bettered by the force of THE SUN'S example.

THE SUN of 1882 will be the same outspoken, truth-telling, and interesting newspaper.

By a liberal use of the means which an abundant prosperity affords, we shall make it better than ever before.

We shall print all the news, putting it into readable shape, and measuring its importance, not by the traditional yardstick, but by its real interest to the people. Distance from Printing House Square is not the first consideration with THE SUN. Whenever anything happens worth reporting we get the particulars, whether it happens in Brooklyn or Bokhara.

In politics we have decided opinions; and are accustomed to express them in language that can be understood. We say what we think about men and events. That habit is the only secret of THE SUN'S political course.

THE WEEKLY SUN gathers in eight pages the best matter of the seven daily issues. An Agricultural Department of unequalled merit, full market reports, and a liberal proportion of literary, scientific, and domestic intelligence complete THE WEEKLY SUN, and make it the best newspaper for the farmer's household that was ever printed.

Who does not know and read and like THE SUNDAY SUN, each number of which is thousands of interesting literature, with the best news of the day, presenting every line worth reading, being in short a large sheet of news, a sound moral book, and influentially more varied and entertaining than any book, big or little? If our idea of what a newspaper should be pleases you send to THE SUN.

Our terms are as follows:

PATENTS

obtained for Inventors in the United States Canada and Europe, at reduced rates. With our principal office located in Washington, directly opposite the United States Patent Office, we are able to attend to all patent business with greater promptness and despatch and at less cost than other patent attorneys who are at a distance from Washington, and who have, therefore, to employ "associate attorneys." We make preliminary examinations and furnish opinions as to patentability, free of charge, and all who are interested in new inventions and patents are invited to send for a copy of our "Guide for obtaining Patents," which is sent free to any address, and contains complete instructions how to obtain patents and other valuable matter. We refer to the German-American National Bank, Washington, D. C.; the Royal Swedish, Norwegian and Danish Legations, at Washington; Hon. Jos. Casey, late Chief Justice U. S. Court of Claims; to the Officials of the U. S Patent Office, and to Senators and Members of Congress from every State.
