From the County Seat.

Disappeared—the large wood pile in front of the steam mill.

Going up—the foundation wall of Packard's new building.

Gay, booming and attractive—the Lehigh Valley railroad depot here, in its new coat of paint.

On the advance—four and beef.

Extraordinary—the weather; probable cause, the comet, the conjunction of the planets or a stray and floating iceberg.

Mr. C. A. Rex and son left last Tuesday for Europe. They expect to be absent six months.

Mr. Robinson left for Williamsport, on Monday of this week, instead of Saturday last week, as was reported.

We are glad to see that the fence of the lower quarry which for some time has been neglected and in a dilapidated condition (reported) is in opinion it is both important and necessary.

On last Tuesday evening, while Paul Schweitzer, proprietor of the European House, of this borough, was driving from his late quarry, near Hamilton, to the depot, the live horse that he had hired, got frightened at a cow, became unmanageable and ran away.

Mr. Thomas Harleman had interviewed some of the boys who were in company with the sufferers, and ascertained that he had taken of a boy that had supposed to be a rickshaw. Pieces of the deadly paint were secured.

Within the house, Dr. Derhamer was battling with all his skill and energy to save the life of little Harry Bennett, but despite all efforts, after enduring the most intense agony, the little sufferer breathed his last. He then turned his attention to the other child in convulsions, with a determination, if possible, to defeat death's ravages.

It was successful, the convulsions were broken, and the little fellow is as well as ever to-day, only almost heart-broken at the loss of his little brother who he fondly loved. Meanwhile Dr. Reber had mastered the poison in Harry Stocker. Other children, who had been springing of the poisonous paint, were being attended by anxious parents, and the excitement subsided.

Mr. E. Yeager, who recently purchased the property on Broadway, has had the front painted and the land re-enclosed.

Thomas Reed, formerly telegraph operator in the office of the L. C. N. Co., was in town on last Tuesday. He looks well and we understand he is doing well.

Eddie Gere, the oldest child of C. M. Gere, of West Broadway, departed this life on last Tuesday morning, after having suffered intensely for several days with influenza pneumonia. He was a bright and promising youth, who was only 11 years of age.

Mr. W. H. Stroh, who was on a short visit to his daughter, Mrs. Oscar Kline, in Elizabeth, N. J., returned home on Tuesday evening, accompanied by her grand son Willie Kline.

Miss Annie Stroh, daughter of Wm. H. Stroh, who was being visited by her sister Mrs. Annetta Walters, returned home last Tuesday.

It is rumored that Joseph Leach, druggist of this place, has purchased Dr. Reber's property, in East Mauch Chunk, and that he has purchased the Steadman property, on Broadway, now occupied by Dr. J. A. Horn.

Stocks are a little uncertain and should be handled with caution.

Annual Session of the O. U. M.

The thirty-sixth annual session of the State Council of the Order of United American Mechanics of Pennsylvania commenced its session in the hall of Manocopy Lodge 1, O. O. F., Broad street, Bethlehem, Tuesday morning, at ten o'clock.

At an open session, at which Burgess H. Myers and Councilmen Anstett and Goldbach were present, Burgess Myers bid the delegates welcome to the hospitalities of Bethlehem in a short speech, which was replied to on behalf of the Council by State Councilor John Eckstein, of Philadelphia. There were about one hundred delegates present.

At the regular morning session of the Council new members were admitted and reports of the several officers were received and referred to committees. At the ending of the fiscal year 1921, there were 153 members of the order in the State and a membership of 19,227. The receipts of subordinate councils were $127,739.36, exclusive of dues. The total receipts for the year amounted to $123,118. The balance in the treasury of subordinate councils aggregate $235,252.90, and in the widows and orphans fund, $50,814.77. During the current year many additions have been made to the membership. The officers of the State Council for the ensuing year, commencing May 2, are as follows: State Councilor, William S. Miller, of Scranton; State Vice Councilor, M. E. Sanderson, of Philadelphia; State Secretary, Walter Graham, of Philadelphia; State Council Treasurer, John Kroder, of Philadelphia; State Council Inspector, John S. Miele, of Harrisburg; State Council Examiner, M. S. Lewis, of Pottsville; State Council Protector, Nelson Edgers, of Jacksonville. At the afternoon session a resolution was adopted to instruct representatives to the National Council to urge upon that body the establishing of a law for aged and infirm members. The new officers were installed. The per capita fee for the coming year was fixed at twenty-four cents. Peter Steyer, of Bethlehem, was elected representative to the National Council for three years. Lenester was selected as the place for holding the next annual session, on the first Tuesday in May, 1923.

Importance to Insurers.

John A. Graver insured his dwelling house and store, in Nanticoke, Luzerne county, in December, 1917, for $2,700 in the Franklin Fire Insurance Company. The policy of insurance contained a provision that if the risk should be increased from any cause without the knowledge of the insured, notice thereof should be given to the company or the policy should be void. The building was burned down in July, 1917. The company refused to pay the loss, on the ground that Mr. Graver, by not notifying them of the erection upon adjoining lots of two new buildings, which, it is claimed, had increased the risk, had failed to comply with the conditions of his policy.

Mr. Graver brought suit to recover. Upon the trial the company brought experts to prove that the risk upon Mr. Graver's property had been greatly increased by the erection of the adjoining buildings. This testimony was ruled out, the Judge telling the jury that the question of increased risk was one for them to determine, as was also the question as to whether the fact of the increase was within Mr. Graver's knowledge.

The jury awarded a verdict in favor of the insurer for $2,700. An appeal was taken to the Supreme Court, which Tuesday sustained the lower court.

Lower Townsmen's Squads.

Miss Callie A. Stroup, of the St. John's Sunday school, at Lehigh, has been appointed collector of said school, a paper money for the introduction of a gathering for children. Parents contribute something for the benefit of their children.

Reva Binkley and Freeman were visiting the people here, for the purpose of procuring subscribers to the Church Messenger, last week. They urged that all good Christians should be reading people and therefore subscribe for some church paper.

Rev. J. Freeman preached an eloquent sermon in St. John's church last Sunday, June 2, 1922. "The love of God constrains us." After services he announced an election to take place next Sunday, at Weipert, for the purpose of electing an elder, to be representative of the East Pennsylvania Class, which will convene May 20th, at Bath, Pa. He urged that all candidates which compose his charge, should be present.

The Lutheran congregation of this place, will celebrate the Lord's supper next Sunday, May 7th. All are invited to come to the altar of the Lord.

A large number of young ladies assembled at the house of Mrs. Thea Stroup, in Franklin, W.P., on Tuesday, May 2nd, for the purpose of celebrating the birthday of Miss Ellen, her daughter. They at their own home had a delightful party. A rich banquet was furnished for the guests of which all partook. She received quite a number of presents.

Confidence.

Rev. Laddeau, a Free Methodist preacher, who occasionally preached at the residence of C. B. Keenly, Upper Mauch Chunk, contemplates leaving for Portland, Oregon, in the near future.

We are glad to see Edward Miller, who has been confined to the house for several months with rheumatism, so far improved that he is able to be about with the aid of crutches.

Elmer Sessler has vacated the McGuire house, lately purchased by A. E. Sessler, West Broadway, and has moved in the house adjoining the Gazette office, cor. of Broadway and Quarry streets.

Miss Laura Yandt, an accomplished young lady of this place, who has been visiting friends at Slatington, has returned home.

Prof. J. F. Snyder has opened a select school with a very large attendance from Weipert and vicinity.

The members of the Lutheran and Reformed churches have dug a well in front of the church, thereby saving the trouble of carrying water from neighboring houses.
