

IS THE REPUBLICAN PARTY DOOMED?

It is unless it can lose from those who now seek to lead it by openly defying public opinion and cutting loose from all laws of common decency.

What is the Use of It?

There is very little stirring in the city except the rain that is falling, the bright green leaves on the trees and the noisy sparrows.

Two Parties and a Candidate.

The great Ecclesiastic of Brooklyn, lectured the other day on "Amusements," and took the high ground that although the preachers had always discouraged attendance at theatres and other places under Satan's rule, the circus was not a harmful thing.

Two Tights for the Senates.

A week from to-day, Professor Bibbero whose name is Johnson, will swim across the East River, along the side of the Brooklyn Bridge, with his feet shackled and his arms pinioned behind his back.

Chairman Cooper Monday issued the call for the reassembling of the Republican State Convention at Harrisburg on Wednesday, June 31, at 10 o'clock in the morning.

A well-informed Democrat says it was arranged at General Black's house on Saturday that Jerome Winstead Scott Hancock should be nominated for Governor of Pennsylvania by the Democratic Convention as a preliminary to his re-nomination for the Presidency.

Senator Cameron seems to have lost his head. If he thinks he can carry this great Commonwealth at the ensuing election in his interest by threatening to go against the tariff demands of its manufacturers if they do not support him, he is mistaken.

Philadelphia Times: Winfield Scott Hancock for Governor. What a scatterment of machine bosses and rusty Bourbons such a nomination would make!

received for him. There are comparatively few letters, his correspondence being altogether by postal card, and about nine out of ten have some soothing reference to the scaffold, hell, satan, &c. One received a day or two ago contained a pyramid formed of the names of Diabolus, Judas Iscariot, Benedict Arnold, Aaron Burr, Jeff. Davis, Wilkes Booth, surrounded by that of Gaitan, with the figure of a man hanging from a beam at the top, and two serpents crawling toward it, and further embellished by the words "Gathered to his fathers." Such communications are never delivered to Gaitan.

The Senate Finance Committee will probably report favorably the House bill to extend the bank charters. There will be some slight amendments made. It is claimed by some of the Committee that a clause of the bill providing that $10,000 worth of bonds may be deposited by a bank is ambiguous, and under it a bank might have $10,000 circulation and only $10,000 worth of bonds deposited.

FROM OUR SPECIAL CORRESPONDENT.

WASHINGTON, May 29, 1882.

THE BUSINESS OF CONGRESS.

The business of Congress, so far as any completion of legislation at this session is concerned, has been narrowed to very small dimensions. It is not expected that anything of importance can be done beyond the passage of the bill to reduce internal revenue taxation, the passage of the usual appropriation bills, and the settlement of one or two contested election cases.

Very little legislation has been accomplished, although a great deal has been begun. The practical work of the session when it shall have ended, will be found to comprehend very few measures of importance, exclusive of making those needed appropriations for the maintenance of the Government.

Patent Office matters are attracting some attention just now, in Congress and the general public are much interested in all that pertains to this important department. The Patent Office has always been self-sustaining and lately much more so as its accumulations over and above all expenses aggregate nearly two millions of dollars, now in the Treasury.

It is one of the most carefully conducted and business-like bureaus of the Government. No work is entered upon in that department until the cost is counted, and no needless expense is ever incurred. I have taken some pains to acquaint myself with the work and methods of the office at this time, because of the discussion over a small appropriation of $50,000 to carry on the work of abridging patents; and there is no doubt whatever that the Government will be the gainer, financially and otherwise, by its undertaking even if it involved double the estimated cost.

We find upon examination of the book and evidence submitted that the $100.00 charged against W. Schwartz, as having been received from Wm. Waterbury during the year of 1877 and 1878 is in part an error. W. Schwartz being charged with $100.00 of this amount in Auditors' Statement for the year ending 1878, should not have been charged with $100.00, therefore we credit him as above.

The Senate early in the present session was guilty of the very foolish and ridiculous performance of ordering the appointment of a committee on the woman suffrage question, and that committee has now paid back the Senate in its own coin by reporting a constitutional amendment prohibiting in the United States, or in any State or Territory thereof, the limitation of suffrage on account of sex.

When the proposed measure is passed by a two-thirds majority in each House, and is ratified by the Legislatures of three-fourths of all the States, this country will witness the transformation of all its women into "citizens," and the last feather will be added to the back of the national camel on which all our Republic looks toward a reduction of the poor class is sadly overladen already, and has been ever since negro suffrage was packed in among his other heavy burdens.
