

Advertising Rates.

We desire it to be distinctly understood that the advertising rates will be inserted in the columns of THE CARBON ADVOCATE...

CARDS, Attorneys.

W. M. NAPHER, ATTORNEY AND COUNSELLOR AT LAW, BANK STREET, LEHIGHTON, PA.

Real Estate and Collection Agency Will Handle Real Estate...

B. H. WARNER & CO., ATTORNEYS AT LAW, WARREN BUILDING, WASHINGTON, D. C.

Physicians and Dentists. W. A. DEBBAKER, M. D., PHYSICIAN AND SURGEON.

N. B. REBER, M. D., U. S. Examining Surgeon, PRACTICING PHYSICIAN AND SURGEON.

DR. WILL W. REBER, MAIN STREET, PARKVILLE, CARBON COUNTY, PA.

THOMAS KEMMERER, CONVEYANCER, AND GENERAL INSURANCE AGENT.

BERNARD PHILLIPS, GENTRY BUILDING, MAUCH CHUNK, PA.

CARBON HOUSE, J. W. RAUDENBUSH, PROPRIETOR, BANK ST., LEHIGHTON, PA.

JOHN F. HALBACH, Instructor of Music, LEHIGHTON, PA.

DAVID EBERT'S, LIVERY & SALE STABLES, BANK STREET, LEHIGHTON, PA.

FAST TROTTING HORSES, ELEGANT CARRIAGES, AND POSITIVELY LOWER PRICES THAN ANY OTHER LIVERY IN THE COUNTY.

MILTON A. WEISS, CARRIAGE BUILDER, Bank Street, Lehighon.

REPAIRING, Of all description promptly attended to at most reasonable prices.

The Carbon Advocate.

H. V. MORTIMER, Proprietor.

INDEPENDENT—“Live and Let Live.”

$1.00 a Year if Paid in Advance.

VOL. X, No 35.

LEHIGHTON, CARBON COUNTY, PA., SATURDAY, JULY 22, 1882.

If not paid in advance, $1.25

Railroad Guide.

PHILA. & READING RAILROAD. Arrangement of Passenger Trains. MAY 20, 1882. Trains leave ALLENTOWN as follows:

THE SLATINGTON PLANING MILL

Cabinet Ware Factory, AT SLATINGTON. JOHN BALLIET, Prop., Dress'd Lumber OF ALL KINDS.

Brackets Made to Order.

The Machinery is all new and of the best and most improved kind. I employ none but the best workmen, use well seasoned and good material, and am therefore able to guarantee satisfaction to all who may favor me with a call.

With Medicine Quality not Quantity is the greatest importance; next is the Knowledge and Experience to Correctly Prepare and Dispense the same

At A. J. DURLING'S Drug & Family Medicine Store, Bank Street Lehighon.

WHENCE COMES THE UNBOUNDED POPULARITY OF ALCOCK'S POROUS PLASTERS?

Because they have proved themselves the Best External Remedy ever invented. They will cure asthma, colds, coughs, rheumatism, neuralgia, and any local pains.

LOST, A BOY.

He went from the old home hearthstone only two years ago. A laughing, rollicking fellow, it would do you good to know; since then we have not seen him.

JOHN HARPER'S FORTUNE.

By WILLIS H. COOPER. "Past seven o'clock, and John not here!" said Mrs. Harper, wrinkling her pretty brow.

SCIENTIFIC MISCELLANY.

A physician reports much to be the only efficacious remedy for whooping cough he has ever tried. An English astronomer, Mr. Joseph Simons, has made a balloon trip of 170 miles in an hour and three-quarters.

The Carbon Advocate.

An Independent Family Newspaper Published every SATURDAY, in Lehighon, Carbon Co., Pa., by HARRIS V. BLOOMER PROPRIETOR.

TERMS: $1.00 per Annum in Advance.

EVERY DESCRIPTION OF PRINT AND PAPER AT VERY LOW PRICES.

Job Printing

Why is a carriage going down a steep hill like St. George? Because it is drawn with drag on (drag). "Don't you love birds, Mr. Prosser, and all their sweet little ways?" "I do, Miss Goshington, dearly—on toast."

JOHN R. G. WEYSSER, PROPRIETOR OF THE West End Brewery, MAUCH CHUNK, PA.

Pure Porter and Lager Beer Delivered all over the State.

M. HAGAMAN

Has Removed from Weisport and taken up quarters in the "Old Frazier Store," Bank Street, Lehighon.

Bank Street, Lehighon, Dress and Dry Goods, Groceries, Provisions, &c., &c.

AT THE LOWEST CASH PRICES Also, always in stock one of the finest and best selections of Clocks, Watches and Jewelry to be found in this section of the country, at Prices fully as low as elsewhere.

Repairing

done in the best manner, at very moderate charges. Patronage invited.

Central Carriage Works,

Prepared to Manufacture Carriages, Buggies, Sleighs, Spring Wagon, &c., of every description, in the most substantial manner, and at Lowest Cash Prices.

Repairing Promptly Attended to.

TREXLER & KREIDLER, Proprietors.

PATENT MAGNUM BONUM Clothes Washer.

The undersigned respectfully announces to their friends and the public generally, that they have secured the right to manufacture and sell this excellent Washing Machine in Carbon and Luzerne counties.

Yenser & Bartholomew, Lehighon, Pa.

NERVOUS DEBILITY: A CURE GUARANTEED.

Dr. E. C. WEAVER'S NERVE AND BRAIN TREATMENT is a specific for Hysteria, Debility, Convulsions, Nervous Headache, Mental Irritability, Loss of Memory, Dropsy of the Urinary Organs, Insanity, Epilepsy, Promoters of Organic Diseases, which leads to insanity, decay and death. This medicine cures all these ailments, and restores the system to its normal state.

Yenser & Bartholomew, Lehighon, Pa.

DANIEL WIEAND, MANUFACTURER OF Carriages, Wagons, Sleighs, &c.

CORNER OF BANK AND IRON STREETS, LEHIGHTON, PENNA.

Particular attention given to REPAIRING to all the details, at the very lowest prices. Patronage respectfully solicited and perfect satisfaction guaranteed.

DAN. WIEAND.

CATARRH ELY'S Cream Balm

See the nasal passages of Catarrh, of the eye, ear, throat, and other parts of the body, causing healthy secretion, relieving inflammation, promoting the membrane, and restoring the system to its normal state.

ELY'S CREAM BALM, 231 N. 2ND ST., CINCINNATI, O.

HAY-FEVER

A thorough treatment will cure Catarrh Hay Fever, Ac. The equal for colds in the head. Agreeable to use. Apply the little finger into the nostrils. The receipt of one will mail a booklet.

For Sale by all drug stores in Lehighon, N. Y.

IF YOU ARE IN NEED OF CLOTHING

Boots, Shoes, Hats, Caps, or Gents' Furnishing Goods

GO TO CLAUSS & BROTHER

THE POPULAR Merchant Tailors.

Bank Street, Lehighon.

PRICES VERY LOW FOR CASH. The public patronage solicited.

1881. HOLIDAYS. 1881.

Mrs. C. DITSCHIRSCHSKY

Respectfully announces to her friends and the public generally, that she is now receiving and opening up their beautiful, larger stock than ever of the very latest novelties in

Toys & Fancy Goods,

NOTIONS,

comprising Underwear, Hosiery and German Woollen Goods, Imported and Imported Ribbons, Gloves, and a Fine Assortment of New Designs

Also, in connection with the above, a full and complete stock of GERMAN FRUITS, LIMBURGER CHEESE, Candies & Confections, together with a variety of Goods not generally kept in any other store in town. If you do not see what you want, ask for it.

A share of public patronage solicited, and perfect satisfaction guaranteed in price and quality of goods.

Second St., 2 doors above Iron, LEHIGHTON, PA.

The CARBON ADVOCATE one year for $1, and Kendall's Horse Book as a premium.

WHEN COMES THE UNBOUNDED POPULARITY OF ALCOCK'S POROUS PLASTERS?

Because they have proved themselves the Best External Remedy ever invented. They will cure asthma, colds, coughs, rheumatism, neuralgia, and any local pains.

Applied to the small of the back they are infallible in Back-Ache, Nervous Debility, and all Kidney troubles; and to the pit of the stomach they are a sure cure for Dyspepsia and Liver Complaints.

ALCOCK'S POROUS PLASTERS are painless, fragrant, and quick to cure. Beware of imitations that blister and burn. Get ALCOCK'S, the only Genuine Porous Plaster.

Feb. 18-13 e. o. w.

VALENTINE SCHWARTZ, Bank St., Lehighon, Pa.

Respectfully announces to the people of Lehighon and vicinity, that he is now prepared to supply them with all kinds of Household Furniture

Manufactured from the best Seasoned Materials at Prices fully as low as the same article, could be bought for elsewhere. Here are a few of the inducements offered:

Parlor Sets at from $50 to $500

Bedroom Suits, 3 pieces, $20 to $25

Painted and Stained Iron Beds, $15 to $20

Common Hair, per cent of 6

And all other Goods equally cheap.

In this connection, I desire to call the attention of the people to my ample facilities in

For every fine woman is an ambition in her house as Napoleon Bonaparte himself. And all of a sudden a masculine footstep rang on the threshold, and John Harper burst into the room, flushed and eager and panting with the unwonted haste he had made.

"John, what has happened?"

"What do you guess, pet?"

"Your salary has been raised?"

"Better than that."

"My story has been accepted by the 'Weekly Star'?"

"Better than that."

"I give it up," said Nellie. "Oh, John, tell me at once—what is it?"

"Oscar Wilde is dead, and he has left me all his money!"

"Oscar Wilde?" repeated Nell, bewildered.

"That eccentric old fellow who lives in P—"

"Oscar Wilde is dead, and he has left me all his money!"

"My third cousin. He disinherited his daughter because she didn't marry to suit him; made at least half a dozen wills, and buried them all at last, leaving a codicil that makes the fortune mine. Hurrah! We're rich people at last, pet! Eighty thousand dollars, at least! Three cheers! And give 'em a will!"

"Oh, John, take care! You've walked baby!" cried Nellie, fling it; the side of the crib.

"Doubt baby! Let him say a little; it is good for his lungs. We can have a patent perambulator, and a nursery fitted up with all the modern conveniences, eh? That's something worth lawling for, isn't it little chubby cheeks?"

"Oh, John! And then we can have Uncle and Aunt Mary to live with us!" said Nellie, trotting the baby on her knee.

"Uncle and Aunt Mary! What should they live with us for?" retorted Mr. Harper, somewhat contemptuously.

"But John, they are so poor!"

"There are a great many poor people in the world, Nell."

"And Cousin Will's education," hazarded Nellie.

"Well, I'd like to know what business it is of ours to help Will Brown through college," said Mr. Harper.

"Nobody helped me through college, I know. If we're going to divide our money with all creation, there soon will be an end of our riches," said he, rather shortly.

Nellie looked timidly at him. Her penitence, light-hearted husband of two years ago, who would have lent his sole remaining dollar to a friend and shared his last crust with a beggar!

"We'll have a house on Fifth Avenue, pet," he continued, excitedly; "and—"

"Oh, John, I would much rather live in the country," pleaded Nellie.

"I wouldn't then. The city for me!"

"Yes, but John—"

"Mrs. Harper, you will please to remember that the money is mine, not yours!" said her husband, imperiously.

Nellie recoiled as if some noxious insect had stung her, and bit her lip, while her eyes filled with tears.

"Good thing for me that Mary Potter threw herself away on that drunken fellow," observed John, as he sat down to the table and began nervously crumpling up a slice of bread. "It's an ill wind that blows nobody any good."

"But, John, you will surely make the poor girl an allowance?"

"Make her an allowance? I shall do nothing of the kind. Why should I?"

"Because the money should rightfully be hers; because she's deprived of it by a mere caprice of her father; because we are neither more nor less than thieves if we take it from her!" cried Nellie, earnestly.

"Nell, you're a fool!" said John, impatiently. "Do look at things from a business point of view! The money is ours."

"But it will be no blessing to us if it is wrongfully come by."

"I am the best judge of that, Mrs. Harper," said the husband, stiffly.

Nellie burst into tears.

"John, you never spoke to me so before."

"And you never made such a fool of yourself before!"

"I wish the money was at the bottom of the sea," sobbed Nellie.

"That's a woman's logic!" sneered her husband. "It's not what's lost; it's what's gained that counts!"

"From David & Brown, Cousin Sam's lawyer," said Mr. Harper, wide-awake fellow. "I think I shall continue to employ them. Eh? how—why, what's that? The deuce?"

The letter fell from his hands; he looked blankly at his wife.

"Oh, John, what is it?" cried Nellie.

"They've found a new will," said he, "dated ten days later than the other document, and every cent is left to Patty."

"I am glad of it!" exclaimed Nellie, heartily.

John Harper arose and walked once or twice across the floor; then he came back, and stooping over, he kissed his wife's forehead.

"I'm glad of it too," said he. "Do you know, pet, I think I shouldn't make a good millionaire? I was getting grasping and greedy. I felt as if all the world was in league to cheat me. I am rich enough with you and baby, and I can carve out a fortune for myself! And neither John Harper nor his wife grudge poor Patty her stroke of good fortune."

"Oscar Wilde style."

A day or two ago a man wearing a look of doubt, and having the air of one carrying a great mental burden, made up to a citizen who was seated under one of the City Hall porticoes, and softly began:

"I'm green. I live over here about ten miles, and I never read or hear anything until its a year old. I want to ask you a question."

"What is it, sir?"

"What is the Oscar Wilde style?"

"Well, there is chap named Oscar Wilde. He's a cross between a fool and a lunatic. He dresses like a child, and has some beauty in an old brick yard than the rest of us can find in a botanical garden. Anything outrageous, ridiculous or absurd is called after him."

"Is that it? Well that settles me!"

"What is your trouble?"

"Well, you see, I have a wife and two daughters. About six months ago I caught one of the girls kissing a carpenter, and she said it was Oscar Wilde style. Then I ran on to the other with her hand on the head man's shoulder, and she said the same thing. I didn't know, you know, and I had to let it pass. I didn't want my girls to be behind the age, you see, and so I didn't kick. Then I caught the old woman feeding caramels to the house painter, and that was Oscar Wilde style once more. It's been going on all over the farm ever since—moonlight walks, kissing under the apple trees, hugging on the veranda and calling each other darling over the door-yard. And now it's Oscar Wilde style after all!"

"Hardly."

"That settles me some more! I'm going home! I'm going at the rate of six miles an hour and home in on 'em in the midst of their hilarity, and if I don't smudge and pulverize the whole caboodle I'll come back to be kicked! Oscar Wilde! Why'll 'em 'em and bung 'em and mop 'em to finders! Oscar Wilde! Why, I'll—"

And he went away on a trot with a gleam in his eye and his fist a little up.

—Subscribers for the ADVOCATE.

WHEN COMES THE UNBOUNDED POPULARITY OF ALCOCK'S POROUS PLASTERS?

Because they have proved themselves the Best External Remedy ever invented. They will cure asthma, colds, coughs, rheumatism, neuralgia, and any local pains.

Applied to the small of the back they are infallible in Back-Ache, Nervous Debility, and all Kidney troubles; and to the pit of the stomach they are a sure cure for Dyspepsia and Liver Complaints.

ALCOCK'S POROUS PLASTERS are painless, fragrant, and quick to cure. Beware of imitations that blister and burn. Get ALCOCK'S, the only Genuine Porous Plaster.

Feb. 18-13 e. o. w.

VALENTINE SCHWARTZ, Bank St., Lehighon, Pa.

Respectfully announces to the people of Lehighon and vicinity, that he is now prepared to supply them with all kinds of Household Furniture

Manufactured from the best Seasoned Materials at Prices fully as low as the same article, could be bought for elsewhere. Here are a few of the inducements offered:

Parlor Sets at from $50 to $500

Bedroom Suits, 3 pieces, $20 to $25

Painted and Stained Iron Beds, $15 to $20

Common Hair, per cent of 6

And all other Goods equally cheap.

In this connection, I desire to call the attention of the people to my ample facilities in

For every fine woman is an ambition in her house as Napoleon Bonaparte himself. And all of a sudden a masculine footstep rang on the threshold, and John Harper burst into the room, flushed and eager and panting with the unwonted haste he had made.

"John, what has happened?"

"What do you guess, pet?"

"Your salary has been raised?"

"Better than that."

"My story has been accepted by the 'Weekly Star'?"

"Better than that."

"I give it up," said Nellie. "Oh, John, tell me at once—what is it?"

"Oscar Wilde is dead, and he has left me all his money!"

"Oscar Wilde?" repeated Nell, bewildered.

"That eccentric old fellow who lives in P—"

"Oscar Wilde is dead, and he has left me all his money!"

"My third cousin. He disinherited his daughter because she didn't marry to suit him; made at least half a dozen wills, and buried them all at last, leaving a codicil that makes the fortune mine. Hurrah! We're rich people at last, pet! Eighty thousand dollars, at least! Three cheers! And give 'em a will!"

"Oh, John, take care! You've walked baby!" cried Nellie, fling it; the side of the crib.

"Doubt baby! Let him say a little; it is good for his lungs. We can have a patent perambulator, and a nursery fitted up with all the modern conveniences, eh? That's something worth lawling for, isn't it little chubby cheeks?"

"Oh, John! And then we can have Uncle and Aunt Mary to live with us!" said Nellie, trotting the baby on her knee.

"Uncle and Aunt Mary! What should they live with us for?" retorted Mr. Harper, somewhat contemptuously.

"But John, they are so poor!"

"There are a great many poor people in the world, Nell."

"And Cousin Will's education," hazarded Nellie.

"Well, I'd like to know what business it is of ours to help Will Brown through college," said Mr. Harper.

"Nobody helped me through college, I know. If we're going to divide our money with all creation, there soon will be an end of our riches," said he, rather shortly.

Nellie looked timidly at him. Her penitence, light-hearted husband of two years ago, who would have lent his sole remaining dollar to a friend and shared his last crust with a beggar!

"We'll have a house on Fifth Avenue, pet," he continued, excitedly; "and—"

"Oh, John, I would much rather live in the country," pleaded Nellie.

"I wouldn't then. The city for me!"

"Yes, but John—"

"Mrs. Harper, you will please to remember that the money is mine, not yours!" said her husband, imperiously.

Nellie recoiled as if some noxious insect had stung her, and bit her lip, while her eyes filled with tears.

"Good thing for me that Mary Potter threw herself away on that drunken fellow," observed John, as he sat down to the table and began nervously crumpling up a slice of bread. "It's an ill wind that blows nobody any good."

"But, John, you will surely make the poor girl an allowance?"

WHEN COMES THE UNBOUNDED POPULARITY OF ALCOCK'S POROUS PLASTERS?

Because they have proved themselves the Best External Remedy ever invented. They will cure asthma, colds, coughs, rheumatism, neuralgia, and any local pains.

Applied to the small of the back they are infallible in Back-Ache, Nervous Debility, and all Kidney troubles; and to the pit of the stomach they are a sure cure for Dyspepsia and Liver Complaints.

ALCOCK'S POROUS PLASTERS are painless, fragrant, and quick to cure. Beware of imitations that blister and burn. Get ALCOCK'S, the only Genuine Porous Plaster.

Feb. 18-13 e. o. w.

VALENTINE SCHWARTZ, Bank St., Lehighon, Pa.

Respectfully announces to the people of Lehighon and vicinity, that he is now prepared to supply them with all kinds of Household Furniture