FARMERS' COLUMN.

A Review of the Year.

As the more active portion of the year draws to a close, it is well for the farmer to look back over the busy months just past and draw some lessons from the season. (Under white scaled envelope) to all Inall the more the duty when there is little or no picasure in such a retrospect. It may be that some of the crops have failed, and it should be the work of the more quiet months of late fall and winter to find out the causes of these failures, and take all possible measures to prevent their recurrence. As an example it may be that the field of wheat yielded only half a crop, and was therefore without profit. This may have been the ef-Scenre and Profitable Investments. fect of one or more causes.
