FARMERS' COLUMN.

Good Water for the Stock.

Pure water and an abundance of it is one of the essentials of every good farm. During the summer months when the farm stock is in the pastures with green fodder, the water supply does not seem to be of great importance. A good stream may be all that is necessary, even if it is situated a half mile from the buildings, but in winter a supply close at hand is of great value.

Woods Along the Road Sides.

Some farmers appear to forget that their land extends to the middle of the roadway, and that they have rights and duties in connection with the road sides. At this season it is common to find by the way side the largest weeds in the neighborhood. They have had it all their own way and such neglect of the road side is a great mistake, as it not only gives a neglected appearance to the street, but is a means of propagating weeds that do much damage to the crops in the adjacent fields.

Preparing Plants for Winter.

It is a great mistake to delay the work of preparation for winter until it is suggested by cool nights or a warning given by blighting frosts. When a plant has been taken from a pot and planted in open ground it usually out grows its former place and is too large for any vessel of convenient size. The root should be cut away to a considerable extent and likewise the top, or foliage, must be correspondingly reduced.

Household Recipes.

—Cakes for Lunch.—Two quarts of flour, two cups of butter, three cups of sugar, the yolks of six eggs, and one dessert spoonful of salt dissolved in a tablespoonful of milk.

—Chicken Potage.—Put a young chicken on the table, cut off the white meat and pound it in a mortar with a little of the liquor in which it was boiled until it is a paste. Season it with pepper and nutmeg; return it to the saucepan, add more of the liquor, and let it boil for about two or three minutes.

—Keep a cup of powdered borax on your washstand; it will do wonders in the way of softening the skin. If you have been working in the garden, or using things about the house which have tended to make your hands rough, when you wash them dip your fingers in the borax and rub your hands well with it.

—Pyramidal Pound Cake.—One pound of white pulverized sugar, one pound of butter, one of flour, and ten eggs, bake in a dripping pan one inch in thickness, cut when cold into pieces three and a half inches long by two wide, and four tops and sides, form on the cake stand in pyramidal form by the using a quill; by laying first in a circle, five pieces with some space between them, over the spaces between these lay five other pieces, gradually drawing in the column and crowning the top with a bouquet of flowers.

—Wash for the Mouth.—Dissolve a spoonful of black currant juice in half a cup of hot water, and add two lumps of sugar. Keep in the mouth as long as possible, but do not swallow it. It will give certain relief when the tongue is dry and the mouth foul.

—Excellent Receipt for Doughnuts.—One pint of clabber milk, one tablespoonful of soda, one coffee cup of sugar, and spices to taste—adding a little salt, make the dough only stiff enough to roll and drop into hot lard and fry to a light brown. This is an excellent recipe for doughnuts.

—What is the use of keeping a cow that it does not milk? None! Yet many dairymen do it. This is one of the losses of the farm that can easily be avoided.

Nothing builds up that good constitution so quickly as Bowditch's Iron Bitters.
