FARMERS' COLUMN.
PURE-BRED STOCK.
As a rule pure-bred stock is not the most profitable for farmers to keep. Many who have tried to breed a herd of pure blood animals have failed. The cost to begin with is large. The writer recently visited a herd of Jersey cattle, some of the cows in which had cost twenty hundreds of dollars.

CHICAGO, ROCK ISLAND & PACIFIC RY.
Periods of mild weather occasionally occur during the winter, and where the fall plowing has been omitted, it may profitably be done later. The agency of frost in making the soil dry and increasing its fertility is not sufficiently appreciated.

THE FAIR SEX.
—Woman is the masterpiece.—Confucius.
—Woman is the crown of creation.—Herder.
—He that takes a wife takes care.—Franklin.
—Woman teach us repose, civility and dignity.—Voltaire.
—All that I am my mother made me.—John Quincy Adams.
—I wish that Adam had died with all his ribs in his body.—Boucault.
—No man can either live piously or die righteous without a wife.—Richter.
—Women detest the serpent through a professional jealousy.—Victor Hugo.
—All the reasonings of men are not worth one sentiment of woman.—Voltaire.
—The sweetest thing in life is the unclouded welcome of a wife.—N. P. Willis.
—But one thing on earth is better than the wife—that is the mother.—Leopold Schefer.
—Women are a new race, recreated since the world received Christianity.—H. W. Beecher.
—For where is any author in the world catches such beauty as women's eyes.—Shakespeare.

—Woman is born for love, and it is impossible to turn her from it.—Margaret Fuller Ossli.
—Woman is the Sunday of man; not his repose only, but his joy, the salt of his life.—Michelet.
—As a sex women are habitually indolent and everything tends to make them so.—Mary Wolstonecraft.
—A woman, the more curious she is about her face, is commonly the more careless about her house.—Ben Jonson.
—It is easier for a woman to defend her virtue against men than her reputation against women.—Rochebrunne.

The reason why so few marriages are happy is because young ladies spend their time in making nets, not in making cages.—Swift.
What women would do if they could not cry no only know! What poor defenseless creatures they would be.—Douglass Jerrold.
There are three things a wise man will not trust—the wind, the sunshine of an April day, and a woman's plighted faith.—Southey.

The love of flattery in men proceeds from the mean opinion they have of themselves; in women from the contrary.—Swift.
It goes far towards reconciling me to being a woman when I reflect that I am thus in no danger of marrying one.—Lady Montague.
A woman who writes commits two sins. She increases the number of books; and decreases the number of women.—Alphonso Kerr.

ITEMS OF FASHION.
Flax gray wool dresses, worn with pale pink trimmings, is the latest fancy introduced by Sarah Bernhard.
The latest fancy for neck lingerie is to unite several colors in the ribbon bows that mingle with the laces at the throat.
The fancy work of the moment is the crocheting of fiddle-colored twine of unbleached cotton into collars and cuffs for dresses.
Every lady should have a plush jacket in black, seal brown or some other color which will harmonize with any kind of a skirt.
Ornaments long ago laid aside are being rapidly brought to light to supply the demand from all sides for passementerie and cord trimming.
The bouffant tounure draperies now worn give all women very unsymmetrical and even ludicrous figures.
Tucked sleeves, fitted very closely to the arms, are seen upon a number of imported dresses of artistic, aesthetic make.
