THE N. Y. SUN.

NEW YORK, 1883.

More people have read THE SUS during the year just now passing than ever before since it was first printed. No other newspaper published on this side of the earth has been bought and read in any year by se many men and women.

We are creditably informed that people buy, read, and like THE SUS for the following reasus, among others: We are creditably informed that people buy, read, and like The Suy for the fellewing reasons, among others:
Heenuse its news columns present in attractive form and with the greatest possible recuracy whatever has interest for human-kind; the events, the deeds, and missleeds, the wisdom, the philosophy, the notable folly, the solid sense, the improving nensense—all the news of the busicat world at present revolving in space.

Hecause people have learned that in its remarks concerning persons and affairs The Sux makes a practice of telling them the exact truth to the best of ability three hundred and sixty-five days in the year, before election as well as after, about the whales as well as the small fish, in the lace of dissent as plainly and fearlessly as when supported by general approval. The Sux has absolutely no purposes to serve, save the information of its readers and the furtherance of the common good.

Heenne it is everybody's newspaper. No man is so humble that Thirk Sun is indifferent to his welfare and his rights. No man, no association of men, is powerful enough to be exempt from the strict application of its principles of right and wrong.

Hee use in politics it has fought for a dozen years, without intermission and sometimes almost alone an one newspapers, the fight that has resulted in the recent were whelming popular verdiet against Kobesonism and for innest government. No matter what party is in power, The Sun stands and will continue to stand like a rock for the interests of the people against the ambition of bosses, the encronchments of monopolists, and the dishonest schemes of public robbers.

All this is what we are told almost daily by our friends. One man holds that The Sun is the best religious newspaper ever published, because its Christinnity is undilated with cant. A nother holds that it is the best Republican newspaper principle because it has already whippes half of the rascals out of that party, and the proceedings against the other half with undenduished vigor. A third believes it to be the best magasine of general literature in existence, because its readers mit a nothing worthy of autice that is current in the work of thought. So every friend of The Sun discovers one of its many sides that appeals with particular torce to his individual liking.

If you already knew Tirk Syn, you will observe that in 1883 it is a little better than ever before. If you do not already knew Tirk Sun, you will not it to be a mirror of all hemman activity, a storehouse of the choicest products of someone sense and imagination, a mainstay for the cause of honest government, a sontine! for gennine Jeffersonian Democracy, a scource for wickedness of every exects, an and unconstantly good investment for the roming year.
