Poultry Suggestions.

It is well, in cleaning out the poultry houses, not only to take the droppings from under the roosts, but to rake up whatever the fork, and scatter over it chaff and hay seed. The pleasure the towls will take in broken. Never scald chickens in dress ng, for, unless great care is taken, the thin staide skin will be rubbed off, which inares their appearance very much, and re uces the value of the fowls.

In selecting seeds for spring planting, de ot neglect to get seed of the mang I beet. for these beets make the very best green food for fowls in the winter. If the water in the dishes is thrown out each night, trouble and time will be saved in the morning. Give warm water to fowls if possible -II. C. B., in Agriculturist.

Work in the Orchard.

Nursery Trees should have been ordered surlier. If yet to be done, do it at once when tresarrive, unpack them, and if not r .dy o plant at once, heel them in. The peration of heeling in is a temporary danting, where the roots are covered with soil and kept from injury. Open a treuch in a dry since, and lay in the trees at an angle of 45°, and cover the roots and about half of the stems with fine soil, taking es a to leave no open spaces. When this is well lone, the trees may remain for some weeks Take care that all of a sort are out together and that there can be no mixing of varieties r confusion as to labels, when the trees are aken out to be planted.

Planting the Trees should not be hurried The treatment to be given before planting discribed on page 126. Before the tree s planted, remove the label placed upon it at the nursery. If labels are to be used, tiply the one determined upon; but it ibetter to recognize the varieties by their position, according to a record of the planting Ma e the hase wide enough to allow all o the roots to be extended. Do not set the tree any deeper than it stood before. If my of the fibrous roots are matted, separate an prend them spart. Use the fine ton and for filling in around and over the roots. when the hole is partly filled, water may applied with a watering pot, to settle the earth in among the roots. When the outs are well covered, the soil may be ressed gently with the foot, to make it firm After the hole is filled, make a conicat mound of earth around the stem, this may be a toot or 18 inches high, and well supout the tree against the winds better than stakes.
