

H. V. KORTHEIMER, EDITOR. LEHIGHTON, PA. SATURDAY, MAY 12, 1883.

GOVERNOR CLEVELAND has signed the Campbell-Pend Code amendments, which practically repeal laws known as the Sunday "Blue Laws," which have been so objectionable to a large class of citizens of New York and Brooklyn.

The retirement of Mr. W. H. Vanderbilt from the Presidency of the Vanderbilt railroad companies is more a matter of form than of fact. His interest remains unchanged, and the Vanderbilt family still hold the control as firmly as ever.

Hon. R. N. McClellan, member of the Legislature, in an interview Saturday, stated that he had had a half-hour's chat with Hon. C. S. Wolfe, of Union, before leaving Harrisburg, during which Wolfe said that he had renounced allegiance to the Independents and would hereafter be found pulling in the traces with the Bluewing of the party.

CHAIRMAN COOPER a few days ago issued a call for the State Convention, saying: "The Republican State Convention will be held in the hall of the House of Representatives on the second Wednesday (11th) of July, 1883, at 12 o'clock noon, for the purpose of nominating candidates for Auditor General and State Treasurer and the transaction of other business."

It has often been said that spring is the time to see Washington, and this is certainly true. The city is blooming forth like a flower garden now and never looked more beautiful.

Work on the Washington Monument will be resumed on Monday. There is a sufficient supply of stone, marble and granite now on the ground, cut and ready to be laid, to raise the structure thirty feet.

It may not be generally known that there is quite a boom again for frogs legs. The cook at a club tells me that he has an enormous demand for them and a leading fish dealer says that the supply does not nearly come up to the demand.

Speaking of frogs legs reminds me that the annual dinner of the Ichthyophagous Club will shortly be held. This club is composed of worthy gastronomical pioneers who mean to show the rest of mankind that almost everything in the finny world is edible.

under any pretense whatever, he may be safely set down as a fraud and swindler, and among the worst of his class.

It appears that only eighty copies of the record of the Guitan trial were preserved by the Government for distribution. This number did not begin to supply the demand which came from all parts of the world.

Europe, it is said, has applied for copies only to be informed that none have been provided for general distribution. Public libraries, law libraries, and other institutions, as well as individuals, have asked for them on account of the great number of opinions of experts on the question of insanity which the report contained.

The few copies preserved were carefully distributed by the Attorney General to law libraries and judges in this country.

It has been reported that the friends of the late Mr. Collins, of the Jeannette expedition, are far from being satisfied with the report of the Jeannette court of inquiry, and it is intimated that the matter will be brought to the attention of Congress at the next session.

It is thought by some that the relations of Collins are desirous of receiving a pension, as it was given out to the men by the commander of the Jeannette, that Mr. Bennett would take care of their widows and orphans if they should never return.

Secretary Chandler upon being questioned about the matter yesterday replied that he had not completed the report from Collins people, that he had taken every precaution to have the investigation as thorough as possible, so that there should be no complaint.

Dr. Richard Joseph (formerly of Marblehead, Mass.), disbursing officer of the Department of the Interior, died of heart disease this morning at his residence in this city, aged fifty-one years.

Our New York Letter.

Regular correspondence of ADVOCATE. NEW YORK, May 8th, 1883.

Warm weather seems at last to have settled down upon us, although the heat is as yet not noticeably principally during the three hours immediately following noon.

The mornings and evenings are decidedly cool, and overcast in consequence remain anything but dreary in the clothing market. This cool weather is having its effect on the business of these Bonitances who seek to provide comfort in the shape of out-of-door drinking resorts.

A great many of these places are ready for the reception of guests, but while a stove still radiates warmth there is no satisfaction in shivering in the open air. The list of out-of-door resorts will be materially improved by the addition of a novel summer garden at the Casino Theatre.

It is to be established on the roof of the famous Mooreque Building, and it is to be gotten up and furnished in the Moorish style throughout. The floor is to be laid in cork so as to deaden foot-pads. Six hundred miniature Moorish lamps will light up the place; fountains will sparkle and tropical plants will exude their fragrance.

The roof has been arranged that its centre may be almost entirely removed. Around this open space a railing will be built, and then one may look down in the auditorium below and admire the beautiful Moorish designs, the fantastic lamps set off by the silk hangings and drink in the strains which a choice orchestra will send forth. This place will be a decided and charming novelty, and if the management is strict enough to keep out the demimonde patronage it will become quite a resort for nice people who will have to stay in town during the summer, as well as for out-of-town visitors. It is to be opened about June 1st.

It may not be generally known that there is quite a boom again for frogs legs. The cook at a club tells me that he has an enormous demand for them and a leading fish dealer says that the supply does not nearly come up to the demand.

Speaking of frogs legs reminds me that the annual dinner of the Ichthyophagous Club will shortly be held. This club is composed of worthy gastronomical pioneers who mean to show the rest of mankind that almost everything in the finny world is edible.
