FALLING PIG IRON.

Three months ago pig iron was selling for $24 a ton. Since then there has been a break in the price. Some manufacturers are now selling at $22, and some are cutting down as low as $21 a ton It is thought that it will go still lower. The trouble is said to be owing to many small manufacturers' necessities compelling them to sell for what they can get. In 1873 plg iron sold for $30 a ton. The small manufacturers began to cut down, and prices finally went as low as $16 50 a ton. The consequence was that the majority of the little concerns were wiped out. It is thought that a similar rasult will come from the present break In an interview with a N. Y. Sun representative, Mr. B. G. Clarke, President of the Thomas Iron Company, said recently that a further reduction would be made. "The production of pig tron is too great," he said, "and there is not a the Kentucky Democratic Convention seem from present appearances that many of the weak manufacturers will read the rublished statements of Senators have to shut down. There must be an end to the break in prices. It may not be natit a figure is reached at which only and none make a profit. If such is the case, the sooner that figure is reselved the better, for not until then will confidence be restored, and it will not be un til confidence is restored that an increase in the consumption can be expected."

Mr. Clarke said that steel was selling for $38 a ton, a price at which there was no profit. He did not think there would be any reduction, as the orders for steel rails were very beavy. He said that three months ago he did not expect that could be kept running hatf the time. that they will not be able to take any more for six months to come.

That electricity is bound to supercede ateam as a motive power, and in a short time too is beyond a doubt. A company has just been formed for the purpose of working electrical railways. WASHINGTON, D. C., May 14, 1853. Several important questions connected with railroad land grau's are now pending before the Secretary of the Interior. the company's steel mills at Scranton and action of some kind in reference to pockets, for the sharps manage to get all the same will doubtless be taken before They have now so many orders ahead long. One of these questions relates to years this colony has been under the the re-instatement of the former practuumb of Tom Lee, a former Deputy advertence or under an erroneous construction of a statute, has been found to be null and void, and to make no conveyance of title to the land.

In the case of Newhall vs. Sanger, stance that tribunal austained the second patents and held the Government title being conveyed by them as It did in the case of Newball ys. Sanger. Prior to the decision in that case the California railroad companies bad obtained patents in the department for ago. And the saying remains as true as it was when it was first uttered. From many thousand scres of land of precisely a society point of view, the month of the same status as the contest between May is of all the mouths of the year the Newhall and Sanger and the legal principles involed were of course precisely the same in respect to every such tract. The only question to be determined in each case was whether at the date of the railroad grant the tract was in a state of reservation within the limits of a Mexican grant claim, the same as the tract in controversy between Newhall and Sanger. and that was a question to be determined by the officers in charge of the public lands, and not primarily by the judicial tribunals. Handreds of settlers have been for cars occupying the lands in California for which such void patents were issued to the railroad companies. Had the practice of issuing second patents, which had prevailed in the department for more than a generation prior to July 12, 1876, been continued after that date these as t tlers would long since have obtained title to their land. But within the period of about two months after the case of Newhall vs. Sanger had been decided by the Supreme Court, showing that the California railroad companies were holding many thousand acres of land under il legal patents improperly issued, the department changed the practice of issuing cond patents for the same lands until the elder patents in each particular case had first been declared void in the judicial tribunals.

No honest claimant, desirons only o protecting a just claim, had ever con: plained of the former practice of the de partment, nor had the Supreme Court of the United States ever found fault with D M PEDRO.

Regular correspondence of ADVOCATE. NEW YORK, May 15th, 1883 It looks very much as if, thanks to the forts of the Young Men's Catholic Asseciation, the damning vice of opion moking, and the infamous trade of the conviction of the Mongolian flends if the ociety and the two clergymen at the read of it had quietly gathered all the vidence they could, went before the and then given the results of their discoveries to the press. The pressure of public opinion would then have secured not al ne their indictment but their speedy punishment. As it is, evidence n the legal sense will be somewhat diffi cult to procure now, as every Chinama is thoroughly scared and keeps as shady s possible. You must understand, the this agitation is not so much against the vice of opinm smoking per se, as because the almond-eyed Asiatics make it the vehicle of debauching young girls, and uining them, mentally, morally and physically to such an extent that they ecome practically beyond redemption. Let me explain this Chinese question of ours. The facts I have obtained from a gentleman who is thoroughly acquainted with what he speaks of, and I believe most of his points are unknown to the public at large, and fully deserved the greatest ventilation. Of the Chinese 10 per cent. consists of laundrymen principally, a few servants, but all work keep opium joints, run fern tan tables, day evenings the Chinamen who work in the laundries and factories of Jersey City, Believille and other surburbs, con e to town to purchase their stock of groceries, etc., for the week. But the moment she takes up with Chinamen, her sole object seems to be to lead others and particularly young girls from 13 and 14 years upwards, to a similar life. Thir is a fact which a police officer of good standing called my attention to, and which fully shows the horrible influence these Oriental devils are wielding. It is to be hoped now, that Christian men have taken hold of the matter energetically, this plague spot of metropolitan life will be rooted out. And with the head and centre of the Chinese colony of villians in prison, it will not be so difficult to quell the rest of the colony into submission to morality and the laws.

> The sale of the World newspaper is still the topic of conversation in journal istic and financial circles. Jay Gould has come out in an interview declaring that he was glad that he had got rid of it. On the other hand, it is asserted the t Mr. Gould owns as much of the World as ever before; that Mr. Pulitzer has simply obtained what shares the previous editor, Mr. Hurlbert had, and that the whole transaction is simply a blind to disprove to the public at large that Mr. Gould had any intention of muzzling the country at large by obtaining control of the Associated Press. I give the story for what it is worth, though my informants profess to be speaking from what they obtained reliable sources. At the same time Mr. Pulitzer is doing everything to disprove these statements. His attacks on Jay Gould are so outspoken and so vigorous as to disarm almost every suspicion. At the same time, it must not be forgotton that Wall Street methods are every devious. The retired editor of the World goes

It had three entrances, and only the occu. pant and his sable yalet knew how many stair-cases led to it. Thus the occupan could go in and out whenever it suited him, and no one could follow him. It was a mysterious place of residence which suited the occupant's peculiar taste. He had a fancy of posing as a kind of Monte Christo, and his rooms here afforded him a fine stage for the exercise of his penchant.

The University itself is rapidly appraching dissolution. The trustees some years ago decided to make instruction free, but even this did not stem the population in this city, fully 90 per tile.
