As Austin, Texas, dispatch of the 15th fast, says, in the United States District Court on the 14th an important opinion was delivered in a criminal suit brought under the Civil Rights act, passed by Congress in March, 1875, to suforce the penalty of $500 for excluding [Laura Evans, a colored woman, from a ladi-s' car on the Honston and Texas Central Railroad. The Court held that the act is unconstitutional, being an infringement on the rights of the several States, and that the Sate tribupals alone have jurisdiction in the premises. Nineteen suits of a similar nature were dependent on the decision in this case.

Tue trial in London of the six dynami e conspirators, headed by Dr. Gal-Fagher of Brooklyn, who acted under orders from this side of the water, was brought to an end Thursday of last week. and four of them were condemned to penal servitude for life. The conviction these men was inevitable after their accomplice Lynch turned informer. Lynch's evidence was yery direct, very clear, and orderly in its details, and fully secorded with the facts that were obtained from other sources; and the accused men do not appear to have been able to invalidate it. It is a hard fate which the Emerald Club of the Bowery, an New York, has brought upon the foolisb agents it sent to London in company with an informer of their own kidney, be able to collect any more money at present to procure liquor for themselves and dynamite for their tools.

A WASHINGTON, D. C., correspondent, writing on the 14th inst., comments thusly: Keifer, as a nuisance, has lately been considered at the White House and summarily dealt with. That Keifer should have been able to induce Folger to recommend the removal of the Collector of Columbus, Ohio, in favor of a have sauctioned with his signature the felt that he had been imposed on, appears from the fact that he retracted his steps, leaving the Secretary of the Treasury and Keifer to think what they might of it. Tae mischief had been done, however. Gov. Foster, with a delegation, swooped down in fury, and said a thing or two both feet, in fact, on Keifer. The internal revenue district consolidation soheme has damped the ardor of many an Ohio patriot at the precise moment when enthusiasm was expected to manifest tiself. Ohio is intensely devoted to office-holding, and any attempt to reduce the number of offices is regarded almost as a personal officace to a corps of patricits, without whose services no man Gov. WASHINGTON, D. C., June 16, 1883. The close of the Star Route trial on Thursday has been the only topic of general interest in Washington during the present week. After a series of trials. almost unprecedented in length and attended by many circumstances upexampled in the history of similar proceedings in this country, the Star route defendants have been acquitted by a jury whose honesty will not be seriously questioned. However various may be the toody of Keifer, and that Arthur should opinions of the people on any or all the points involved, there are none, except transaction, seem strange. That Arthur the e whose interest was prompted by protraction, who will not be heartily glad that the curt, in has been rung down on a drama that had censed to interest the public, and had come to be regarded among those eyifs which cannot be des-

The duliness of the summer in town has been much relieved to the delight of the scandal mongers, by the shooting of Mrs. Smith by Miss Helen Leonard in a J. L. Gabel's for $1.25 per fit of jealousy. The hero of this escapade is an old beau named Callaban, who gallon. somehow has inspired Miss Leonard with a passion strange to comprehend when the fact is taken into condsiders tion that he is sixty-five years old. Callahan is not exactly a lawyer, for though he was admitted to the hard. although he was admitted to the bar, he never practiced. Possesses of an ample fortune he went into real estate speculation some years ago and leaded himself up to an enormous extent with property. Then came the crash and Callahan could not get from under quick enough to save the crash and Callahan could not get from under quick enough to save himself. He was anterently ruled by himself. He was apparently ruined beyoud recovery, and in a few days no less Grand Opening!! than a thousand foreclosure action were begun against him. But he is a man of wonderful resources. > most of all on a race track. The American Rifle Team has at got under way. The members sailed on the Alaska which left port this afternoon, and they hope to make the International contest at Wimbledon a close one. Well, for their own sakes, it is to be hoped that they will do so, for here at least there is very little interest in the match. The members of the National Rifls Association have evinced such a petty spirit, there has been such bitter rivalry and jealousy, and the efforts of certain people in the team to make the whole affair an advertising scheme for certain gun manafer in the same accompand that the Alaska which left port this afternoon advertising scheme for certain gun manufacturers have been so pronounced that ev.rybody is disgusted. The American to in will have to behave extraordinary well and shoot uncommonly fine, before they can begin to hope to reflect honor on the country which they represent, The Chicago lard failure has had a good effect here. On Monday the trans actions in the Produce Exchange were unusually beavy, and many who had dabbled heavily in oil and came very near being swamped recovered themsalves on the other commodity. At lunch on Monday a clerk in a broker's office was pointed out to me who had just cleared a little over $30,000. He was earning $1,00 a week, but kept his eyes and ears about him, and the moment the first rumblings of McGench's crash came he jumped in and profited by it. A number of printers also did well.
