-A trifling addition:"Yes' said Fogg, who became tired listening to the talkative man "there was old uncle Jerry, more'u ninety years old and he never wore a pair o'spece tacles in his life." "Sho!" exclaimed the talkative man. "Fact," persisted Fogg, "aud what's more, he could see just as well the day he died as ever he could." "Ain't you stretching that a little, mister?" asked the talkativeman. "Not a bit, ' said Fogg, "but perhaps I ought to mention that Uncle Jerry was blind from his birth." -Caesar' mistake: "Boss will you tell me how to make root beer?" asked a negro of clerk in a drug store, a day or two ago. "Yes, I will: Take hickory stick, three gallons of water, an old hat, a quart of molasses, a paper of tacks and a pound of cayenne pepper, and boil and skin and set in a cool place." "Say dat ag'n, boss, so I can disrem-mber." the clerk repeated his directions and the customer brought his fist down on the counter with the exclamation: 1 sees where I spoiled my sall batch! I left out de tacks! -Yellowstone park humor: "Philip," said the Fresident. as the wagon came to a halt in the wild Yellowstone region "Philip, I've got a good one.' "Well, Chester," returned Phillip, "I'm all attention." "Phillip.you know I touched off the Southern Exposition?" "Yes, Chester." "Well, my ambition now is to fire of a canyon!" "Chester," said Phillip gloomily,"I'm an old soldier. I have suffered many things. I have always been patient. But, Chester, until this moment I have never felt that I could justly ask for my discharge." Concerning Ticks. They usually have eight legs, terminated y claws adapted for holding ou, and then outh parts are constructed for the copiou ucking of blood. In their early life, th ticks live upon plants, but when occasion fiers, they attach themselves to vertebrat animals of all kinds, man included. The enules are entered by a skin capable o great extension, and when one of them can uach maelf to an animal, it at once begina suck blood, and grows to many times it riginal size. Cattle, horses, sheep, dog and other quadrupois are attacked by then as are bats and several birds. Hunters and others, who are much in the woods, arsometimes annoyed by them. Ticks ar abun lant in some parts of the far West and Southwest, and attack not only cattle anheir drivers, but deer and other wild ani mals. Ticks cause great annoyance to cattle but they soon get so large, that they arreadily seen and may easily be removed When they stack the traveller, the itchio they cause is so intense that the cause soon sought and removed. If neglected they have sometimes eaused serious tumors which had to be opened and the annoyin creature extracted .- From September Agri culturist.

Attention, Peach Growers. To those who find themselves, for th first time, with a crop of peaches of their hands, the most important question - how to dispose of it? If a commissio deal rin a city market bas not been selector this should be attended to at once. It i of difficult to ascertain such men, and having selected one, stick to him. All sorts of shysters will come along on the fruit is near ripening, offering bette terms than any one else; usually these have no regular ; ises of business, but sell on the lock, or at the depat, if they get a convign ment. In many localities drying or evap orating, and canning factories have been stablished; it will be well to accertain the fruit may not be contracted for at thes in favorable terms, and thus avoid much o the labor and uncertainty of marketing. 1 the crop is to be marketed, of course th kind of packages has been decided upon an prostured. If these are to be returned when uptied, see that they are properly marked The novice in peach growing has much rouble with his pickers. He can not affor o pick himself, but must watch the others The great trouble is from over ripe fruit. J male soft peach will spoil a crate or baske hould it become "leaky." Where experi sneed pickers are to be had, they amount a they pick, but even in the large orchards i is now becoming the custom to assort after wards.
