About two months ago Mincerville, in Schuylkill county, was visited by a $10,000 fire, the origin of which, at that time, was supposed to be spontaneous combustion. An investigation, however, has shown that it was the work of an incendiary. At a late hour on Monday night John Keeter, 24 years of age, a resident of Cass township, was arrested, charged with the crime. He subsequently procured his release on $1,200 bail.

On Sept. 8th, the Democratic Convention will be held. The candidates for its consideration are legion. They are, as far as we know, all good men; men who would grow the various positions with honor and credit. But all cannot be nominated. The majority will be left, and those that are left we hope will accept the result as every good Democrat should by supporting faithfully and with a determination to roll up a thousand majority in the county for Cleveland and the successful county aspirants.

Henry Lazarus, of Steinsville, Lehigh county, witnessed a battle between a large rat and a copperhead snake four feet long. It lasted twenty-five minutes, after which the rat had partially separated the snake's head from its body. The rat then dragged its conquered and dead foe to its lair.

See E. H. Hoff's stock of Railroad Watches being going elsewhere.

Thomas Wright, aged 13 years, while attempting to board a moving coal train on the Lehigh Valley Railroad at Bethlehem, Friday evening, slipped and fell under the wheels, which passed over his right leg near the thigh and left foot at the ankle, crushing them in a horrible manner. The boy was picked up in an unconscious condition and conveyed to St. Luke's Hospital, where the injured limbs were amputated. It is thought he will not recover.

Last Sunday morning Robert Pettit, of Derryville, fell from a dumping car while it was in motion. He was struck by the oil box of the car and received a severe cut across the back.

About two weeks ago a little son of Frank Held, residing in one of the suburbs of Allentown, swallowed a grain of coffee, which lodged in his windpipe. He was in great distress and for several days lay at the point of death by strangling. The coffee grain finally worked its way into the lung and he was borne away. Friday of last week, after a great deal of suffering, he died.

FOR SALE.—A LIQUOR STORE, now being done up, paying liberal profits, good will and fixtures offered for sale at a reasonable cash price. Also, one elegantly furnished and well equipped saloon, Lehigh, will be sold at a fair figure. For particulars, apply immediately, at the Advocates office.

WEISSPORT LETTER. Only a little over a week more and then the very grave fears and anxieties of the innumerable list of candidates will be downed and laid aside. Oh what a relief.

Every Democrat throughout the county should see to it that his name is on the registry list before Sept. 4, 1884. With a view of subscribing this and all other papers that may arise to the benefit of the Democracy the County Committee of Franklin township have appointed the following sub-committee: Wm. Fisher, Henry Miller, George Engler, Tobias Greenberg, Philip Walk, Alfred Stroop, Frank Holdt, Paul Solt, Daniel Kregg, Jacob Regel, Frank Whittinger, and B. F. Peters. The committee also at the same time appointed an advisory committee which consist of the following Democrats: A. S. Holt, John Reber, Wilson Oplinger, W. Nichols, Edward Grever, Douglas Arner, Norwels, Milton Krege, Henry Berlin, Charles Schweitzer, H. S. Smalley, Frank Hays, John Mangold, Joseph Ruff, Edward Romig, and Wm. Berry. These Democrats are all notified and know what their duty is. Franklin is in dead earnest and proposes to make such a record as it never had before. "Bah for Cleveland and Hendricks."

Pat Clark, of Nequehoning, in the name of Philadelphia friends paid Weissport a visit on Sunday. We were pleased to meet our good friend.

C. W. Savelle, our popular station agent, has been away for a week or so making arrangements to move his mother and family to this place. He will occupy part of the new house just erected by Joseph Fennner.

Two little Guis returned home from a two weeks sojourn at Ocean Grove on Friday evening. The invigorating sea breeze has proved to be of material benefit to our young lady friend.

William H. Koebel received a very nice lot of fresh Jersey peaches during the fore part of the week. He readily disposed of these to his neighbors.

Mahoning Equities. Eileen J. Miller, of West Penn, was visiting friends in the valley during the week.

One of Squire Musselman's hens distinguished herself the other day by laying an egg that measured six inches in circumference and eight inches around the points. This is something eggs-tremordinary in the egg line.

William Noll and wife, of Lehigh, were the guests of Dr. Keller over Sunday.

Sylvester Ruch intends to learn the tanning trade, and on Monday entered the employ of Daniel Kietzer, at West Penn.

Daniel Kietzer and wife, of Hohenhausen, were the guests of Thomas Musselman over Sunday.

Some of the boys attending the Centre Square Select School were examined at East Penn on Tuesday.

Ed Hunsicker, of Lehigh, was visiting in the Valley during the week.

Miss Polly Hunsicker was agreeably surprised last Saturday evening by her many friends who came to help her celebrate her birthday. The party numbered about eighty.

The new Mahoning Sunday school will not hold its picnic to day, as was announced last week. The time for holding the picnic will be September 13. It will then be held in the afternoon and evening. A band will be present and a grand display of fireworks will take place in the evening. Two balloons will be sent off during the afternoon. All who want to spend an evening of unalloyed pleasure should not fail to be present.

Around Pleasant Corner. A foot race between A. F. Oldt, Frank Laucher, and Dummer, a few days ago, Dummer assumes to be champion, but Oldt, so far takes the lead; so another race will be held on Sept. 4th, a distance from 200 to 300 yards. Oldt proposes to give him the quail on running.

Dr. Kaiser is our aspirant for Legalia honors on the Democratic side of the house.

Miss Emma Kerger, of Pleasant Corner was on a visit to Geopville on last Saturday.

Sebastine Bocher, of Mahoning, died on the 21st inst., aged 63 years, 8 months and 24 days.

Miss Lucy Romig, of East Weissport, was on a visit to the Valley last Saturday.

Mrs. W. J. Kistler and Nathan Geber, were over to West Penn for a load of yellow pine. It looks as though they would be cheap.

From Banks Township. From the Plain Speaker. The new building from Yorktown to Beaver Brook is fast gaining a reputation as a promenade during the summer.

The picnic and camp fire of Lazarus Post, G. A. R., which was held at Audenried on Friday and Saturday evenings, was largely attended.

A Democratic club will be organized in Jeaneville as soon as arrangements can be completed after the county ticket will have been placed in the field.

The Welsh Baptist Church congregation, of Audenried vicinity, propose holding a fair and festival during the coming month for the benefit of the church.

The Beaver Meadow band which is a new organization, paraded the streets last Saturday evening for the first time and rendered excellent music.

The Republicans of Jeaneville have failed to secure a special guard so far in the campaign, although several attempts have been made to form an organization.

The Banks township schools will open next Monday. The Audenried new school is not completed. The taxpayers will please take notice and see that the obligations of the contract are fulfilled.

The Spring Mountain Division Sons of Temperance have completed arrangements with the Lehigh Valley Railroad Company for their excursion to Luzerne Grove on September 23rd.

Thomas Call, of Levison, will represent the Democracy in the county convention. Tom will make an intelligent representative. The primary election will be held on Saturday, September 6th. A lively time is to be anticipated as those who believe themselves to be the "great I am" are losing their political swag on this side, and the younger element are coming to the front.

A Hungarian laborer employed at No. 1 Honey Brook stripping, was caught on Friday by a mass of the surface which fell upon him, breaking his leg and inflicting other serious injuries. Intensely were summoned, but could not render him any relief. He was taken to the Miness Hospital at Ashland. This is the first person sent from this side to the Miness Hospital. The facilities afforded by the Reading Railroad at Audenried and vicinity make it more convenient to go to Ashland than to the Pennsylvania Hospital in Philadelphia.

Weatherly Items. Mr. Chas. Keller is visiting among Reading friends.

The Citizens Band will hold a festival in their hall, about the 6th of next month.

Rev. P. S. Liebman, of Haines, Pa., filed the returned ballot on Sunday.

Quite an excitement was created on Sunday morning, when it became known that some person had robbed the dwelling occupied by P. T. Cheesman, and had taken about $30 worth, but a excitement was increased when on Monday morning it was found that J. C. Stiver's tobacco store and the house occupied by Mrs. Kameral were also broken into. The party succeeded in getting about $40 worth the second night. NOOOL.

The Anti-Trusting Society. Allentown Critic: In a salon on Sixth street, near Hamilton, a unique society is now in the habit of holding its meetings. The rules that govern the organization are the essence of simplicity. The organic law of the society is that under no circumstances shall any member attempt to treat another person in a hostile manner. Each pays for what he consumes and governs his supply accordingly. The consequence is that, no matter how protracted the session, every member runs an excellent chance of going home sober, which would not be the case under the old and reprehensible system of each treating in his turn whether a kind of rat or not, and which is simply a kind of moral coercion. Let the principles of this club spread, and before many years we shall have a time when men will have yielded themselves to the good plain rule that no man shall eat of the fruit of another man's hand.

Obituary—John Leisinger. Hon. John Leisinger died at his residence early Friday morning, 22nd inst. Bright's disease of the kidneys being the immediate cause. He had been complaining for many years and at times was a great sufferer. Recently he was troubled with increasing deafness. He was confined to his room since April last. In 1859, with members of his family, he visited Europe, and his health was temporarily improved. Later he had a retired life, having acquired a large fortune, being quoted as a millionaire. His mansion is on an elevation in the centre of a three-acre plot cultivated to perfection, making the surroundings as beautiful and pleasant as any in the State, and adjoining the paternal residence of the late Hon. Am. Tucker, and Judge Harry Clark. Doctor Ward, of Jeddo, his brother-in-law, was his family physician, and had sole charge of the patient. John Leisinger was born in Philadelphia in 1819, and went to Mauch Chunk in 1828. At 17 years of age he was civil engineer, working under the late Am. Tucker. He assisted in building the Balwiler Delaware Railroad, as well as the first railroad from White Haven to Wilkesbarre, the Morris Canal and the Lehigh Coal and Navigation Company's canal, but his masterpiece of engineering was the construction of the iron bridges crossing the Lehigh and Delaware rivers. He organized many coal companies, and was president of several. He built the famous Switchback Railroad, to convey coal mined by himself and others. In 1852 he was superintendent of the Lehigh Coal and Navigation Company. He was president of the Central Railroad Company of New Jersey and president of the Councilsville Coke and Iron Company.

In 1871 he was elected associate judge, and this year the Republican State Convention placed his name at the head of the list of presidential electors. In 1844 he was the first to introduce the idea of a coal mine with four children, named E. B. Leisinger, of Audenried; Mrs. Dr. Wright, of Lehigh; Mrs. M. S. Ketterer, of Lehigh; Leisinger, Jr., of Mauch Chunk; Mr. Leisinger was of a generous, kind hearted nature and an ardent public spirited man. His acts of charity and benevolence will long be remembered in the vicinity of Mauch Chunk. The funeral took place on Monday in the family residence in that town, at 10 o'clock, and was attended by Mr. Leisinger is said to have accumulated great wealth, leaving an estate valued at nearly $300,000.

Accidental Accident. While Dr. C. T. Horn was driving from Mauch Chunk, ascending the mountain from the station at Honey, a goat, which came rolling from above and struck the index finger of the Doctor's left hand, which was resting on his knee, with such force as to almost smash that useful member. Before reaching the spot the Doctor saw a number of boys on the mountain side a few hundred feet above the road, and he believes that, as the stone struck him with such force, it must have received some propelling power at the hands of the said boys. If this be the case, no doubt it, such parties should be severely dealt with, for had the Doctor not the good sense to Miss Aggie and Minnie Reichard, on Northampton street, he thinks the force was great enough to have proved fatal to any one. We are happy to say that under the doctors skillful treatment the finger is again assuming its natural shape.

Sea Ball. An intensely interesting and exciting game of sea ball was played at the old fair grounds, this morning, on Saturday last, between two even clubs, the "Socials" and "Solid" Hatters. The "Socials" were the victors on the 4th of July, and the "Socials" were terribly worsted, the score standing 45 to 5. Since then the "Socials" have been thrashing for revenge, and on Saturday they were again victorious, which they nobly did on Saturday. The playing on both sides was of a good order, and the "Solid Hatters" were the victors, "Socials" 12, "Solid Hatters" 10. The following is the score by innings:

Innings— 1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12. Socials— 0 3 1 0 4 1 0 9 2 12. Solid Hatters— 2 0 1 1 1 2 2 1 0 10.
