hard work and economy I guess we can make it up in another year. "Then what will come next?" "I intend to have a nice, large barn and some choice cattle; then I shall build a good house and prepare to take comfort. There isn't a better farm than mine for miles around, and I must make the best improvements possible. Then, some day, we'll have the best of everything."

"What who will share it all with you?" "Why my family, of course!" opening his eyes wide with astonishment. "All except Clara, you mean," she said solemnly. "Why Martha—how you talk! It is for her I'm working—oh yes, I'd like to know?"

"Now, Nathan, just take a few words from your sister, who means only kindness. I had experience, and in my judgment, Clara hadn't enough vitality left to take her through another year of hard work. I have interests at heart, and would not needlessly arouse your fears; but I am convinced that your wife is wearing out. She must rest from this constant labor, or your children will soon be motherless."

"I don't, Martha, talk in that way! Clara is as well as usual. She was always slender and delicate. I'd gladly have kept her in case, but she knew that she married a poor man, and was willing to work up."

"The bump of destructiveness—A railway collision. —A round of pleasure—a promenade concert. —The man who keeps his word—the man who never speaks. —We have arrived at intellectual blindness when we see only what we wish to see. —Pen-makers are a bad lot. They make people steel pens and then say they do it right. —When a man drops his hat in the street he always picks it up with a sort of a mean look, as if he had stolen it. —It is said that the light of a match sometimes fails to keep the wolf from the door."

"The Rev. Geo. H. Thayer, of Bourbon, Ind., says of both myself and wife as we are loyal to Shiloh's Consumption Cure." Sold by W. F. Dier, Weisport, and C. T. Horn, Lehighton. As you made miserable by indigestion, constipation, diarrhea, loss of appetite, yellow skin? Shiloh's Vitalizer is a positive cure. Sold by W. F. Dier, Weisport, and C. T. Horn, Lehighton.

"The gymnastic of the circus always wears his spring clothes. —When may a ship at sea be said not to be on water? When she is on fire. —It is estimated that there are 500,000 Polish Catholics in the United States. —France supports 3500 dramatic authors. —"Wood is the thing after all," as the man with a wooden leg said, when the mud dog bit it. —Drunkards, or the Liquor Habit, can be cured by administering Dr. Haines' Golden Specific."

"The best advice in the world for cuts, bruises, sores, ulcers, salt rheum, fever sores, chapped hands, chilblains, corns, and all skin eruptions, and positively cures piles, or no cure required. It is guaranteed to give perfect satisfaction, or money refunded. Price 25 cents per box. —Everybody should subscribe for the Advocate with the beginning of the new year. Price $1 a year. All the latest news up to the time of going to press. —The Swedish ancestor of her father in pasting over the hole in the fire board the large crayon portrait of yourself, and then running the stovepipe through it, undoubtedly justifies you in ceasing all acquaintances with the family. —Ayer's Cherry Pectoral is recommended by physicians of the greatest eminence on both sides of the Atlantic, as the most reliable remedy for coughs and colds, and all pulmonary disorders. It affords prompt relief in every case. No family should be without it. —A drunken man, having vomited in a basket containing geese, warning by the fire place, exclaimed in consternation, "My God, wife, where'd I did I swallow them things?" —It is supposed by learned men that the first bat ever made was the alphabet. —Yonkers Gazette: Boy, when you slide on the long banister of the front hall stairs, and go down to the bottom so fast that it burns you clean through your trousers, that's friction. —These are Solid Facts. The best blood purifier and system regulator ever placed within the reach of suffering humanity, truly a Electric Bitters. Inactivity of the liver, biliousness, jaundice, constipation, weak kidneys, or any disease of the urinary organs, of whatever nature, requires an aperient, tonic, or mild stimulant will always find Electric Bitters the best and most reliable remedy. It is guaranteed to give entire satisfaction, or money refunded. Sold at 25 cents a bottle by T. B. Thomas, druggist. —The legal question which is exercising the lawyers of New York is, "Does a cow become real estate when she is turned into a field?" —The man whose hair turned white in a single night is surpassed by the New York girl who lost her complexion in one day. —Call a lady a "chicken," and ten to one she will get angry at you. Tell her she is "too thick," and ten to one she will be still angrier. —"There will be citizens to make a

THE TRAMP'S LATEST RACKET. A wretched-looking tramp went into an Austin saloon and begged with tears in his eyes for the barkeeper to give him a dime with which to get something to eat. He got it. As soon as he had it in his hand he slapped it down on the bar and said in a loud, vociferous, peremptory voice: "Beer!"

HE APOLOGIZED. A New York broker who passed a night at a village tavern in Ohio a fortnight since was informed that there was to be a wedding in the house during the evening, and was warmly invited to witness the ceremony. When it came off, however, he was left unnoticed, but in a few minutes the bride's father beckoned him aside and said: "I desire to apologize for my seeming rudeness. When you were invited you were supposed to be a broker from New York. It changed my plans."

TRUST A SMALL GIRL FOR LETTING A CAT OUT. The other day a Rockland household was made proud and happy by the introduction of a cabinet organ. The mother could play a little, and as there was a "popular collection of music" included in the purchase she lost no time in getting every note and stop into practice. The organ stood in the parlor, and was admired with the most astonishing of music, night and day, and at night, for a week. Then one morning there was a knock at the door, and a little girl from the next house shilly shally said: "Please, m-m, mother wants to know if you won't lend her your music book?" This was a surprising request, inasmuch as the woman next door was known to be organless. After passing once or twice the stouter organist asked: "What does she want with it?" The child hadn't been led for this question, so she straightforwardly replied: "I don't know 'm sure, only I heard mother tell father that if she had hold of the book for a day or two mebbe somebody would get a rest." The woman shilly shally shut the door in the little girl's face, and went and carefully locked the cabinet organ with a brass key.

HE CORNERED HER. "Johnny, take the broom and go out and sweep the leaves off the pavement." "Doggone the leaves! What makes 'em fall so fast?" "The good Lord causes them to fall each year to remind us that the end of our season of life is ever close at hand, and that we, too, are men of straw." "Well, when they come out again in the spring, what is that to remind us of?" "That is to remind us that if we are good we, like them, will bud out new and bright in paradise." "Yes, but them leaves don't bud out in paradise; they're just on the same old trees on our pavement. Accordin' to that we ought to bud out again down here where we fall off at." "Hurry on out. Don't stand there and talk so much." "Yes, that's a good way to get out of it."

FRIDE IN ONE'S WIFE. "Yes," said old Farmer Jones to a traveler who was stopping with him over night. "I've got as good a wife as any man in these parts, if I do say it." "I'm not married myself," returned the traveler, "but nevertheless I can appreciate the pride which a husband might take in a good wife." "Why, stranger," went on the old farmer earnestly. "I've known that woman as early as at 4 o'clock in the morning, milk sixteen cows, and get breakfast for twenty men, and have the bull thing done afore sunrise." "You don't say so," exclaimed the stranger. "Yes, sir, and not once only, but week in and week out, or you can see as well as I kin that she is not a strong woman neither."

DELUSIONS. —Dependence as a trade. —That every couple is a pair. —Efforts to thrive by cheating. —He who prefers losing a friend to losing a job. —That punctual servants can be had without punctual masters. —That one squeeze of a lemon gets all the good out of it. —That man can keep posted on the doings of the day without reading. —That one cannot live in peace unless his neighbors do so. —That a man's excess of his company can be careful of his time. —That there is never any pleasure or profit in building air castles. —That the glory is in never failing rather than in rising every time we fall. —That a better deal stepward knowledge can be taken than to realize your own ignorance. —

A MARVELOUS STORY TOLD IN TWO LETTERS. FROM THE SON. "Yes, that's a good way to get out of it." Ayer's Sarsaparilla. FROM THE FATHER. "It is both a pleasure and a duty for me to state to you the benefit I have derived from the use of Ayer's Sarsaparilla. Six months ago I was completely covered with a mercurial humor and excruciating sores. The humor caused an itchy and intolerable itching, and the skin cracked so as to cause the blood to flow in many places whenever I moved. My sufferings were great, and my life a burden. I consulted the use of the Sarsaparilla. I commenced the use of it regularly since that time. My condition began to improve at once. The sores have all healed, and I feel perfectly well in every respect—being now able to do a good day's work, although 73 years of age. Many inquire what has wrought such a cure in my case, and I tell them, as I have here told to you, AYER'S SARSAPARILLA. GLOBE, N. Y., Oct. 21, 1884. HENRY PHILLIPS.
