THE HARVEST OF VIOLENCE.

Commenting on the shooting of O'Donovan in New York last Monday, the Philadelphia Times truthfully remarks: How often we look to violent crime and come to realize its deadly character in the attack upon O'Donovan...

The Niagara treaty has been rejected by the Senate. There was a majority of nine votes in favor of confirmation, but the Constitution requires a two-thirds majority to confirm.

FROM WASHINGTON

Mr. Speaker Carlisle has even less going for preserving order than most of his predecessors. He is like an old-fashioned schoolmaster, well liked and very able, but obeyed by nobody.

The heads of the bank notes of different denominations are not very generally known, and very few persons can tell what portraits are on the different bills.

OUR HARRISBURG LETTER.

There is nothing certain about the passage of a bill until the Governor has signed his name. Two bills that were started almost before the Legislature was in session have been killed.

representing the twenty-two States, Middle and Western States—Alabama, Arkansas, Delaware, Florida, Georgia, Mississippi and Texas, returning said Democratic delegations. But thirteen Republican members have been elected from the Southern States, from Kentucky, 1 from Louisiana, 1 from Maryland, 2 from Missouri, 1 from North Carolina, 3 from South Carolina, 3 from Tennessee, 2 from Virginia, and 1 from West Virginia.

Broadbrim's New York Letter.

I frequently stand on Wall Street to see the people who pass. It is a wonderful panorama that one sees on this busy mart. Dives and Lazarus touch elbows, but they neither speak nor notice each other socially.

There was a lively time in the Senate when the names of Messrs. Ashmead and Walker came up for confirmation as trustees of the Norristown Insane Asylum. The Senators voted any money discussed the merits and demerits of the man and finally voted not to confirm them.

him his share. He came to Brooklyn and found a large congregation and exciting program. It was a question of time, however, before he could get to the church, for the purpose of paying his salary. How many other churches he may visit before he reaches the Jordan—Providence alone can tell, but one thing is morally certain, and that is—the Brooklynian will want no more Thompson in his shoes.

of a specialty of cheese and butter, and claims to show the largest and finest variety at the Exposition. While only a few samples are within the space in the Main building, three towers made of cheese are prominently exhibited, one composed of orange shaped at a pine apple in a basket. Slobosyan stayed at the hotel.
