Cans are bright and sweet and cold spring water or ice is freely used to keep the milk cool and marketable, and to give the city customer a safe and healthful beverage. In no product does the country come so close to the town, as in this matter of the supply of milk. For Newest Designs and Most Fashionable The producer has the consumer at his mercy, and it is the serene trust of the latter in the honesty of the former, upon which so much of the comfort of his life depends. This dependence grows every year. In the year 1800, there were four inhabitants in cities to every one hundred of our population; in 1850, the proportion was twelve and a half to one hundred, in 1880, it was twentytwo and a half. In 1890 it will be at least one-fourth. And this immense aggregate must trust implicitly to the honesty of a small fraction of the agricultural population, for the good qualities of one of the most essential articles of consumption. We see no reason to doubt that mutual confidence will be as worthily bestowed then as it is now .-
