Are constantly exposed to danger from Colds, Whooping Cough, Croup, and diseases peculiar to the throat and lungs. For such allments, Ayer's lungs. For such aliments, Ayer's Cherry Pectoral, promptly administered, affords speedy relief and cure.

As a remedy for Whooping Cough, with which many of our children were afflicted, we used, during the past winter, with much satisfaction. Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. For this affection, we consider this preparation the most efficacious of all the medicines which have come to our knowledge.—Mary Parkhurst, Preceptress, Home for Little Wanderers, Doncaster, Md.

I have used Ayer's Cherry Pectoral in my family for many years, and have found it especially valuable in Whooping Cough. This medicine allays all irritation, prevents inflammation from extending to the lungs, and quickly subdues any tendency to Lung Compliant.

J. B. Wellington, Plainville, Mich.

I find no medicine so effective, for Creup and Whooping Cough, as Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. It saved the life of my lettle boy, only six months old, carrying him safely through the worst case of Whooping Cough I ever saw.—Jane Malone, Piney Flate, Tenn.

Look to Your Live-Stock in January. January is a critical month with all kept comfortable and gair ing. If they begin to fall off in condition, they will be almost sure to lose rapidly, and will require more food and better care to keep them up, than if well housed, and continuously well fed. Be systematic and regular, then they will not stand and have been ever since. It is the only and have been ever did me the least good, sod pins my head, and some I was all right and regular, then they will not stand and worry for food or water, and will take time to feed, to ruminate, and to reat. Look after sheds and stables, to keep them clean and warm. Water ought not to freeze in cow or horse stables, on the coldest nights, and at the same time the ventilation should be such, that the air is always sweet. Pigs suffer greatly with the cold, and should have dry, well-littered nests, always. Litter them wifth straw or swamp hay, enough so flight in it. Sheep should have dry sheds; they bear a great deal of cold, but should not have wet nor dirty straw to lic in. Where much straw is to be thrown into their sheds, provide a few movable platforns, like old barn doors.

Pruning. When and How-The jobbing gardeners and others, who go about trimming (they often call "thronoming") grape vines, and fruit and ornamental trees, look so wise, and surround the matter with so much mystery, that many ordinary people fear to undertake it. As to the time of pruning-we refer to the removal of ripened wood-it may be done at any time between the fall of the leaf, and when the swelling of the buds indicates that new leaves are about to be produced. It is not advisable to prune in severe winter weather, as at that time, the wood may crack and make a bad wound. Besides, that is a time when is uncomfortable to do the work. The outfit for one who would undertake to do his own pruning is; a sharp pruning-knife, a pair of pruningshears; a pruning saw, i. c. a saw with a narrow blade, the teeth of which have HARRIS' a wide set. For branches not over two inches in diameter at the base, many prefer a broad, stout chisel to a saw. NERVOUS

This has a socket into which handles of various sizes can be inserted. The chisel placed at the under side of the branch be removed, and the end of the handle s struck apwards with a heavy mallet. All large wounds should be covered with ome material to protect them from the weather. Shellae varnish is best for this purpose, but at the present price of alcohol, is too expensive. Melted graftone must know something of the manner of growth of trees, etc. The most important point is this: the growth next spring will proceed from the buds that
