Not Symptoms, but the Disease. It would seem to be a truth appreciable by all, and especially by professors of the healing art, that to remove the disease, not to allevlate its symptoms, should be the chief aim of medication.

Yet in how many instances do we see this trath admitted in theory, ignored in practice. The reason that Hostetter's Stomach Bitters is successful in so many cases, with which remedies previously trued were inadequate to cope, is attri-butable to the fact that it is a medicine butable to the fact that it is a medicine which reaches and removes the causes of the various maladies to which it is adapted. Indigestion, fever and ague, liver complaint, gout, rheumatism, dis-order of the bowels, urinary affections and other maladies are not palliated merely, but rooted out by it.
