In regard to enclosed and cultivated lands such license by custom has been de Upon the whole, it may be said that the sportsman cannot claim any legal right to enter on private property in pursuit of game, based on the custom so to do. The right to hunt or fish on land or water may be founded on custom, prescription, grant, or license. A right oy grant may be given by the State as the owner of game or fish in public lands or waters, or by the private owners of real property. The right by grant rejuires a writing which, as the right to kill and carry away game on laud is a "license of profit," should be based on sufficient consideration, and should be executed with the legal formality of a deed of land. A verbal license is sufficient to justify an entry upon private property to shoot or fish, and it is good until revoked. But if the sport-man remain on the land after his license to or there has been revoked, or if, having got leave to come upon the land for specified purpose, as to cross over it or t gather nuts, or to eat his luuch, he should proceed to hunt or fish, he would bee me
