SATURDAY, AUGUST 7, 1886.

SPECIAL NOTICE.—Persons making payments to this office by money orders or postal notes will please make them payable at the Waverly Post Office, as the Lehigh ton office is not a money order office.

Our Neighborhood in Brief.

The evenings have been decidedly cooler this week. Only one more month until the orange season opens. The improvements on the Carbon House will soon be completed. The Kutown shoe factory gives employment to forty-three men. Political aspirants in this borough. Our public schools open on Monday, August 30, for a nine month term. The culvert opposite this office is being pushed rapidly to completion. Michael McDonald has been appointed post master at Peely, Luzerne county. The roofing slate quarries in Lynn township have closed their works indefinitely. The reformed Sunday school will picnic in Underman's grove on Saturday the 14th inst. Several members of the Weatherly town council were recently arrested and fined for drunkenness. A number of the "boys" were in attendance at the picnic at East Penn last Saturday evening. The water company is getting along slowly. Come, gentlemen, step up and help this recently along. A natural cave of large dimensions has been found on the farm of Henry Bowman in Lancaster county. Carbon Castle, K. G. E., of this place, is now in working order and are ready to take in new members. Nazareth is to have a knitting mill. The main building is to be of brick 30 x 48 feet, two stories high. Allentown wants some one to start a flour cannery establishment in that place. We suppose she will get it. Woman's Relief Corps, auxiliaries to the Grand Army of the Republic, are being organized in many towns in this State. An effort is being made to upset the judgments held by the Allentown National Bank against the Stenton Car Works. Edward Howell, who was serving a term in the Easton jail for horse stealing, escaped from that building on Sunday night. John Fry, of Bethlehem, aged 20 years, is under bail for attempting to outrage a six year old daughter of a man named Dick. Mrs. Robert Klotz, of Mauch Chunk, is soliciting subscriptions to purchase a sign on which to erect the much talked of Dinmick library. A correspondent writing from Beaver Meadow says that the "cemetery at that place is a common pasture field for cows and pigs." A great Plymouth, Luzerne county, this week destroyed $7,000 worth of property. Plymouth is without fire apparatus, so is Lehigh ton.

Hazleton people were greatly excited this week over the attempt of a Philadelphia woman to entice two innocent girls from their homes in that place. We are pleased to note the advancement of our friend E. St. John, of the Chicago, Rock Island & Pacific Railroad to the position of assistant general manager. The Schuylkill county Prohibitionists have put a plank into their platform calling for the extension of the civil service laws to Federal, State and county offices. Our friend Bryan, the gentlemanly agent at the P. & R. depot, this place, wears a smile—a baby boy makes all the difference in the world. Mother and child are doing well. Soldiers! Attention! Don't fail to be present at the next regular meeting of John D. Bertolote Post, 484, G. A. R., in Reber's Hall, Thursday, August 12th, as business of importance is to be transacted. For the week ending July 24, there were 119,100 tons of coal shipped over the Lehigh Valley railroad, making a total to date of 3,559,675 tons and showing an increase of 423,444 tons compared with the same time last year. The race course on the fair grounds in this place is being enlarged to make a full half mile, a fence erected around it, and a new grand stand put up. These improvements will be completed in time for the coming great handicap races. We are in receipt of a letter from Fred Weidenheimer, formerly of this place, that the prospects for large crops in that section are encouraging, and also, that the country is rapidly building up. The No 5 furnace of the Crane iron company, at Catawqua, was restarted last week after having undergone refitting and other needed repairs. By the refitting of this stack the company has its entire plant of five furnaces in working order.

A Washington exchange says: "A pretty wedding was solemnized by Rev. Dr. Naylor, at Foundry M. E. Church on July 28. The bride was Miss Katie, daughter of H. T. J. Brown, of the War Department, and the groom was Reuben T. Phillips, a well-known business man of this city." A new style of postal card will be issued shortly. There are a number of typhoid fever cases in Allentown. Furnace No. 5, at Glendon, was blown in on Monday. Squirrel shooting is not legal until after the first of next month. The Slatington cornet band are "blowing" through new instruments. Efforts are being made to organize a castle of the K. G. E. at Slatington. A number of our citizens are beautifying their residences by the erection of iron fences. With the exception of the delinquent subscriber everything is earlier than usual this year. A number of our Evangelical citizens are "teating on the old camp ground," in Weis's grove. The relief association of the employees of the Bethlehem iron company has now a membership of about 800. The apple crop throughout the United States and Canada promises to be the largest gathered in many years. A strange lung has made its appearance in the southern part of the State and is doing much damage to the potato crop. On Wednesday afternoon two hundred Hungarians and Italian laborers on the Neusegar railroad, at Glen Rock, struck for an advance of fifteen cents per day. The State Grand Lodge of the German Order of Harrigall, a benevolent organization having branches throughout the State, convened at Reading this week. Col. T. R. Stigcraves, a very prominent citizen of Easton, died Sunday morning, aged eighty years. He was the prothonotary of Northampton county at one time as also brought treasury. He was a son of the late Samuel Stigcraves, at one time minister to England. The most modest man ever heard of was in a row boat in a storm. He got swamped and drowned because he refused to hug the shore. This catastrophe could have been averted had he hired one of David Ebert's easy riding rigs. Lively on North street; terms low. Our borough fathers held their regular monthly meeting last Monday night. Present: Burgess Graver; Councilmen Gabel, Schmidt, Semmel, Miller, Snyder and Supervisor Newark. The usual amount of business was transacted and a committee appointed on the culvert matter, opposite the Exchange hotel. As the summer wastes typhoid fever and other forms of zymotic disease should be carefully guarded against, wherever the conditions are favorable, as shown by the experience in many places with malarial disorders due to imperfect sanitation, there will quickly be felt the paralyzing hand of epidemic contagion. The following members of Carbon Castle, No. 111, K. G. E., of this place, were present at the institution of the Enterprise Castle, K. G. E., at Weatherly last Saturday night: Dr. Horn, Geo. Stocker, Doug. Miller, H. V. Morthimer, Jr., E. J. Rehrig. The ceremonies were very imposing. The lodge has bright prospects. The Prohibition County Convention will meet at Mauch Chunk, on the 12th inst. Hon. Chas. Wolfe will deliver an address in the evening, after which a special train will leave Mauch Chunk for the Lehigh Valley Railroad for the accommodation of those persons at the Convention and who may wish to hear the address. Rev. B. F. Powell and family are home again after a visit to relatives and friends in various places. Quite a number of our young ladies and gentlemen pass the evenings in rowing on the dam at this place. Mrs. Hottenstein was interred in the Paryville cemetery last Monday. Rev. Wm. Major, of Lehigh ton, officiated. A number of visitors are stopping in and around this place. DAVIS.

St. Clair and Order People Suffer.

Dynamiters blew up the English Baptist church, at St. Clair, Schuylkill county, about three o'clock Sunday morning. This is only one of a series of cowardly outrages, the outcome of the active work of the Law and Order Society against the violation of the liquor law. Their protests against many illegally kept saloons some time ago, resulted in the partial destruction of D. W. Lewis' store and residence and the narrow escape of his family from death. The Law and Order Society retaliated by sending an old man named Walker to jail for selling liquor without a license, which hastened his death. Shortly before the explosion an old man named Koch, who was kneeling at the window, saw a small light, and a few seconds later he was suddenly thrown on his back by the explosion. In a few minutes the whole neighborhood was aroused and the scene of the explosion was swarming with people. The front doors and windows, the vestibule and the near pews were shattered. There was not a building in the neighborhood but had at least half a dozen panes of glass broken.

The Summer Work in Lehigh ton.

Owen Rehrig is making preparations to erect a beautiful brick residence on the corner of Lehigh and Iron streets.

M. O. Kuntz's new dwelling on Lehigh street, is rapidly nearing completion, when finished it will be a model of neatness.

Wm. Moutz's new dwelling and store rooms, at the upper end of Bank street, will soon be ready for occupancy.

Moses Hellman is making preparations to erect a double frame dwelling house on Bank street.

Seven new frame dwelling houses have been erected on Northampton street this summer.

Wallace Sumner's new home on North street makes a very pretty appearance.

Daniel Olevine has laid a substantial pavement in front of his dwellings on Bank street. Dito, Fred Schmidt and Dr. German.

Samuel Seiler is building an addition to the store room occupied by A. J. Litzberger.

Wm. Butler is building two frame dwellings on the "flats," opposite the foundry.

The above are only a few of the many improvements made in this place during the past summer. While we are pleased to note all such improvements it is lamentable to observe the absence of manufacturing industries, which help a town along. Won't our nominal men do something in the matter.

Our Weissport "Scribe" Speaks.

—When the result of the great western strike is considered, the fact becomes apparent why Grand Workman Powderly so strongly objects to strikes and boycotts. There has never been an instance in the history of our country where the workmen have succeeded in gaining any advantage whatever by striking.

For a short time they may be able to assert their rights, they may be able to hold out against corporations and monopolists but sooner or later they must succumb to the demands of the capitalists. Then it is that the laborer becomes mortified and humiliated. How much better would it be in every instance if the different assemblies and trade unions were to follow the advice of their leader and leave the strike and boycott alone.

Of the forty-six hundred workmen in the employ of the Missouri Pacific system when the strike was ordered less than two hundred have been taken back, while the places left vacant by the strikers have been filled with competent men glad to get work at any price. This is the result of a strike; yet even now, after this terrible lesson, there are men so bigoted, so blind as to the welfare of the Knights of Labor that they cry out at the least fancied wrong, "strike," "boycott," and expect to be heard and protected by their order. The society such men learn that the Knights of Labor purpose accomplishing the object they have in view by fairer and more business-like means, the better it will be for them and for the body of men with whom they are associated. Organize, agitate and educate are words emblematic of the order—organize the laboring classes of the world into one vast body, and agitate and educate its members on the principles of true manhood and the object for which they labor will not be in vain.

—Among our enterprising and successful business men, Wm. Mmer, of Mauch Chunk, plays a conspicuous part. Mr. Mmer, was born in Mauch Chunk, in the year 1857, and is the oldest son of Elias and Mary Mmer. After attending the public schools at that place until his twelfth year, he went into his father's boarding establishment, which was located at that place, and where he served until the breaking out of the late civil war, when he enlisted in Company F, 135 Pennsylvania Volunteers, and served nine months when he was honorably discharged—he is now a member of John D. Bertolote Post 484, G. A. R., of Lehigh ton. Mr. Mmer moved to this place about 15 years ago, and with his brother C. Mmer, erected the Fort Allen foundry, which they have been running ever since; this enterprise has grown rapidly during the past few years and is now recognized as the leading feature of our town—giving employment to about thirty-five men who are kept busy all the year round. Mr. Mmer has filled various borough offices during his residence here, and always to the satisfaction of the people. He is also a prominent member of the Knights of Honor.

—Our popular jeweler, Geo. C. Deats is doing quite a business in the bicycle line. During the month of July he furnished four wheels to young men in this place, all of which have given the best of satisfaction.

—Laury & Sewell, the bakers, of this place, are doing a thriving business. In connection with the bakery they supply picnics, parties and camp meetings with ice cream and candies.

—And now the people of our little borough glory in the fact that they can walk the streets without fear of molestation. Weissport has long needed a "knight of the peace," not so much for the general safety of the community, as for the metropolitan air it gives a place. Of course in a matter of this kind, safety is no object with our borough fathers and it is safe to presume that our "dandy copper" is pretty well paid.

—Rehrig & Laury, of East Weissport, have opened a sales and exchange stable, and are fully prepared to furnish all kinds of "rigs" at very short notice.

—Our suggestion last week, viz: To set aside one day of every year for the commemoration of the names and deeds of the noble martyrs who suffered in the settlement of our town, seems to meet with approval by a number of our folks. It would only be exhibiting a proper spirit of patriotism if our Lehigh ton neighbors were to join with us in this matter.

—The camp-meeting in Weiss grove, near this place, convened on Wednesday, and the prospects are that a successful week of prayer and thanksgiving will be had. Standing through this little village of tents, all seems peace and quiet, it is a little world of its own, in which the word of God is preached to penitent sinners; and while the campers-out gain new faith in the wonderful powers of Him who rules the universe they also gain bodily health and strength in breathing the pure atmosphere in their little mountain homes.

—If we see no reason why Weissport hotels should not be "chuck full" of summer guests. Our town offers splendid inducements to pleasure seekers; beautiful, broad and shady thoroughfares and one of the most beautiful public squares in the county. In connection with the above the delightful drives through our picturesque valleys, which alone is well worth a week's stay here.

—Under the head of "Weissport Business Directory," in the CARBON ADVOCATE, of to-day, appears the business announcements of all the men and merchants. We are pleased to note this evidence of enterprise on the part of our citizens and hope that though of only small dimensions it will grow to larger proportions in time to come. The columns of the ADVOCATE are always open to our people, and through them they may at any and all times discuss matters which pertain to their own advancement and the public good.

—The political cauldron is beginning to boil in this section now. We have it from pretty reliable authority that a prominent Prohibitionist, of this place, will be a candidate for legislative honors. If he succeeds in getting the nomination we think the prospects are fairly good for his election. The Prohibition party is constantly adding new recruits to their ranks, and the prospects are that the coming election will be a struggle between the two parties. It is just a little bit exciting. So must it be. —Subscribe for the ADVOCATE!

A FATAL BOILER EXPLOSION.

Misery and Death in the Lehigh Coal and Navigation Co's Machine Shop.

Special to the ADVOCATE. LANFORD, AUGUST 3.—A large boiler, which formerly belonged to an old candle-blow locomotive and which has been in use in the machine shops of the Lehigh Coal and Navigation Company's Works here, exploded with terrific force at about half-past eleven this (Tuesday) morning. About 400 men are employed about the works, forty of them being employed in the machine shops, where the boiler was situated. The boiler was when it exploded, and has been condemned several times within the past few years. It was held responsible for to-day's disaster.

The machine and blacksmith shops were badly wrecked, splinters flying in all directions. The report of the explosion brought many people to the scene of the disaster, where a horrible sight met their gaze. The groans of the injured were quickly responded to by our people, and they were taken from out the ruins to the homes of fellow workmen, where medical aid was quickly summoned, and everything in the power of human hands and minds was done to alleviate their sufferings. At four o'clock this afternoon the scene of the explosion is still thronged with people and the greatest consternation prevails. Nero Weiss, of Weissport, was fatally injured and was taken to his home on the 23rd p. m. It is thought that he will die before he reaches Weissport. Word was sent to that place and he will be removed to his home in the killed and injured.

William Lewis, a young man, INSURED. William Kiesner, injured about the head, not expected to live. Steve Weis, whose knee was knocked out and otherwise badly injured. John Fleming. Edward Mowry. Jacob Alberton. David Haines. Charles Weiss, son of Seto Weiss. Cornelius Pollock. Edward Stein. Edward Seiser. Joseph Heister. John Haddinger. Samuel Scott. Joseph Williams.

LANFORD, Pa., Aug. 3.—Yesterday's explosion in the machine shops has resulted in the death of five men. Twenty are seriously injured, and seven of the wounded are likely to die. The shops were crowded with men, and it is almost a miracle that more were not killed or injured. The force of the explosion was felt for miles, and the head of the boiler was thrown fully two hundred feet high in the air. Many of the injured were buried beneath the ruins, and it was some hours before they were rescued.

Simply Wonderful.

On Tuesday we had the pleasure of seeing the Automatic Miniature of the Switchback, Glen Onoko and Switzer land of America, on exhibition at Summit Hill. This wonderful piece of mechanism gives the tourist a view of the Switchback and surrounding scenery, from Mauch Chunk mountain to Glen Onoko, and from the Switchback railroad station to the terminus of the road at Summit Hill and return, including in a radius of many miles the finest landscape in America, replete with its natural wealth and wonders.

It is comprised of the following principal attractions: The world famous Switch-back railroad running up Mt. Pisgah and Mt. Jefferson Plain, and through the mountain nearly seventeen hundred feet above the tide, the weird Glen Onoko with its rustic stairs bridges and charming cascades. The village of Mauch Chunk compact among the hills, the village Summit Hill, the burning mines which have been in a state of constant activity since 1822, also in close proximity the great ice cave, the coal fields, the home of the miners, the great Nesquehoning tunnel with the coal trains running through and down the mountain to the coal ports. Excursion trains taking passengers to the Switch-back and Glen Onoko, Bloomingdale and Nesquehoning Valleys, Mauch Chunk Mountain, South Mountain and all the other points of attraction.

The difficulty over the discharge of sixty men at the Sharon, Pa., iron works has been settled amicably, and the demands of the workmen were acceded to by the managers.

Dr. C. T. Horn Lehigh ton and W. F. Biery Weissport, wish to make an assertion, which they can back with a positive guarantee. It is all about Ackers' Blood Purifier. They claim that it is superior to every other medicine of its kind, and guarantee for it a positive and sure cure for Rheumatism, Syphilis, and all blood disorders. It drives the skin from spots and disease, and restores the complexion clear. Ask Lamb about it.

INTERNATIONAL LESSONS.

BY REV. F. R. HARRIDEAVERS. Lesson 6. August 5th. GENTILES SEEKING JESUS. John 12, 20-36. Golden Text, John 15: 32.

Time, Tuesday, April 4th, A. D. 30. Place, Jerusalem. Two days have passed since the last lesson, in which Christ has constantly taught the people.

His evenings were spent in the hospitable Bethany home; His days in the city of Jerusalem. On Tuesday morning, returning to the city, He taught the wonderful lesson from the withered fig tree.

While teaching in the court of the women in the temple, Philip and Andrew went to Him and requested an audience for certain Greeks who were present at the feast. These were probably Judaized Greeks, who had accepted the principles and followed the customs of Judaism. They could not go into the court of the women, for between the court of the women there was a stone fence, bearing upon pillars, placed at regular distances, the following words in Greek and Latin: "No alien may pass within the fence round the temple and the court. If any one be caught doing so, he must blame himself for the death that will follow."

In our own day one of the slabs, bearing the exact words, has been discovered by M. Ganneau during the excavations of the "Palestine Exploration Fund." Jesus gives these Greeks audience, and teaches them and the others assembled there, some important truths. He speaks, first, of his own glorification, and uses the beautiful illustration of a grain of wheat being put into the ground, dying, and then springing up again in newness of life and bringing "forth much fruit." So He must die that He might gather the universal harvest of souls.

To the Greeks He specially says, "If a man serve me, let him follow me. They thought Jesus; they must follow Him throughout life if they would serve Him.

At this point Christ utters a prayer of agony, "Father, save me from this hour," and a voice from heaven, distinct and clear, gives Him assurance of the past and promise of the future.

Then He tells of the glorious attractive power of the cross. "And I, if I be lifted up on the earth, will draw all men unto me."

This is the great attractive force of the ages, which has drawn men of all classes, nations and kindreds to the Saviour of mankind.

To that uplifted Redeemer the eyes of men are continually turning, hoping for salvation through Him.

As the ages roll by, the cross becomes still more attractive, for the only hope of a ruined world is in the crucified Jesus.

As He draws men to Him, He draws them OUT of sin and the world. The magnificent light of the Gospel shall shine into all lands, and men shall be drawn to the universal Saviour.

This prediction of Christ's is becoming more manifest every day, as His religion wins its widening way in the world.

Then, answering some objections, Jesus closed the interview. But into those hearts, both Gentile and Jew, has been cast precious seed, which should grow and bring "forth much fruit."

LESSON THOUGHTS.

1. The Gospel is universal.

2. Every nation can claim the benefits of Christ's death.

3. The death of Christ is the most important event in history.

4. Have you been attracted by it?

Three Peculiarities.

Hood's Sarsaparilla, the great blood purifier and regulating medicine, is characterized by three peculiarities, namely:

1st: The combination of the various remedial properties secured.

2d: The proportion in which the roots, herbs, barks, etc., are mixed.

3d: The process by which the active medicinal properties are secured.

The result is a medicine of unusual strength and curative power, which effects cures here before unobtainable. These peculiarities belong exclusively to Hood's Sarsaparilla, and are unknown to Others.

Hood's Sarsaparilla is prepared with the greatest skill and care, by pharmacists of education and long experience. Hence it is a medicine worthy of your confidence. If you suffer from scrofula, salt rheum, or any disease of the blood, dyspepsia, indigestion, sick headache, or kidney and liver complaints, catarrh or rheumatism, do not fail to try Hood's Sarsaparilla.

Wills are made, but those who write the wills are not. Many a man writes a will, and dies, and his heirs are left in doubt as to what his will was. It is a good plan to have a will made by a lawyer, who will see that it is properly drawn, and that it will stand up in court. It is also a good plan to have a will made by a lawyer, who will see that it is properly drawn, and that it will stand up in court.
