ion of the scalp, and of the through which nourishment is obtained. When, in consequence of age and dis-ease, the hair becomes weak, thin, and gray, Ayer's Hair Vigor will strengthen it, restore its original color, promote its rapid and vigorous growth, and impart to it the lustre and freshness of youth. I have used Ayer's Hair Vigor for a long time, and am convinced of its value. When I was 17 years of age my hair began to turn gray. I commenced using the Vigor, and was surprised at the good effects at produced. It not only restored the color to my hair, but so stimulated its growth, that I have now more hair than ever before.

J. W. Edwards, Coldwater, Miss.

Aver's Hair Vigor

IF YOU ARE SUFFERING from debility and loss of appetite, if your stemach is out of order, or your mind confused; take Ayer's Sarsaparilla. This medicine will restore physical force and elasticity to the system, more surely and speedily than any tonic yet discovered.

For six months I suffered from liver and stomach troubles. My food did not nourish me, and I became weak and very much emaciated. I took six hottles of Aver's Sarsapardle, and was cured.—J. M. Palmer, Springfield, Mass.

Attention! Farmers!

It is doubtful if anything is gaine! ultimately by having sows farrow twice a year. The suckling of two litters must injuriously reduce the sow, and the pige are not properly nourished, thus injuring them. But when the spring litters are still-born, or lost shortly after birth, or, in some cases, when sows are too young to be bred to farrow in the spring, it is good policy to breed for fall pigs. But to make them as good as spring pigs they must have good shelter and the equivalent of green food. Swine shelters are more likely to be made too warm than otherwise. The swine lie close toget'rer, and their bodies are compact, hence they require rather open shelters. Shelters, swine usually suffer more from foul air than from cold. Good ventilation is the first essential of a swine shelter. This must not be forgotten when construction shelter for fall pigs, for, because they are small, the shelter is likely to be made given yearly to the grave by warmer than for mature swine, which is saying that it will be altogether too shelter will keep them dry and protecthem from winds. The equivalent of green fool is easily provided, and it is not a more expensive food than grain Turnips can be grown after a crop c early potatoes or sweet corn has been removed from the land, or even on stubble ground.
