WOLFE AND THE KNIGHTS.

Wolfe, the Prohibition candidate for Governor, in an interview with several prominent Knights of Labor recently expressed his views on the vital questions of the day in the following manner:

"I am in favor of the abolition of the contract system on national, State and municipal works. I am in favor of the arbitration clause in your constitution; also the clause prohibiting the employment of children under fifteen years of age in workshops, mines and factories; also that prohibiting the hiring of convict labor. As to the thirteenth article, 'That a graduated income tax be levied,' if that means that the tax is to be higher pro rata upon the income of a man who has an annual income of $10,000 than upon that of a man who has an annual income of $500, it cannot be accomplished under the provisions of the Constitution of Pennsylvania, because the Constitution of this State provides that all taxes shall be uniform upon the same class of subjects within the territorial limits of the authority levying the tax."

PORTRAITS OF THE FATHERS.

Hugh J. Hastings' pessimistic views of some of the founders of the Republic. From Hastings' "Ancient American Politics."

THOMAS JEFFERSON: HOW TRUE IT IS THAT ASSOCIATION AND CIRCUMSTANCES HAVE MUCH TO DO IN SHAPING MEN'S CHARACTERS.

Thomas Jefferson: How true it is that association and circumstances have much to do in shaping men's characters and moulding among forming their characters, whether religious or political. While Jefferson resided in Paris during the French Revolution, he partook of its intoxication. He was flattered, dined and wineed by the leaders. They were nearly all theorists, with extremely radical views. He became fascinated with the Parisian manners and the new French ideas in regard to religion, government and philosophy. He returned with the impressions in favor of France and her movement too deep to be obliterated, and he found prevailing at home the sentiments he brought with him.

GEORGE CLINTON: MR. CLINTON LOVED POWER AND AUTHORITY.

George Clinton: Mr. Clinton loved power and authority. Though a sturdy Democrat he regarded himself as sovereign of New York State.

EDMUND RANDOLPH: JEFFERSON SAYS OF RANDOLPH, "WHEN HE IS WITH ME HE IS A WHIG; WHEN WITH HAMILTON, A TORY; WHEN WITH THE PRESIDENT, HE IS WHAT HE THINKS WILL PLEASE HIM."

Edmund Randolph: Jefferson says of Randolph, "When he is with me he is a Whig; when with Hamilton, a Tory; when with the President, he is what he thinks will please him."

PHILIP SCHUYLER: GENERAL SCHUYLER PERSISTED IN RETAINING HIS SEAT IN THE APPOINTING BOARD, BUT LOST CASTE BY HIS SELFISHNESS, GREEDINESS, OBSTINACY AND RAPACITY FOR OFFICE.

Philip Schuyler: General Schuyler persisted in retaining his seat in the Appointing Board, but lost caste by his selfishness, greediness, obstinacy and rapacity for office.

ALEXANDER HAMILTON: IT WAS UNDER THE FOUNDERS AND ORGANIZERS OF THE GOVERNMENT, AND NOT UNDER JACKSON'S ADMINISTRATION, THAT THE DOCTRINE "TO THE VICTORS BELONG THE SPOILS" WAS FIRST PROCLAIMED.

Alexander Hamilton: It was under the founders and organizers of the government, and not under Jackson's administration, that the doctrine "to the victors belong the spoils" was first proclaimed.

AARON BURR: HE REGARDED BOTH HAMILTON AND CLINTON AS BELONGING IN HIS WAY TO PROMOTION AND, LIKE MOST MEN RAISED TO THE SENATE, FOOLISHLY BEGAN TO FEEL HIS WAY TO THE ORGANIZATION OF A PERSONAL PARTY.

Aaron Burr: He regarded both Hamilton and Clinton as belonging in his way to promotion and, like most men raised to the Senate, foolishly began to feel his way to the organization of a personal party.

MORGAN LEWIS: MORGAN LEWIS, A VERY INFERIOR LAWYER, WAS APPOINTED ATTORNEY GENERAL TO SUCCEED BURR.

Morgan Lewis: Morgan Lewis, a very inferior lawyer, was appointed Attorney General to succeed Burr.

JOHN JAY: PURE AS HE WAS TAUGHT TO BELIEVE MR. JAY WAS, HE WAS A POLITICAL HE.

John Jay: Pure as he was taught to believe Mr. Jay was, he was a political he.
