A BLOW TO RAILROAD POOLS. The bold move made by Governor Pattison against the coal and freight railroad pools, was not a suddenly inspired purpose. On the contrary, he blow to the pooling policy of coal producers and transporters, but the opportunity had not fairly presented itself until now. The whole tendency of Governor Pattison's administration has been toward the climax he has now reached. Early in his Gubernatorial efforts, be found himself alienated from the dominant sentiment of his party, so far as mere political administration is involved, but he went right along and patiently and tirelessly formulated a State policy of his own that his party has been more than willing to accept. He took strong grounds with the Granger and Labor elements on the distinct issues they raised in the legislative policy of the State, and he has been steadily strengthening his policy as events developed which increased the power of the interests with which he made common cause, until now he believes that the time has come when the appressive pool system both in the production, transportation and sale of coal and in freights on railways can be absolutely and finally broken up.

There are many of the opinion that the present move has been made for political purposes only, and has no real significance, but the past actions of Governor Pattison will not confirm these insinuations, which undoubtedly eminate from personal and political enemies. He will, as a Democrat, support Black, and if his administration as the Chief Magistrate of the Keystone State, will in any way benefit his party, he is perfectly willing that it should be down several important opinions, among so; but his sole purpose is to establish them that of G. A. Godeharles vs. in the settled political and legislative Frank Weigeman, error to the Common future pool combinations which are used as a means of extorting money from the consumers of coal and the products of the agricultural districts. The facts that our Pennsylvania coal is furnished at lower prices to consumers in distant cities and States by the same combination that pools it at higher prices to our own people; that labor is entirely dependent upon the interests of the pool for employment, and that commerce is often seriously emparrassed by the uncertainty in freights, have all been carefully gathered and verified by Governor Pattison for many months, and the recent open pooling of the great Pennsylvania coal and railroad corporations to increase prices and diminish production. gave him the occasion he was awaiting. As the present Governor and Attorney General have about three months more of official power there is every reason to believe that the matter will be pushed at once, so as to make it compulsory for the next admistration to prosecute it to

STORE ORDERS LEGAL.

The State Supreme Court, which con vened at Pittsburg, Monday, handed policy of this State the impossibility of Pleas of Westmoreland county. This is a most important opinion, inasmuch as it declares unconstitutional the legislative act making the store-order system illegal. The opinion is handed down by Justice Gordon, who says:

The orders given by the defendant and resived by the plaintiff constitute a prope set-off. The first, second, third and four ections of the act of June 29, 1881, are utter y unconstitutional and vold, hasmuch as b hem an attempt has been made by the Leg slature to do what in this country cannot be me-that is, to prevent persons who ar SULTWARS from making their own contracts he not is an infringement alike of the right of the employer and employe; more that uly degrading to his manhood but subversiv if his right as a citizen of the United States ie may sell his labor for what he think est, for either money or goods, just as his apployer may sell his from or goods, and any and every law that proposes to prevent hin from so doing is an infringement of his con thational privileges; and, consequently icloss and void.
