—The temperance people of our sister borough, Lehighton, have organized a Prohibition Club and indications lead us to believe that they are meeting with more or less success. The possibility of the Prohibition party is rapidly becom-ing a FACT, one which the two leading parties must recognize; the Democracy with its usual freedom of action declare that no man's right shall be infringed so long as he carries himself within the jurisdiction of the laws governing our commonwealth. The license imposed upon the hotel keepers makes their business a legitimate one, so long as they obey the laws governing their par-ticular business, failure to do so, how-ever, makes them amenable to the laws of State and county. The Republican party, as the means of keeping in line a large number of dissatisfied voters, are willing to leave the question of Prohibi-tion to the vote of the people, to be de-cided upon at a special election, no Republican being committed thereby, as o how he shall vote, when such an election is held. The issue has been straidled too often, however, for the Prohibition element to be caught by either Republican or Democratic promises, and with a determination that por-—Miss Louisa Reichard, of Mauch Chunk, spent several days with Lehighton friends this week.

—The probably, of 50,000 to 75,000. The effect of this vote upon the old parties is evident—it will either make a Republican Beaver, the next Governor of Pennsylvania, by a very small majority, or will be the means of electing a black Democrat. Republicans, with their hopeful Cooper, are confident; Demo-crats, with the ever sanguine Hensel, are certain; Profibilitionist, with their are certain; Prohibitionists, with their Mrs. John Hauk, on Bank street.

—Mrs. Jacob Brownmiller, of town, spent several days last week with the "old folks at home" in Rockdale.

—Our young friend Clem. N. Kuntz, of this State, should, and will, poll a argely increased vote over that of prev-ous elections is concluded. Their issue s one for the advancement of the best interests of a common people, squarely and fairly, without any discussion of the need of a protective tariff or the advisability of a system of free trade to protect the interests of the laboring classes. They straddle no issue; they vote for Prohibition, and ask their neighbors to Prohibition, and ask their neighbors to do the same. The leaders predict for Prohibition the same successful result as the abolition of slavery. It may come now, and again it may not, but there is no use to attempt to disguise the fact that sooner or later Prohibition will come in to this State where a majority of 40,000 to 85,000 has always made Re-publicanism secure. Whether Prohibipublicanism secure. Whether Prohibition will prohibit when it does come, is questionable. The fact that it does not prohibit in Maine, Rhode Island, Jowa and ether Prohibition States is perhaps indicative of the effect that it will have tere. But the question has come.
