

Original Cheap Cash Store.

If You Want to Save Money... In buying Carpets don't fail to take a look at our Large Stock of Brussels, Three-Ply Extra Super Ingrains, Medium Super, Cotton Chams, etc. etc. Hall and Star Carpets and Carpet Borders.

We do Not Sell Carpets by cut

Samples as that is too expensive; but we cut and match carpets for any size room from large rolls, which we purchase direct from manufacturers, at a saving of 20 to 30 per cent.

You May Have (So Called)

Inducements offered you in the way of credit for 30 or 60 days; but you ever stop to think what you pay for such indulgence? Remember that 20 to 30 per cent. amounts to considerable in carrying a room or two.

By Paying Extravagant Prices

You are foolishly wasting your hard-earned money, which should not be thoughtlessly squandered.

J. T. NUSBAUM

Opposite Public Square, Bank Street, Lehighton, June 7, 1887.

The Carbon Advocate

SATURDAY, APRIL 30, 1887.

SPECIAL NOTICE—Persons making payments to this office by money order or postal note will please make them payable to the Editor of the Carbon Advocate, Lehighton, Pa.

Current Events Epitomized.

Hazleton wants a silk mill. They all use the Tullip Soap. Victor Bowman's advertisement on first page.

Freeland, Luzerne county, will probably have a daily paper. Frank O. Acker will erect a two story double frame dwelling house on South street.

Our old friend Moses Reberg of Lehigh street, drives the most handsome stepper in this section. The school board and town council will convene in regular monthly meeting Monday evening.

Go to Mrs. Roderer, under the Exchange Hotel, for a smooth shave and a fashionable hair cut. There is absolutely no adulteration in the Tullip Soap, therefore it is the cheapest soap for laundry, bath or toilet.

If your watch or clock don't run correctly, take it to Hagaman, on Bank street, and if it then fails to keep time he will make no charge. March 20—6th. Lumber and coal yard for rent. Location good. Will be rented on easy terms.

Stock on hand for sale. Apply at Gabel's Hardware store, Bank street. A good coat maker and several good hands on pants can find constant employment by applying at the tailoring establishment of H. H. Peters, Lehighton, Pa.

Carpets—Brussels and Ingrains, the largest assortment in town to select from and at prices that defy competition, at Kemmerer Swartz's Furniture Warerooms, Bank street.

Matthias Uhl, lager brewer at Bethlehem, died last Friday night, of pneumonia. He was born in Baden, Germany, on February 22, 1830, and came to America in 1856.

The personal property of A. J. Litznerberger, recently deceased, who was sheriff and will be sold on the 3rd proximo. The stock consists of farming machinery, general hardware, &c.

Our popular express man, Jeff Bretnov, is doing a rushing business. If you have anything you wish to take to or from the depot inform Jeff and he will attend to it at a very reasonable price.

The summer festival of the Methodist Episcopal Church, known as Children's Day, and looking forward to with so much interest by the little folks, will this year be celebrated on Sunday, June 12th.

For the week ending on the 23rd inst., there were 97,657 tons of coal shipped over the L. & S. R. R. a total of 4,144,123 tons, showing a decrease as compared with same date last year of 20,647 tons.

Moses Reberg, on Lehigh street, has for sale a lot of sound grade arbor poles and posts; parties desiring anything in this line will do well to give him a call before purchasing elsewhere.

Joseph DeFrehn, of Bank street, has announced himself as a candidate for the nomination of Reberg, in the county, and Joe has many friends in the county who will make his canvass for the office a lively one.

For the week ending April 23, there were 148,200 tons of coal shipped over the Lehigh Valley railroad, making a total of 2,812,986 tons, and showing an increase of 276,815 tons compared with same date last year.

Female Help Wanted—Thousands of shop girls and assistants who suffer from Weak Back and side ache to apply a Hop Plaster and note the immediate relief. Strengthens and braces up the weak parts. Sold everywhere. 25 cts.

The attention of the people of Summit Hill, Lansford and vicinity is directed to the fact that George F. Huntzinger, of the popular Switchback Restaurant, is authorized by us to receive subscriptions and moneys for the CARBON ADVOCATE.

The total number of students enrolled in the West Chester State Normal School is three hundred and seventy-two, of which Carbon county furnishes five, as follows: Miss E. Little Arner and J. P. Fryman, New Mahoning; W. G. Davis, Ardmore; U. S. Koons, Weissport; Miss Katie Sharp, Trexler.

Miss Emily Hogen, opposite the Central Carriage Works, Bank street, Lehighton, is prepared to do dressmaking in the latest fashion, at reasonable prices. Cutting done by rule, which is a great saving in material. The best work and the most perfect fit is guaranteed in every case. A share of the ladies' patronage is respectfully solicited.

Sometimes ago Ambrose Shriver, of Gowen, Luzerne county, committed an outrageous and most brutal assault upon the person of a young and innocent girl in that place. Last Saturday it was announced by Judge Rice at Wilkes-Barre, to pay a fine of $100 and serve an imprisonment of seven years—solitary confinement and hard labor—in the Eastern penitentiary.

O. W. Snyder, D. V. S., late of Lynnville, Penna., and for several years in successful practice at that place with his brother, Dr. Elias Snyder, has opened an office at the Madison House, Lehighton, where he will be pleased to wait upon all who may desire assistance in the Veterinary Art. Dr. Snyder is a Graduate of the Ontario Veterinary College, Toronto, Canada. He devotes his entire attention to the treatment of all Diseases which are prevalent among Domesticated Animals. Castration performed with the Ecraseur. If desired, all other Operations skillfully performed. All calls by mail, telegraph or otherwise will be promptly attended to.

OUR STROLLER AT WEISSPORT.

Interesting Items Picked Up and Assorted by the Stroller.

The borough of Weissport is free from debt. Bernard Yost left for Philadelphia on Tuesday where he has a position in view.

Old Mother Grundy informs us that a grand wedding will take place in town shortly. Ash Yeakel manipulates lightning in the Lehigh Valley Railroad office at Bowmanstown.

The Weissport House is undergoing a number of extensive and important improvements. The fruit crop, it is predicted, will be abundantly large.

George Kerker was killed at Wilkes-Barre Saturday night. Your attention is directed to Reber's Department. Read it.

The people of Weissport want their streets cleaned and lighted. Dandelion is a favorite dish with many. It can be gathered now.

Weatherly young folks indulged in a "donkey" party recently. Progressive White Haven is to have a co-operative general store.

Postmaster Kindt, of Shenandoah, is short in his accounts $1,300. The handsome picture cards we have ever seen are given with Tullip Soap.

Phillip Miller has had his residence on Northampton street nicely repaired. Two Wilkes-Barre lawyers exchanged pistol shots during a quarrel recently.

John Goldbach is erecting a frame dwelling house on Northampton street. The best laundry soap in the world is the Tullip Soap. Try a quarter's worth.

John Gomersy has erected a neat iron fence in front of his Bank street residence. Decoration Day—May 30th. Efforts should be made for its proper observance here.

A three-year-old child of a Mrs. Welsh, residing at Seranton was burned to death Tuesday. The Evangelical residents of Lansford will erect a church edifice during the coming summer.

Schnykill county has four candidates for the office of county superintendent of public schools. Baby carriages, in rear and rattle, at Kemmerer & Swartz's Furniture Warerooms, on Bank street.

The Pennsylvania State champion of the P. O. S. of A., will be held in Mauch Chunk, on August 11. Edward Rehl, aged sixty years, was found dead in the mountains near Shenandoah one day last week.

Plymouth, Luzerne county, was visited by a $60,000 fire Saturday. Plymouth is without a water supply. The lovers of base ball would like to see or hear more concerning the Carbon County Base Ball League.

Building lots in West Bethlehem which were purchased for $250 a year or two ago, were sold last week for $450. Lansford is to have another school building; $2,000 has been paid for a lot upon which it will be erected.

The wife of Rev. J. Ditzler, of Annaville, Berks county, cut her throat with a razor late Saturday night. She will not die. Thirty-one new members were admitted into the Reformed church at Summit Hill recently by the right of confirmation.

James Walp is laying a substantial stone pavement in front of his store and residence on Bank street. Others should follow suit.

There were seven hundred and fifty-five applications for hotel and saloon licenses at the Luzerne county Court this week. All but forty were granted.

For a smooth shave and a fine hair cut go to Evans's shaving saloon, opposite the Advocate office. Choice cigars and tobacco always on hand. Call!

Fred Miller, residing on Bankway, while working at the stove foundry Monday, had the misfortune to fracture his left leg between the knee and ankle.

The bondsmen of B. J. Evans, the Banks township defaulter, must make good his delinquency. They have not instituted proceedings against him thus far.

Don't miss having your pictures taken. French Peas being taken and finished in ten minutes at Bohler Bros., gallery, opposite Public Square on Lehigh street.

Robert Hogen, of town, has come into possession of a gun of antiquity in the shape of an old "fat kid." The lamp is valuable as a curiosity—being over one hundred years old.

George Huntzinger's popular Switchback Restaurant, at Summit Hill, has been re-papered and painted. George is evidently preparing for the big rush during the coming season.

Ambrose Phinley, a married man of Hutton, was last Saturday sentenced to seven years imprisonment in the Eastern Penitentiary for criminally assaulting a fourteen-year-old girl.

Administrators sale of valuable personal property, including hay, straw, farming machinery, etc., will take place on the premises of Michael Reberg, dec'd, in Mahoning township, Saturday, May 7th.

An Italian wench entered the home of a neighbor at Hazleton Saturday and attempted to outrage a three-year-old girl. The brute was promptly arrested and lodged in jail. This wench should be summarily and justly dealt with.

Samuel D. Connor, a step-son of Gen. Wm. Lilly, of Mauch Chunk, suicided at Philadelphia Friday. Deceased was well-known in this section. He served in the late war. The remains were interred in the family vault at Mauch Chunk.

Now is the time for CHEAP WALL PAPER as we are offering over half of our entire stock of Wall Paper and Borders at one-half and some less than half the usual price. Do not miss this offer. E. F. LOCKENBACH, 61 Broadway, Mauch Chunk.

Don't fail to attend the Free Art Exhibition of decorative work done at the Davis Vertical Feed Sewing Machine, at the store of J. T. Nusbaum, on Thursday and Friday, the 5th and 6th of May—ending on evening, 6th and 7th of May—Ag't.

A State convention of the Patriotic Order Daughters of America, convened at Mahanoy City on the 28th inst. There are five camps of this order in the State—it being a comparatively new society. It has bright prospects however. The convention was well attended.

A good quality of celluloid is now made from potatoes. Before long we shall hear of hard wood buttons being made out of potato tubers. But you will never hear of a girl refusing to take a ride in one of David Ebert's fancy rigs. Livery on North street. Terms very low.

Just received from Boston, an immense stock of the genuine Knight of Labor Shoes, which we are selling at $2.50 and $3. Warranted solid leather. Claus & Bro., the Tailors, sole agents for Carbon county. Our stock of hand-made shoes cannot be beat by any dealer in the county.

THE SUPERINTENDENT. BANS, April 29, 1887. I have read with much interest the many communications in the various papers in regard to the County Superintendency. A great deal has been said on the subject pro and con, but much more could yet be said.

I have refrained from giving my views before, but feel that I ought to attest my knowledge of one of the candidates. I have known Prof. J. L. Pottelger, of the Weatherly schools a number of years and know some of his qualifications. I know that in scholarship he is the equal, if not the superior of the other candidates. He is courteous and gentlemanly in his intercourse with all men. While he is quiet and reserved, he has good executive and administrative ability. In short, possesses all the requisite qualifications to make a careful, impartial, firm and thoughtful superintendent.

His school work in this county stands admittedly as the very highest; and he is constantly developing new strength. We see a good example of his helpful power in the Institute pamphlet which has been published for the last three years. The publication of the proceedings of the County Institute in this form was his idea, and all that part of the work concerns the Institute was his work for the first and second years of its publication. Last year the work was done by Prof. Bevan and himself. This publication has been of very great service to the teachers in preserving, in such convenient form, the instruction given at the County Institute.

Then, too, the benefit of dividing the Institute into sections is, to a large extent, due to his advocacy of it for a year or more before it was adopted. In his opening address at Lehighton, last fall a year ago, Prof. Pottelger urged the benefit and importance of doing part of the Institute work in this manner. His ideas on this matter were by referring to the Institute Proceedings of 1885, I see, inserted in the last issue of the "Pamphlet" by Prof. Snyder's clipping from a contemporary paper attributing the origin of the idea to the county superintendent. The paper that first published it may have been mistaken in its information, but Prof. Snyder, who inserted it, could not have been. With due deference to our superintendent, I must say this is hardly honest or honorable. "Honor to whom honor is due."

In teaching and school supervision, Prof. Pottelger is no novice. He has held many important positions and is holding now a responsible position. There much of his time is given to supervising the work of the teachers. He has taught in almost all grades of work from primary and ungraded to high school, and knows the essentials of good work in all grades. He has within the last few years visited and studied the school system of Hazleton, Tamaqua, Reading and Philadelphia. He is therefore capable of judging the work of a school-room accurately and of making broad comparisons.

In view of the things I should say that Prof. Pottelger is eminently qualified for the position, and his thorough, careful, and conscientious work in the positions he has held is abundant assurance as to the manner he would fulfill the duties of superintendent. TEACHER.

LEHIGHTON, April 28, '87. Mr. Editor: In a few days the school directors of Carbon county will be called upon to elect a proper person as county superintendent of schools for the next three years. A good deal has been said and written on this subject and it is a sad fact, that nearly all the teachers, directors and patrons of the schools, who have written articles for the paper, have expressed themselves as opposed to the re-election of the present incumbent. I know of only one teacher who has taken up the cause of the present superintendent and, judging from his writings, he, evidently, writes for the pleasure it affords him to see his productions in print. A man that comes from a social position, should wait until he is sufficiently demonstrated before he makes our atmosphere hideous with his brags.

The State Superintendent's comments on the law, in regard to the eligibility of a person for the county superintendency, should leave the present incumbent without a single supporter for re-election. Is the present superintendent a model of a true teacher? Is he pre-occupied by self-seeking and philanthropic spirit, and with what characterized the great teacher, Pestalozzi, whose pattern we should emulate, and whose first and last thought was how he might raise the debased and suffering among his countrymen to a higher level of happiness and knowledge, by bestowing upon them the blessings of education? I am told that professional politicians have been working for a certain candidate. This is a really state of things for the county. It is a sad state of things, but it is a state of things, and the candidate who solicits you to vote for him because he belongs to a certain political party, or because he has shown you several favors, thereby, simply confesses that he is not worthy of your vote. Presentment fitness for the position is the only consideration for which votes should be solicited. The fatal foe that threatens the schools is politics. The question of moment in filling a position is not of party, but of the candidate who has that which is the most valuable, a mother eating her own offspring; a man who is not content with the present, but who is constantly enacting, in the people create the schools, and then in turn denounce them. We ask the directors to leave politics entirely out of the question in filling the highest office within their gift. Ask yourselves this question, is there a teacher among the candidates who is eminently qualified for the position and who will devote his whole time to the duties of the office, and who will not be a "hobby-horse" for any party? Philip of Macedon thanked the gods, and said that he was born to be a king, and that he was not content with the present, but who is constantly enacting, in the people create the schools, and then in turn denounce them. We ask the directors to leave politics entirely out of the question in filling the highest office within their gift. Ask yourselves this question, is there a teacher among the candidates who is eminently qualified for the position and who will devote his whole time to the duties of the office, and who will not be a "hobby-horse" for any party? Philip of Macedon thanked the gods, and said that he was born to be a king, and that he was not content with the present, but who is constantly enacting, in the people create the schools, and then in turn denounce them. We ask the directors to leave politics entirely out of the question in filling the highest office within their gift. Ask yourselves this question, is there a teacher among the candidates who is eminently qualified for the position and who will devote his whole time to the duties of the office, and who will not be a "hobby-horse" for any party? Philip of Macedon thanked the gods, and said that he was born to be a king, and that he was not content with the present, but who is constantly enacting, in the people create the schools, and then in turn denounce them. We ask the directors to leave politics entirely out of the question in filling the highest office within their gift. Ask yourselves this question, is there a teacher among the candidates who is eminently qualified for the position and who will devote his whole time to the duties of the office, and who will not be a "hobby-horse" for any party? Philip of Macedon thanked the gods, and said that he was born to be a king, and that he was not content with the present, but who is constantly enacting, in the people create the schools, and then in turn denounce them. We ask the directors to leave politics entirely out of the question in filling the highest office within their gift. Ask yourselves this question, is there a teacher among the candidates who is eminently qualified for the position and who will devote his whole time to the duties of the office, and who will not be a "hobby-horse" for any party? Philip of Macedon thanked the gods, and said that he was born to be a king, and that he was not content with the present, but who is constantly enacting, in the people create the schools, and then in turn denounce them. We ask the directors to leave politics entirely out of the question in filling the highest office within their gift. Ask yourselves this question, is there a teacher among the candidates who is eminently qualified for the position and who will devote his whole time to the duties of the office, and who will not be a "hobby-horse" for any party? Philip of Macedon thanked the gods, and said that he was born to be a king, and that he was not content with the present, but who is constantly enacting, in the people create the schools, and then in turn denounce them. We ask the directors to leave politics entirely out of the question in filling the highest office within their gift. Ask yourselves this question, is there a teacher among the candidates who is eminently qualified for the position and who will devote his whole time to the duties of the office, and who will not be a "hobby-horse" for any party? Philip of Macedon thanked the gods, and said that he was born to be a king, and that he was not content with the present, but who is constantly enacting, in the people create the schools, and then in turn denounce them. We ask the directors to leave politics entirely out of the question in filling the highest office within their gift. Ask yourselves this question, is there a teacher among the candidates who is eminently qualified for the position and who will devote his whole time to the duties of the office, and who will not be a "hobby-horse" for any party? Philip of Macedon thanked the gods, and said that he was born to be a king, and that he was not content with the present, but who is constantly enacting, in the people create the schools, and then in turn denounce them. We ask the directors to leave politics entirely out of the question in filling the highest office within their gift. Ask yourselves this question, is there a teacher among the candidates who is eminently qualified for the position and who will devote his whole time to the duties of the office, and who will not be a "hobby-horse" for any party? Philip of Macedon thanked the gods, and said that he was born to be a king, and that he was not content with the present, but who is constantly enacting, in the people create the schools, and then in turn denounce them. We ask the directors to leave politics entirely out of the question in filling the highest office within their gift. Ask yourselves this question, is there a teacher among the candidates who is eminently qualified for the position and who will devote his whole time to the duties of the office, and who will not be a "hobby-horse" for any party? Philip of Macedon thanked the gods, and said that he was born to be a king, and that he was not content with the present, but who is constantly enacting, in the people create the schools, and then in turn denounce them. We ask the directors to leave politics entirely out of the question in filling the highest office within their gift. Ask yourselves this question, is there a teacher among the candidates who is eminently qualified for the position and who will devote his whole time to the duties of the office, and who will not be a "hobby-horse" for any party? Philip of Macedon thanked the gods, and said that he was born to be a king, and that he was not content with the present, but who is constantly enacting, in the people create the schools, and then in turn denounce them. We ask the directors to leave politics entirely out of the question in filling the highest office within their gift. Ask yourselves this question, is there a teacher among the candidates who is eminently qualified for the position and who will devote his whole time to the duties of the office, and who will not be a "hobby-horse" for any party? Philip of Macedon thanked the gods, and said that he was born to be a king, and that he was not content with the present, but who is constantly enacting, in the people create the schools, and then in turn denounce them. We ask the directors to leave politics entirely out of the question in filling the highest office within their gift. Ask yourselves this question, is there a teacher among the candidates who is eminently qualified for the position and who will devote his whole time to the duties of the office, and who will not be a "hobby-horse" for any party? Philip of Macedon thanked the gods, and said that he was born to be a king, and that he was not content with the present, but who is constantly enacting, in the people create the schools, and then in turn denounce them. We ask the directors to leave politics entirely out of the question in filling the highest office within their gift. Ask yourselves this question, is there a teacher among the candidates who is eminently qualified for the position and who will devote his whole time to the duties of the office, and who will not be a "hobby-horse" for any party? Philip of Macedon thanked the gods, and said that he was born to be a king, and that he was not content with the present, but who is constantly enacting, in the people create the schools, and then in turn denounce them. We ask the directors to leave politics entirely out of the question in filling the highest office within their gift. Ask yourselves this question, is there a teacher among the candidates who is eminently qualified for the position and who will devote his whole time to the duties of the office, and who will not be a "hobby-horse" for any party? Philip of Macedon thanked the gods, and said that he was born to be a king, and that he was not content with the present, but who is constantly enacting, in the people create the schools, and then in turn denounce them. We ask the directors to leave politics entirely out of the question in filling the highest office within their gift. Ask yourselves this question, is there a teacher among the candidates who is eminently qualified for the position and who will devote his whole time to the duties of the office, and who will not be a "hobby-horse" for any party? Philip of Macedon thanked the gods, and said that he was born to be a king, and that he was not content with the present, but who is constantly enacting, in the people create the schools, and then in turn denounce them. We ask the directors to leave politics entirely out of the question in filling the highest office within their gift. Ask yourselves this question, is there a teacher among the candidates who is eminently qualified for the position and who will devote his whole time to the duties of the office, and who will not be a "hobby-horse" for any party? Philip of Macedon thanked the gods, and said that he was born to be a king, and that he was not content with the present, but who is constantly enacting, in the people create the schools, and then in turn denounce them. We ask the directors to leave politics entirely out of the question in filling the highest office within their gift. Ask yourselves this question, is there a teacher among the candidates who is eminently qualified for the position and who will devote his whole time to the duties of the office, and who will not be a "hobby-horse" for any party? Philip of Macedon thanked the gods, and said that he was born to be a king, and that he was not content with the present, but who is constantly enacting, in the people create the schools, and then in turn denounce them. We ask the directors to leave politics entirely out of the question in filling the highest office within their gift. Ask yourselves this question, is there a teacher among the candidates who is eminently qualified for the position and who will devote his whole time to the duties of the office, and who will not be a "hobby-horse" for any party? Philip of Macedon thanked the gods, and said that he was born to be a king, and that he was not content with the present, but who is constantly enacting, in the people create the schools, and then in turn denounce them. We ask the directors to leave politics entirely out of the question in filling the highest office within their gift. Ask yourselves this question, is there a teacher among the candidates who is eminently qualified for the position and who will devote his whole time to the duties of the office, and who will not be a "hobby-horse" for any party? Philip of Macedon thanked the gods, and said that he was born to be a king, and that he was not content with the present, but who is constantly enacting, in the people create the schools, and then in turn denounce them. We ask the directors to leave politics entirely out of the question in filling the highest office within their gift. Ask yourselves this question, is there a teacher among the candidates who is eminently qualified for the position and who will devote his whole time to the duties of the office, and who will not be a "hobby-horse" for any party? Philip of Macedon thanked the gods, and said that he was born to be a king, and that he was not content with the present, but who is constantly enacting, in the people create the schools, and then in turn denounce them. We ask the directors to leave politics entirely out of the question in filling the highest office within their gift. Ask yourselves this question, is there a teacher among the candidates who is eminently qualified for the position and who will devote his whole time to the duties of the office, and who will not be a "hobby-horse" for any party? Philip of Macedon thanked the gods, and said that he was born to be a king, and that he was not content with the present, but who is constantly enacting, in the people create the schools, and then in turn denounce them. We ask the directors to leave politics entirely out of the question in filling the highest office within their gift. Ask yourselves this question, is there a teacher among the candidates who is eminently qualified for the position and who will devote his whole time to the duties of the office, and who will not be a "hobby-horse" for any party? Philip of Macedon thanked the gods, and said that he was born to be a king, and that he was not content with the present, but who is constantly enacting, in the people create the schools, and then in turn denounce them. We ask the directors to leave politics entirely out of the question in filling the highest office within their gift. Ask yourselves this question, is there a teacher among the candidates who is eminently qualified for the position and who will devote his whole time to the duties of the office, and who will not be a "hobby-horse" for any party? Philip of Macedon thanked the gods, and said that he was born to be a king, and that he was not content with the present, but who is constantly enacting, in the people create the schools, and then in turn denounce them. We ask the directors to leave politics entirely out of the question in filling the highest office within their gift. Ask yourselves this question, is there a teacher among the candidates who is eminently qualified for the position and who will devote his whole time to the duties of the office, and who will not be a "hobby-horse" for any party? Philip of Macedon thanked the gods, and said that he was born to be a king, and that he was not content with the present, but who is constantly enacting, in the people create the schools, and then in turn denounce them. We ask the directors to leave politics entirely out of the question in filling the highest office within their gift. Ask yourselves this question, is there a teacher among the candidates who is eminently qualified for the position and who will devote his whole time to the duties of the office, and who will not be a "hobby-horse" for any party? Philip of Macedon thanked the gods, and said that he was born to be a king, and that he was not content with the present, but who is constantly enacting, in the people create the schools, and then in turn denounce them. We ask the directors to leave politics entirely out of the question in filling the highest office within their gift. Ask yourselves this question, is there a teacher among the candidates who is eminently qualified for the position and who will devote his whole time to the duties of the office, and who will not be a "hobby-horse" for any party? Philip of Macedon thanked the gods, and said that he was born to be a king, and that he was not content with the present, but who is constantly enacting, in the people create the schools, and then in turn denounce them. We ask the directors to leave politics entirely out of the question in filling the highest office within their gift. Ask yourselves this question, is there a teacher among the candidates who is eminently qualified for the position and who will devote his whole time to the duties of the office, and who will not be a "hobby-horse" for any party? Philip of Macedon thanked the gods, and said that he was born to be a king, and that he was not content with the present, but who is constantly enacting, in the people create the schools, and then in turn denounce them. We ask the directors to leave politics entirely out of the question in filling the highest office within their gift. Ask yourselves this question, is there a teacher among the candidates who is eminently qualified for the position and who will devote his whole time to the duties of the office, and who will not be a "hobby-horse" for any party? Philip of Macedon thanked the gods, and said that he was born to be a king, and that he was not content with the present, but who is constantly enacting, in the people create the schools, and then in turn denounce them. We ask the directors to leave politics entirely out of the question in filling the highest office within their gift. Ask yourselves this question, is there a teacher among the candidates who is eminently qualified for the position and who will devote his whole time to the duties of the office, and who will not be a "hobby-horse" for any party? Philip of Macedon thanked the gods, and said that he was born to be a king, and that he was not content with the present, but who is constantly enacting, in the people create the schools, and then in turn denounce them. We ask the directors to leave politics entirely out of the question in filling the highest office within their gift. Ask yourselves this question, is there a teacher among the candidates who is eminently qualified for the position and who will devote his whole time to the duties of the office, and who will not be a "hobby-horse" for any party? Philip of Macedon thanked the gods, and said that he was born to be a king, and that he was not content with the present, but who is constantly enacting, in the people create the schools, and then in turn denounce them. We ask the directors to leave politics entirely out of the question in filling the highest office within their gift. Ask yourselves this question, is there a teacher among the candidates who is eminently qualified for the position and who will devote his whole time to the duties of the office, and who will not be a "hobby-horse" for any party? Philip of Macedon thanked the gods, and said that he was born to be a king, and that he was not content with the present, but who is constantly enacting, in the people create the schools, and then in turn denounce them. We ask the directors to leave politics entirely out of the question in filling the highest office within their gift. Ask yourselves this question, is there a teacher among the candidates who is eminently qualified for the position and who will devote his whole time to the duties of the office, and who will not be a "hobby-horse" for any party? Philip of Macedon thanked the gods, and said that he was born to be a king, and that he was not content with the present, but who is constantly enacting, in the people create the schools, and then in turn denounce them. We ask the directors to leave politics entirely out of the question in filling the highest office within their gift. Ask yourselves this question, is there a teacher among the candidates who is eminently qualified for the position and who will devote his whole time to the duties of the office, and who will not be a "hobby-horse" for any party? Philip of Macedon thanked the gods, and said that he was born to be a king, and that he was not content with the present, but who is constantly enacting, in the people create the schools, and then in turn denounce them. We ask the directors to leave politics entirely out of the question in filling the highest office within their gift. Ask yourselves this question, is there a teacher among the candidates who is eminently qualified for the position and who will devote his whole time to the duties of the office, and who will not be a "hobby-horse" for any party? Philip of Macedon thanked the gods, and said that he was born to be a king, and that he was not content with the present, but who is constantly enacting, in the people create the schools, and then in turn denounce them. We ask the directors to leave politics entirely out of the question in filling the highest office within their gift. Ask yourselves this question, is there a teacher among the candidates who is eminently qualified for the position and who will devote his whole time to the duties of the office, and who will not be a "hobby-horse" for any party? Philip of Macedon thanked the gods, and said that he was born to be a king, and that he was not content with the present, but who is constantly enacting, in the people create the schools, and then in turn denounce them. We ask the directors to leave politics entirely out of the question in filling the highest office within their gift. Ask yourselves this question, is there a teacher among the candidates who is eminently qualified for the position and who will devote his whole time to the duties of the office, and who will not be a "hobby-horse" for any party? Philip of Macedon thanked the gods, and said that he was born to be a king, and that he was not content with the present, but who is constantly enacting, in the people create the schools, and then in turn denounce them. We ask the directors to leave politics entirely out of the question in filling the highest office within their gift. Ask yourselves this question, is there a teacher among the candidates who is eminently qualified for the position and who will devote his whole time to the duties of the office, and who will not be a "hobby-horse" for any party? Philip of Macedon thanked the gods, and said that he was born to be a king, and that he was not content with the present, but who is constantly enacting, in the people create the schools, and then in turn denounce them. We ask the directors to leave politics entirely out of the question in filling the highest office within their gift. Ask yourselves this question, is there a teacher among the candidates who is eminently qualified for the position and who will devote his whole time to the duties of the office, and who will not be a "hobby-horse" for any party? Philip of Macedon thanked the gods, and said that he was born to be a king, and that he was not content with the present, but who is constantly enacting, in the people create the schools, and then in turn denounce them. We ask the directors to leave politics entirely out of the question in filling the highest office within their gift. Ask yourselves this question, is there a teacher among the candidates who is eminently qualified for the position and who will devote his whole time to the duties of the office, and who will not be a "hobby-horse" for any party? Philip of Macedon thanked the gods, and said that he was born to be a king, and that he was not content with the present, but who is constantly enacting, in the people create the schools, and then in turn denounce them. We ask the directors to leave politics entirely out of the question in filling the highest office within their gift. Ask yourselves this question, is there a teacher among the candidates who is eminently qualified for the position and who will devote his whole time to the duties of the office, and who will not be a "hobby-horse" for any party? Philip of Macedon thanked the gods, and said that he was born to be a king, and that he was not content with the present, but who is constantly enacting, in the people create the schools, and then in turn denounce them. We ask the directors to leave politics entirely out of the question in filling the highest office within their gift. Ask yourselves this question, is there a teacher among the candidates who is eminently qualified for the position and who will devote his whole time to the duties of the office, and who will not be a "hobby-horse" for any party? Philip of Macedon thanked the gods, and said that he was born to be a king, and that he was not content with the present, but who is constantly enacting, in the people create the schools, and then in turn denounce them. We ask the directors to leave politics entirely out of the question in filling the highest office within their gift. Ask yourselves this question, is there a teacher among the candidates who is eminently qualified for the position and who will devote his whole time to the duties of the office, and who will not be a "hobby-horse" for any party? Philip of Macedon thanked the gods, and said that he was born to be a king, and that he was not content with the present, but who is constantly enacting, in the people create the schools, and then in turn denounce them. We ask the directors to leave politics entirely out of the question in filling the highest office within their gift. Ask yourselves this question, is there a teacher among the candidates who is eminently qualified for the position and who will devote his whole time to the duties of the office, and who will not be a "hobby-horse" for any party? Philip of Macedon thanked the gods, and said that he was born to be a king, and that he was not content with the present, but who is constantly enacting, in the people create the schools, and then in turn denounce them. We ask the directors to leave politics entirely out of the question in filling the highest office within their gift. Ask yourselves this question, is there a teacher among the candidates who is eminently qualified for the position and who will devote his whole time to the duties of the office, and who will not be a "hobby-horse" for any party? Philip of Macedon thanked the gods, and said that he was born to be a king, and that he was not content with the present, but who is constantly enacting, in the people create the schools, and then in turn denounce them. We ask the directors to leave politics entirely out of the question in filling the highest office within their gift. Ask yourselves this question, is there a teacher among the candidates who is eminently qualified for the position and who will devote his whole time to the duties of the office, and who will not be a "hobby-horse" for any party? Philip of Macedon thanked the gods, and said that he was born to be a king, and that he was not content with the present, but who is constantly enacting, in the people create the schools, and then in turn denounce them. We ask the directors to leave politics entirely out of the question in filling the highest office within their gift. Ask yourselves this question, is there a teacher among the candidates who is eminently qualified for the position and who will devote his whole time to the duties of the office, and who will not be a "hobby-horse" for any party? Philip of Macedon thanked the gods, and said that he was born to be a king, and that he was not content with the present, but who is constantly enacting, in the people create the schools, and then in turn denounce them. We ask the directors to leave politics entirely out of the question in filling the highest office within their gift. Ask yourselves this question, is there a teacher among the candidates who is eminently qualified for the position and who will devote his whole time to the duties of the office, and who will not be a "hobby-horse" for any party? Philip of Macedon thanked the gods, and said that he was born to be a king, and that he was not content with the present, but who is constantly enacting, in the people create the schools, and then in turn denounce them. We ask the directors to leave