W. H. Wood, of town, an employee in the Packer's store, and the fingers of his left hand severely lacerated one day recently.

The Lehigh Wagon Works this week put in their weekly business, and were able to better facilitate their largely increased trade.

A hard looking set of traps were loitering about town last week. The best way to get rid of them is to refuse them entirely. They must go.

To our mechanical and farmer friends throughout the Valley: Remember the clock in many Pennsylvania towns.

We notice by our exchanges that Abbe's Uncle Tom's Cabin Troupe is again making the rounds. Our towns, however, doubtless remember them so we need no comment.

It is reported that a girl, by the name of Sarah Maize, of Stratford, attempted suicide recently owing to an unfortunate love affair. This is a cold world for sentimentality.

The temperance people are looking out for a violation of the liquor law. Every body interested should bear this fact in mind as a prosecution will follow every violation.

The grand rally at the Carbon House Saturday evening passed off very quietly. Columbia Hom and William Heberling carried off the prizes—each securing a fine doublet.

Township supervisors should bear in mind that the law specifies that they should keep in good condition the roads, bridges and the town's affairs.
