

FRANK P. DIEHL,

LANCELL'S ASTHMA CATARRH

Having struggled 20 years between life and cath with Astrima or Patritistic, treated by minent physicians, and receiving no benefit, I was compelled during the last 5 years of my filmess to sit on my chair day and night gasping for breath. My sufferings were beyond description. In despair I experimented on myself by compounding roots and herbs and inhuling the medicine thus obtained. I fortunately discovered this WONDERFUL CURE FOR ASTIMA AND CATARIAH, warranted to relieve the most simborn case of ASTIMA in FIVE MINUTES, so that the patient can lie down to test and sleep comfortably. Flease read the following contensed extracts from insolicited testimonials, all of recent date:

cent date:
Oliver V. R. Holmes, San Jose, Cal., writes.
"I find the remedy all and even more than repcescaled. I receive instantaneous relief."
E. M. Carson, A. M., Warren, Kan., writes.
"Was treated by entinent physicians of this country and Germany: tried the chunate of different states—nothing afforded relief like your preparation."

states—nothing afforded rener use you per state.

L. B. Phelps, P. M., Griggs, Ohio, writes: "Sufered with Asthma 49 years. Your medicine in minutes does more for me than the most eminent physician did for me in three years."

H. C. Plimpton, Joliet, Ill., writes: "Send Catarrh Remedy at once. Cannot get along without it. I find it to be one of the most valuable medicines! have ever tried."

We have many other hearty testimonials of oure or reliet, and in order that all sufferers from Asthma, Catarrh, Hay Fever, and kindred diseases may have an opportunity of testing the Asthma, Catarra, Hay Fever, and kindred diseases may have an opportunity of testing the value of the Remedy we will send to any address TRIAL PACKAGE FREE OF CHARGE. Nitroyen Manerao S COMMERCIAL PERTUIZERS AND THEI

ECONOMICAL APPLICATION TO THE SUIL Most elaborate experiments are yearly made in Great Britain, in relation to commercial fertilizers and their economica application to the soil. In many localities he question of commercial fertilizers is an portant ore. Many farmers err in sup posing that givin a certain amount of con mercial fertilizers available, farm-yard nanure may be dispensed with. This, nowever, is not the fact. There is large available nutrition in most soils if it locked up. Among the other constitue furnished by barn-yard manure is the hum us it furhishes to the soil, which under the action of heat, moisture and potash forms nitrates, the most costly material in agricul Blinds, Shutters, twe. In relation to the importance of deture. In relation to the importance of cay, a combustion of carbon and a format ion of carbonic acid, with liberation of heat, takes place in the soil, analogous t that which occurs when the food of animals undergoes a similar change. The result of these changes in the organic nitrogen of the soil, is the separation of the carbon and nitrogen, and the combination of the latter with hydrogen, formin ammonia, and with oxygen, forming nitric acid.

This uniting with potash forms nitrate of potash (salpeter), or with lime, nitrate of

An English journal states that, "When Dr. Voelcker and Mr. Jenkins made their report of the farming of Belgium, they remarked on the too exclusive use of sewage, and recommended the economy of replacing it with an occasional dose of nitrate of soda; and it is quite in keeping with this advice that the farmers in the neighborhood of Edinburgh, who use a large amount of own duug and seil rye grass, have found nitrate of soda a very valuable manure, on account of the large quantity of unused ninerals accumulated in the soil.

"Farm-yard manure yields minerals as well as nitrogen, and may be called on that account a universal manure. One hundred pounds of nitrate of soda contains about the same amount of nitrogen as a ton of good dung; but there is this difference between the two manures-the nitrate of of soda after yielding its nitrogen to to the OIL CLOT HS drop, only furnishes in addition soda, which has little value; whereas in the nitrification of the netrogen in the dung, there are about sixty-two pounds of mineral set free, includ ing twelve pounds of potash and eleven pounds of phosphoric acid. These figures are given by Sir John Lawes; but they vary according to the high or low feeding of the animals, the quantity of litter, and the fresh or rotten condition of the dung. Taking the case of ordinary farm-yard dung, Flour and Feed, Mr. Bernard Dyer finds that four loads, each weighling a too, contain forty-five pounds of nitrogen, twenty-six pounds of phosphoric acid, and forty-five pounds of potash."

Don't Experiment. You cannot afford to waste time in experi nenting when your lungs are in danger. Consumption always seems, at first only a old. Because he can make more profit he may tell you he has something just as good, or just the same. Fighting Insects. No subject deserves more attention at the hands of farmers, and of hort culturists in particular, than economic entomology, or the study of insect friends and enemies. Insect transformation and habits are not only interesting and wonderful, but they are of much practical use to the agriculturalist. Comparitively little is yet known Special inducements are ex- of the insect world, although most injurious and beneficial insects have been 'pretty tended to the managemennt of well studied. The careful and observing share of public patronage solicicides now in use are: Paris green, pyrethrum (Persian insect powder) white helicbore, whale-oil soap, carbolic acid, soft soap, kerosene oil and London purple. No todub preparations of various native plants will be found to be as effective in certain cases as in pyrethrum. Many plants are noxious to one or more species of insects. Decoctions made of barks and leaves are found in some cases to be excellent insecticides. The powdered heads of many daisylike plants should be tried. We would especially advise the trying of the common plant called fleabane (erigeron) Pyrethrum is made by powdering the heads of a closely-allied plant. We have known a decoction or ten to be made of tomato leaves, which gave surpristeg results.
