

"Original Cheap Cash Store."

CHRISTMAS

Four Weeks From To-Day.

We are ready for the holiday season with a superb stock of choice novelties. It has been conceded by all who have visited our store during the previous holiday seasons, that we always had the choicest as well as the largest collection of goods suitable for presents.

This year we have strived to surpass all former offerings and think we have succeeded in eclipsing anything we have heretofore shown. Remember, low prices prevail throughout our entire stock.

We Are Glad

Your eyes have fallen on our advertisement. What we desire to do in advertising, is to advise you of the fact, there is a wide difference between the new Sewing Machines we have recently brought out, and the machines of former make. In offering the New High-Arm Davis to the trade and the public, we present a first-class machine in respect—a machine, the appearance and merits of which command for it the immediate admiration which renders it easy to sell. The construction is the most simple. The decorations are elegant and artistic. The undeniable merit of the "Davis" is the secret of its success. In short, it possesses all the requisites that can be comprised in a first-class high arm Sewing Machine. We desire to establish wide-awake dealers in all unoccupied territory. If there is no dealer in your vicinity, write to the Davis Sewing Machine Co., Chicago, Ill.

—Henry Schwartz and O. A. Schwartz, of town, were in attendance at the Emblems annual gathering at Hazleton Monday.

—Miss Maggie Stecker, one of Statington's most accomplished young ladies, is visiting Misses Laura and Sallie Hofford, on Bank street, this week.

—Miss Emma Trainer, an estimable young lady of town, who has been sojourning with Philadelphia relatives and friends during the past several weeks, returned home Saturday.

—Rev. C. J. Cooper, of Allentown, was the guest of Rev. J. M. Kuder over Sunday. The reverend gentleman discoursed to a large audience in the Lutheran church Sunday evening.

The Burned Coal Breakers.

Investigation has thrown a light on the origin of the fire at Cox's Brothers & Co.'s Drifted coal breaker. Beneath the base of the plane where the fire began it has always been the habit of the workmen to throw their cotton waste, saturated with oil. Men were at work at this point late Friday night, and the large car that is used to hold the coal from the mine to the top of the breaker, and the supposition now is that a spark from one of their lamps fell on this oily waste, smoldered there for hours, and finally was fanned into a blaze, which quickly spread to the surrounding woodwork. This theory is now generally accepted, but some contend that it would not even have been necessary to have set fire to this oily waste by a spark from a naked lamp, as twice during the past year has this waste been discovered on fire at points in the machine shops, where it could not possibly have been reached by a spark.

There is, without doubt, a much better feeling to-day among all classes, and the theory of incendiarism is scarcely received anywhere.

An Eloquent Sermon.

On last Sabbath evening Rev. G. W. Gross, the highly esteemed pastor of the Evangelical church, preached a most powerful and eloquent sermon to the Jr. O. U. A. M., one of the most prosperous and influential secret orders of town. There were about sixty members of the lodge present, clothed in appropriate regalia, and they are to be congratulated on their fine display. Young America always does look fine when decked in the stripes and colors.

The discourse by the reverend gentleman was based on Judges VIII. 21. "For as a young man is to be brought up, so is a nation." For a propitiation of matter and vigor and force of style, as well as manner of execution, the sermon was a masterpiece such as is seldom if ever heard in Lehigh. We add a few outline thoughts from the sermon. A young man's strength is physical, intellectual and moral, and upon his strength depends his safety and welfare. The ancients paid divine homage to physical strength, but physical strength without intellectual and moral power are worth nothing from a Christian standpoint. Pope says, "The soul constitutes the man." Some men are weak. He then named some of the weaknesses of young men and presented a few thoughts under each head.

1. From inexperience; old men for counsel and young men for war. 2. From self-confidence; we must have strength from God. 3. From the predominance of passion over judgment, young men are exposed to dangers. 1. From improper places of resort; 2. from companions of this class; 3. from our literature; 4. from light literature. There is plenty of good. Means of defense were then presented as, 1. A good home; no country has such homes as America. 2. Industrious habits; some men try to live by their wits and build air castles to avoid work. 3. Self-reliance; help yourself. 4. Respect for the Sabbath. 5. A noble ideal, a good pattern. For this purpose read the biographies of great men like Franklin, Daniel, etc. 6. A plan in life. 7. Religion and religious principles. The sermon was a young man's life to take care of his soul. Seek ye first the kingdom of God. Every young man comes to a point where the road of life is forked; he must choose for himself; one road leads to happiness, the other to ruin. We must receive moral powers from God. The motto of the Jr. O. U. A. M. is Virtue, Liberty and Patriotism. It is a motto and would not hurt to have it inscribed in our churches. Nothing promotes these qualities like religion. No one in our world so firmly as those who were consecrated to God. The chief object of the lodge is the preservation, perpetuation of the institutions of this great Republic, our public school system and the Bible. The object is a very noble one. This country is blessed as no other country is; we love it; it is a proud nation. We are a nation of invention, discovery and growth. Our grandfathers of 40 years ago would not know us. Our country has great probabilities, but polygamy is an enemy, and so is rum. Strength of intellect is needed; much of the poor man's money goes for rum and luxuries. There is great responsibility as an American citizen; use the right with common sense. There are magnificent possibilities for an American citizen. Success depends on luck and luck is needed by us. We must make the most of it, and let your object be the salvation of your soul. Honor, virtue and integrity are needed by us. Polygamy implies principle as there is no virtue without principle, and be assured "as the young man is to be brought up, so is a nation." The pastor preached over an hour, there being very close attention throughout, and we believe it met with universal approval by all who heard it. The talented pastor will address the young men of this town and vicinity on Sabbath afternoon, at 3:30 p. m., in the room of the Y. M. C. A., in Wm. Kemmerer's building. All invited. C. W.

—Cast your eye over Sweeney's new ad.

—The annual grand ball of the Arion Cornet Band, passed off very enjoyably at the Exchange Hotel, Wednesday evening. Between thirty and forty couples enjoyed themselves highly until a late hour.

—The wife of G. D. Shiffert, of the Millport Hotel, recently presented her husband with a baby girl. Three days after birth the child was born broken. Dr. Kemmerer reduced the fracture and the child is doing well.

OUR STROLLER AT WEISSPORT.

Interesting Items picked Up and Assorted by the Stroller.

—George Trapp was on a trip to Buffalo, N. Y., this week.

—David Troche is now installed as a clerk in M. A. Laury's Corner Store.

—John Kruse painted Laury's Corner Store sign. That's all right, of course it is.

—P. J. Kletzer was in attendance at the U. S. court, at Philadelphia, as a juror, this week.

—Lillis M. Koons, our obliging postmaster, spent Sunday with friends at Allentown.

—Mrs. George Rapp, of White street, has the "Stroller" happy thanks for a basket of choice luxuries.

—If Wm. Hartman calls at the Advocate office he will receive, free of charge, valuable information.

—Chas. Gember, a manipulator of lightning at Allentown, circulated 'mongst friends here last Sunday.

—In the course of a few days the water will be drawn off the Lehigh Canal and Navigation Company's canal.

—The Mayor of this borough draws an annual salary of $20. And yet, they say Weissport is not assuming metropolitan airs.

—Hereafter parties sending the "Stroller" items for this department must sign their names to the same, not for publication but as a guarantee of good faith.

—This, the season of slush and mud, the benefit of the hour, extending from the Lehigh bridge to Yeaker's corner, becomes sufficiently apparent.

—We are sorry to note the illness of our old time friend B. F. Vogt, at present located in Philadelphia. We hope to chronicle his complete recovery at an early day.

—Andrew Graver carries always in stock a full and complete line of the latest and best styles of dry goods, notions, &c. Don't forget to call and learn prices before purchasing elsewhere.

—Gentlemen of the borough council, by request of numerous taxpayers we would call your attention to the importance of laying a crossing from Bier's drug store to the Weissport House. This is highly necessary and of course will receive your prompt attention, at least, we hope it will, and your names and deeds will live in ages when some of our poor rogues are dead.

—"That cat scrap" from Lehigh has been disposed of by Squire Boyer. A version of the affair was given by the "Stroller" to the Advocate readers several weeks ago when we stated that a Mrs. T. A. Snyder, of that borough, had been accused by Joseph Oert of having a hand in the disappearance of a pet cat from the latter's residence. We do not wish to moralize—nuff sed.

—A copy of the Weatherly Herald struck our way this week, from which we cut the following: "Henry Miller, one of the newly elected County Commissioners was born Jan. 1st 1821, in Korbhausen, Germany. His parents emigrated to this country in 1854 and young Henry worked at home and attended school until twelve years of age, when he was placed in the employ of the Lehigh Coal & Nav. Co. and worked for that company for two years—water carrier and mule driver. During 1855 and '67, while the Packerton car shops were building, he was employed on them by the L. V. R. R. Co. He then left for Allentown and there learned the butchering trade, returning to Weissport in 1870. This business he followed, running a wagon to East Mauch Chunk, until 1880. On September 1st, 1885 he became proprietor of the Weissport planing mill and is now devoting his whole time and attention to its interests. Mr. Miller is held in high esteem in the community in which he resides as a man of honor and integrity and of good business qualifications. He will use every endeavor faithfully and impartially to discharge all the duties of the office to which he has been chosen.

Interesting Sermon in West Penn.

An interesting Muhlenberg memorial and mission festival was held in Stone Church, West Penn. last Sunday, Nov. 20. In the morning Rev. C. J. Cooper, of Allentown, presented a sketch of the life and work of the sainted patriarch of the Lutheran church in America—Rev. Henry Melchior Muhlenberg. In the afternoon Rev. J. H. Kuder preached on the duty of being actively engaged in mission work. The collections for the day were given towards the completion of the endowment of the Seminary in Muhlenberg College. The collections thus far for this object amount to $8,000.00. Rev. Wm. H. Strauss the pastor, has succeeded in arousing quite an interest in the above named congregation. During the summer a Mission Society was organized, which numbers almost one hundred members and which has raised since its organization about as many dollars.

THE HIGH HAT AND BUSTLE WILL STAY.

Ed. ADVOCATE: A presumably somewhat antiquated contributor to your columns in last week's issue severely condemns the wearers of bustles and high hats maintaining in effect that they being fashionable follies (?) are productive of immoral tendencies. I fall to agree with the anti-high-hat-bustle individual. The bustle, for instance, lends a graceful contour to the human form, hides defects of nature, and is a support for the heavy female garments, which, if bearing upon the form, would be fatiguing in the extreme. Eminent writers, men of vast intellectual attainments, claim that which lends grace and ease to the human form in matters of dress, is a benefit to mankind, and there certainly can be no denying the fact that dress has a vast influence upon the refining elements of man. As to the high hat, your correspondent displays a sickly prejudice. I doubt if it is more, in conforming to the article of wearing apparel, in vogue since the time of our forefathers. "J. Y." presumably is an individual with little taste, less refinement and in lack of the essential capacity of appreciation would make war on the beautiful and cultured leaders in the world of dress. In conclusion, "J. Y." be a man, drop sickly prejudices and join the Lehigh High Hat Brigade, composed of P. F. Clark, the jolly restaurateur; G. B. M. Stecker, C. F. Miller, T. W. Claus and the ADVOCATE editor. HIGH HAT.

Not in His List.

It is related of Dean Swift, that his amanuensis refused to help him out of a ditch into which he had been thrown, "because it was not in the list of instructions." Neither is it in our list, nor within the limits of the space at our disposal, to tell you of the great advantages of the New Davis Sewing Machine and its Vertical Feed, which is its distinctive feature. We can simply say that it is only necessary to see this new feed method, in order to appreciate and understand its great superiority. Call and see it at G. W. Nusbaum's.

LEHIGHTON, PA.

The Weekly Press, OF PHILADELPHIA, PA. $1.00 Subscription per Year. $1.00 The Best Home Paper in America.

This is not brag. It is a plain statement of an honest fact. Ordinarily the weekly issue of a daily paper is esteemed to be merely a digest of the week's news, suited alone for rural readers.

This is not true in reference to the Weekly Press.

It is specially edited by a trained corps of writers selected for the purpose of making the best paper.

It is adapted to the improvement and enjoyment of both sexes, of all ages, of every family whether a resident of the city, village or country.

Not a word of crime or impure suggestion in any part of the paper.

It is an old paper and carries its age and reputation equally well.

Now we are seeking a new and larger number of readers. As an inducement to this end the Weekly Press in connection with any four dollar magazine in America will be sent for the single subscription price of such magazine.

Or, on application, we will make a special combination of any two or more periodicals published in America, either weekly or monthly, in conjunction with the Weekly Press at such low rate as will be equivalent to a year's subscription to the Weekly Press free for one year.

We make this exceptional proposition in order that the Weekly Press may go on trial in a million households for an entire year. Sample copies furnished free on application. Address THE PRESS COMPANY, Limited, Philadelphia, Pa.

Catarrh in the Head

Catarrh is inflammation of the mucous membrane, attended with increased secretion. Thus catarrh may affect the head, throat, stomach, bowels, or any part of the body where the mucous membrane is found. But catarrh of the head is by far the most common, coming on so gradually that often its presence is not noticed until it has obtained a firm hold, or as it is combined with Hood's Sarsaparilla.

"I am happy to state that I used Hood's Sarsaparilla for catarrh, with which I have been troubled many years, and received great relief and benefit from it. The catarrh was very disagreeable, especially in the winter, causing constant discharge from my nostrils, tingling in my ears, and pains in the back of my head. The effort to clear my head in the morning by hawking and spitting was painful. My grocer advised me to try Hood's Sarsaparilla, and it gave me relief immediately, while in time I was entirely cured. I am never without the medicine in my house, as I think it is worth its weight in gold." Mrs. G. B. Ginn, 1029 Eighth Street, N. W., Washington, D. C.

"I have used Hood's Sarsaparilla for catarrh with very satisfactory results. I have received no permanent benefit from any other remedy I have ever tried." M. E. Read, of A. Read & Son, Washington, Ohio.

W. B. Do not be induced to take any other preparation, but be sure to get Hood's Sarsaparilla.

When firmly established, it causes excessive dryness of the nose, dryness of the appetite, roars in the ears, etc. It is found a prompt cathartic. It purifies, soothes and rebuilds.... and thus soon cures the disease. It refreshes and tones the system. The remarkable success medicine entitles it to your confidence. Give Hood's Sarsaparilla a trial.
