AS WE CLIP HUMOROSITIES.
 "I hope, teacher says everybody will tell the truth in heaven."
 "Yes, my darling."
 "And shall you go to heaven, papa?"
 "I hope so."
 (After reflection, "Well, p'raps there'll be some other way to know you."
 "Apposite (oh church door) Young man, won't you stop inside and join us in our glorious revival services?"
 Young Man—What church?
 "The Dutch Reformed."
 "No, I guess I won't go; it wouldn't do me any good. I don't understand a word of Dutch."
 Buckler's Arsenic Salve.
 The best salve in the world for cuts, bruises, sores, ulcers, salt rheum, fever sores, letter, chapped hands, chilblains, corns, and all skin eruptions, and positively cures piles, or no pay returned. It is guaranteed to give perfect satisfaction, or money refunded. Price 25c. per box, at Thomas'.
 —Father—Ain't you going to work?
 Lazy Son—Guess not.
 "I don't understand how anybody can loaf such weather as this. Why, it is a pleasure to work now."
 "I know it, but I don't want to give my self up too much much to mere enjoyment."
 —She—James, do you know you put three buttons on the plate in church to-day?
 He—I know what I was about.
 She—James, perhaps you don't know that I bought those buttons yesterday for my new dress and paid fifty cents apiece for them.

OF INTEREST TO FARMERS.

Winter care of Cows.
 The arrangement of the barn and yard should be such as to reduce the labor as much as possible. Excessive warmth is not conducive to robustness, health or profit. If a man's house is kept closed up and heated with stoves to a temperature of eighty degrees, and his food and drink are all taken hot with a view to preventing the effects of the cold and to insure comfort, the doers in that house will become sick or diseased; the immune air will poison the blood; the warmth will relax the skin, dry it and open the pores, and the slightest draft will cause a fit of sneezing and induce dangerous colds. It is in precisely such houses that sore throats, diphtheria, scarlet fever, and other diseases are so frequent, while in the house where the windows are thrown open to the breeze, and the cold, brist, pure air is welcomed, and exercise and health give warmth, fed by the abundant oxygen of the fresh air, the circulation of the blood, the health and vigor and contentment, it is the same in the dairy. Pleuro-pneumonia invades those herds which are kept in close, warm, unwholesome stables, and the closed, unventilated stalls well ventilated and filled with pure cold air, the well fed cows will emerge to frolic in the snow, and enjoy themselves in the bright sunshine and the crisp air, when the thermometer marks down near, or zero. Except in stormy weather, the cows should spend at least three or four hours every day in the yard, picking some rough feed and getting water and exercise.
 The present tendency may be carried to excess in this respect, and the recommendation to warm water for the cows, and to them confined in a stable warmed by a stove for weeks at a time, is not conducive to the health of the cows or product or quality of the butter. It may be economical in regard to food used, but, in our judgment, the more food the cows can be induced to eat healthily, the better for the dairy; and the same warmth is more healthfully sustained by good food than by heat kept up by excluding fresh air and confining the cows in close warm stables. Nature provides the cows with a thick, soft woolly blanket under the outer coat of hair, and the covering of a sleek, well fed, well brushed and cared cow is as warm as a man's overcoat, which he would not think of wearing indoors. For these reasons, we object to anything in the management of a winter dairy which will increase the labor and cost without adequate compensation, and above all, which will tend to lower the condition and vigor of the cows.
 To preserve a healthful condition, maintain the vital warmth, and keep the skin in proper action, thorough curbing and brushing should not be neglected in a winter dairy, and the utmost cleanliness in every respect should be observed. Ample supplies of absorbents, of which dried swainson's is the best, and hard wood sawdust and fresh leaves next, and in place of these cut straw or any other fine waste material should be provided. The winter dairy is a grand opportunity for making money, and the improvement of a farm to this end every possible economy in saving and preserving the pasture should be exercised. The feeding must be liberal and of the best food. It must be regular in quality, quantity and time, because out of the food the butter must come, and in quality and quantity will be exact equivalent to the food given.

Office of Rochester Brewing Co.,
 ROCHESTER, N. Y., May 12, 1884.

It having been for some time urged as an argument against the use of malt liquors, that they were unfit for use by reason of adulterations, we beg to state that the Lager Beer manufactured by us is a Pure, Healthful, Unadulterated article.
 For the Invalid and the Nursing Mother as well as for those who simply use it as a beverage, it is a light and nourishing stimulant. Lager Beer has accomplished much for the cause of temperance, in weaning many from the use of the stronger drinks, and thousands all over the land cheerfully testify to its wonderful effects in building up the Eufebized Constitution.
 An analysis of our Beer has been made by Professor Lattimore of the Rochester University, a gentleman whose name is sufficient guarantee of the accuracy of any statement he may make. We can also produce the affidavit of Mr. Frederick Hodecker, our head brewer, which must certainly set at rest all doubts that might exist in the mind of any person.
 Furthermore, we will pay $1000 to any one proving that our statements and claims are not entirely true.
 Very Respectfully,
The Rochester Brewing Co.
