A Great National Journal THE NEW YORK Mail and Express

Home-The Enemy of the Saloon, The Friend of American Labor. The Favorite Newspaper of People of Refined Tastes Everywhere.

For many years the daily edition of the New York MAIL AND EXPHESS has been recognized as the leading afternoon paper of the metropolis, while its weekly edition has been THE FAVORITE HOME PAPER in thousands of families in every State in the Union. I thas attained its great popularity and influence by its enterprise in the collection of news, the purity of its tone, and the ability and courage of its advocacy of the hight on all questions of public interest.

FOR ISSS the Mail and Expluse will be a better paper than ever, and, as a clean, interesting, instructive

Home Newspaper, it solicits comparison with any other in the coun-try. It is one of the LARGEST PAPERS PUB-LISHED anywhere, and spares neither labor nor expense to ascure for its readers the very best in all departments of newspaper literature.

OUR POLITICS.

We believe the Republican party to be the true instrument of the POLITICAL PROGRESS of the American people; and holding that the honest enforcement of its principles is the best guarantee of the national welfare, we shall support hem with all our might but we shall support hem with all our might; but we shall stress opposing parties with consideration and fair play. AGAINST THE SALOON.

The MAIL AND EXPRESS IS the recognized leading journal of the country in the great Antihaloon Republican movement, It believes that the liquor trainte as it exists to-day in the United States is the enemy of society, a fruitful source of corruption in politics, the ally of anarchy, a school of crime, and, with its avowed purpose of seeking to corruptly control elections and legislation, is a menace to the public welfare and decorves the condemnation of all good men.
In brief, all who wish to have in their homes a FIRST-CLASS NEWSPAPER of mational scope, broad views, clean pages and courageous, yet kindly, utterances on all questions of general public interests, will not be disappointed in the Mail. AND Expanse, and we respectfully solicit their inflocace and support. ort.

Roots for table use should not be allowed to freeze, or shring from drying. The supply for the kitchen may be packed in barrels or boxes, covered with dry earth, and placed in the cellar. Large quantities should be stored in trenches, as frequently Bank Street, Lehighton, Penna, described. Cabbages may also be stored in trenches, as advised elsewhere-Onions may be placed in barrels and the whole deeply covered with hay. Onion sets are best kept by planting, if the soil is open-Parsley may be had when wanted, by planting roots in a box of soil and keeping it in the kitchen or other light room where it Solicitor of American & Foreign Patents will not freeze-Plants in cold frame must not be covered with sashes un il the the weather is below thirty-two degrees.

> Orchard and Fruit Garden. If the area of orchard is to be extended, the matter should be considered and arranged for at once; but the first matter should be to care for the trees we have, and see to their preservation during winter-Care for fences and gates. Gates had better be fastened with a piece of wire, as latches are rarely cattle proof. Young trees should have a mound of earth a foot or more high drawn up around the base of the trunk. This will stiffen them against heavy winds and keep off mice-Trap or shoot rabbits while they are fat and fit for market or the table-Where the weather will allow, and the soil is not frozen trees may be planted. If our advice has been followed, trees, whether for planting now or next spring, were ordered this fall; properly heeled in, they are just as safe as in the nursery, and are at hand to be planted whenever it is desirable----Blackberries and other fruit-bearing shrubs may be planted now and save time in the spring -Apples in barrels should not be placed in the cellar until danger of freezing, and keep the cellar near thirty-two degrees, by opening on all mild days-Prune grapevines and currant bushes on mild days. Exclusive Grain Diet for Fowls There is no more wisdom in confining poultry exclusively to a grain diet than in keeping animals on a food devoid of bulk. In the growing season, the hens eat grass, grain, seeds, and insects, and in winter they may be given more bulky food than listed in literature. they usually receive, and at a less cost than that of feeding grain exclusively. If clover hay be finely cut, bolling water poured over it, and the mess sprinkled with a mixture of ground grain, and seasoned with a little salt, they eat it willingly, and it affords an agreeable variety. The clover also largely assists in supplying albumen to the eggs, while the health of the fowls is promoted by the food not being very concentrated. No doubt some may consider such feed as suitable only for a cow or horse, but it is also good for poultry. If hens are kept on corn they become exceedingly fat, and as unfit fer laying as an over fat animal is for breeding, but feed them on a variety which contains more of the flesh-forming elements than the carbonaceous, and they give better results. As the mixture of ground grain, and seasoned with ous, and they give better results. As the ous, and they give better results. As the stock should be kept warm and comfortable, so should the fowls. It is much cheaper to stick should the fowls. It is much cheaper to so ahould the fowls. It is much cheaper to provide suitable quarters than to keep them from freezing by stuffing with corn. They will also eat dry hay, if cut into short lengths; but is better to feed it moistened OF PHILADELPHIA, PA. and warm. Subscription per Year. $1.00 Farm and Garden Notes.
