-Until it is shown that earth below the five or six inches tilled is destitute of the elements that enter into plants it is wise to go deeper, particularly in what are called heavy soils. -To take rust out of steel rub the steel with sweet oil; in a day or two rnb with finely powdered unslaked lime until the rust all disappears, then oil again, roll in woolen and put in a dry place, especially if t be table cutlery. -The greatest inventions of the world were first conceived by the moderately educated classes, and the practical experience of careful, observing farmer is often of more value than the costly experiments of highly-educated professors. -To give shirt bosoms, collars and cuffs a glessy appearance, one ounce of white wax and two of spermaceti are melted together and a little of this is put into the starch, a tablespoonful being nough for a pint of starch.

-Charcoal roads have given good result They are only of value in sections where mains of old charcoal pits into parts of the road that contain too much water.

-Some weeds provide tuas when rage they are young and tender; hence a flock of sheep turned on a field infested with weeds will do good service in not only eradicating the weeds but in converting them into mutton. By preyenting weeds from seeding they will soon become extinct unless they are of varieties that proagate from roots. -Orange cake: Two cups of sugar, two get a second coat of paint on his house be fore the mortgage is foreclosed. Two Ways. Choose Which? There are two usual ways of doing what Naare sometimes does incompletely, namely, to elieve the bowels. One is to swallow a drastic purgative which evacuates profusely, abruptly and with pain, the other is to take Hostetter's stomach bitters, the effect of which is not vi-plent, but sufficiently through, and which does not gripe the intestines. If the first is selested, he person employing it need not expect per-nauent benefit, and he cannot hope to escape the debilitating reaction which leaves the organs as bad or worse off than before. If, on the other and, he resorts to the bitters, he con rely upon the restoration of a regular habit of body, consequent upon a renewal of a healthful tone in the intestinal conal. Besides healthfully relaxing the bowels, the hitters arouses a dorman ver, imparts a beneficial impetus to the action of the kidness, and counteracts the early twinger of rheumatism, a tendency to gout, and malaria in all its forms.

Pickted Cucumbers.

Make a brine, strong enough to bear an egg, and put in your encumbers. Let them remain three weeks, then pour off the salt water and throw them into cold water for twenty-tour hours. Line the kettle with grape leaves, put in your cucumbers in layers, with grape leaves. Pour over them vinegar and water with a lot of alum to green them. Alum the size of a pigeon's egg is sufficient for a two-gallon Bill Heads, kettle full. Let the vinegar and water heat, but not boil. When the pickles are green, throw them into cold water. Pre pare your vinegar to a gallon, allow a cup ful of sugar, three dozen whole black pep ers, the same of cloves, half as much allspice and mace, some pieces of horseradish, and a small red pepper, and several tablespoonsful of mustard seed. Let the vinegar come to a boil, and when cold, pour over your encombers Tie up closely, and in a few weeks they will be ready for
