How IT IS DONE. ▲ jolly party was sitting around a table at a restaurant at the Frankfort-on-the-Main, Germany, talking about the numerous thefts of fall overcoats which had lately been reported from every part of the city. They all agreed that such a thing could not possibly happen to any one of them, as they had their eyes wide open. "Nevertheless," interposed a gentleman sitting at the next table, "I would, if wood be, undertake to prove that any one of your coats could easily be abstracted from under your very noses." They were astonished, but he explained that it 5000 Book Agents wanted to sell the Life and Public Senvices or was only necessary to engage a man in an interesting conversatien, and while he continued under the influence to arise, take his overcoat, put it on, light a eigar and leave the room with a gracious bow. The entire company kept up a continuous roar of laughter at the amusing tale and the still more entertaining practical illustration with which the relater accompained his words and walked out of the door. He did not come back, neither did the overcoat with a pocketbook with $100 in it.
