The Carbon Advocate

SATURDAY, OCTOBER 6, 1888

Current Events Epitomized.

The second anniversary of Lehigh Council, No. 101, Jr. O. U. A. M., was celebrated in a very appropriate manner at the Council Chamber on Thursday evening last. Very near four hundred people were present and listened to with much interest to a programme of speech and music. Rev. G. W. Gross, of Allentown, spoke for almost an hour and held his hearers in rapt attention. Refreshments were served at a late hour to which all did full justice. The exercises closed with the benediction by Rev. Wm. Major.

—Rebecca H., daughter of Thomas and Maria Horn, of Mahoning Valley, died on Sunday morning last at her home in the above place of consumption. Deceased was born the 23rd day of September in the year 1848. She was a sister to Charles, Ed, Al Joe, George, Frank and Thomas Horn and to Mrs. John Gomersy and Mrs. Alice Peters. Interment took place on Wednesday afternoon from the Reformed church, to which faith she was a member. She was buried in the Garden Eternity cemetery.

—James Ginder, of East Penn township, died suddenly on the 27th ult., aged about thirty-eight years, of scurvy. He leaves a wife and five small children. Interment took place at the Brick church, Mahoning, on Sunday morning. Scurvy is a disease almost entirely unknown in this section; it prevails principally on ship board where much salted victuals are consumed and among the Hawaiians, Polynesians and Italians who are not noted for their cleanliness.

—Diseases, desperate grown, by desperate appliances are relieved, not at all! The point of wisdom is to check them before they reach so far by buying a bottle of Salvation Oil. Price 25 cents.

—Conspiracies no sooner should be formed than executed, and a cold should no sooner be taken, than a bottle of Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup should be bought and used according to the directions.

—There was a wreck on the Lehigh Valley road on Wednesday morning. A number of locomotives were filling up, coal and switching in and out among the tracks at the dump near the round houses, when passenger train No. 17, going at the rate of twenty-five miles an hour run into engine 150 and damaged both engines and the baggage car. The fireman and conductor on the passenger train were both slightly injured.

—A young lad named Fronheiser employed as switch tender in the Lehigh Valley Railroad company, at this place, on Thursday afternoon last, boarded engine 149, which was taking in a supply of coal at the dumps, and opening the throttle started the engine which lost its cab by coming in contact with one of the numerous shovels at that point. The boy was discharged and the locomotive was taken to Easton for repairs.

—The Carbon county teacher's institute will be held in the Opera House, at this place, during the fore part of December. It is said that preparations are now making for a program more extensive than any prepared during previous years. County Institutes have always been well attended and it is safe to say that the coming gathering of our teachers will be no exception.

—The fourteenth annual fair of the Carbon county Industrial Society opened on Tuesday with exhibits of agricultural products and live stock. Owing to the extremely cold weather the attendance on Wednesday was not as large as it has been on that day in previous years, on Thursday and Friday however the attendance was fully as large as in previous years.

—The lengthening evenings give plenty of time to read and among the selections of reading matter for the family, each home should be provided with the best local paper obtainable. In that class we the Advocate, will be compared with any of its contemporaries in the county, and we respectfully ask for it a candid consideration.

—The prohibition meeting in Gabel's Hall, Bank street, on Saturday evening last was fairly well attended by our people. Osborne Congleton, editor of the Philadelphia Quill, spoke on the occasion. Those who had the pleasure of hearing him say he is an agreeable, logical and forceful speaker, and that the meeting was a very interesting one.

—Hon. W. M. Rasper and Joseph Fisher spoke to large gatherings at Andover on Tuesday evening.

—Sheriff Gallagher has seized a roan horse belonging to Charles Sewell and will sell the same in the county jail.

—Naturalization Court was well attended on Thursday—quite a number taking the oath of allegiance as citizens of these United States.

—In accordance with an order from headquarters, the Republican hosts of town held a grand public demonstration on Saturday evening. There was music and speeches and a fairly large attendance.

A Democratic Club will be formed in East Mauch Chunk on Saturday evening, and on the following Monday evening a Cleveland, Thurman and Reform banner will be swung to the breeze.

—There is a big demand for dwelling houses in East Mauch Chunk, and as a consequence rents are sky high. It is expected that between thirty and fifty new families will locate in that borough during the next few months.

—All over the country the votaries to Democracy are being rallied as they never were before. The cry of the Republicans: "Don't vote a Democrat," has crystallized so that Democrats will not vote a Republican and as a result the entire ticket will be gloriously elected.

In the Busy Hives of Industry.

An Interesting Batch of Labor Notes Special for Ye Workmen.

—Thirty to forty milliners find employment in the Lehigh Stone Laundry at this place.

—The brick production in the yards at this place has been much greater than in any previous year.

—The Lehigh Wagon Works are rushed with orders. The employees work day and night to fill orders.

—Dorling & Mitchell's car spring works, too are crowded with orders which will keep them busy until long after Christmas.

—An Allentown firm has on exhibition the largest knife and fork ever manufactured. Each is ten feet long and each has an ivory handle. The cost of manufacture was $1000.

—A Pittsburg man has invented a nail machine which will do twice the work that present machines accomplish, and at 50 per cent less. The annual output of our nail mills is 800,000 tons.

—The annual statement of the British Iron Trade Employers' Association reports numerous successful demands for advances in wages during the year, despite the fact that trade did not warrant the increase.

—The biggest passenger engines used in this country are the long-legged flyers of the Pennsylvania road. They are built at the company's shops and, while not as heavy as some of the best freight engines, are taller, longer and faster than any other style of locomotives in this country. They differ from other engines in appearance and are almost entirely devoid of fancy trimmings: paint and brass work, but can do better work on the level than any others in the country.

—According to the Iron Age, the longest straight track of railway in the world is on the new Argentine Pacific railway from Buenos Ayres to the foot of the Andes. For a distance of 213 miles the line is laid without a curve. The level nature of the country will be evident from the fact that there is neither a cutting nor an embankment which is deeper or higher than one yard. The entire absence of the wood on the plain across which the western end of the road passes has led to the extensive use of metallic sleepers.

The Real Estate Record says: "The business interests of the country feel less concern just now over future trade probabilities than for some months. The reasons for more confidence are assured—larger wheat, corn and cotton crops, a good export trade, better prices, greater control by legislation over railroads, rock bottom prices, exhausted stocks among producers, a high earning power among the people, an abundance of circulating medium and an enlarging consumptive capacity."

'What is it they put in Ivory Soap, Doctor, to obtain its healing qualities?'

'No special ingredient is used. It is simply because the Ivory is as nearly pure as it is possible to make soap. Any soap that is as pure as the Ivory will be equally as healing in its effect, but the difficulty is to find a soap so pure. The profession recommend this non-irritating soap simply to cleanse the wound, then nature does the rest. You can readily appreciate what the effect would be if your neck had been washed with an impure and adulterated soap. Avoid colored and highly perfumed soap, for the coloring and perfume are so often used to disguise something the soap should not contain.'

A WORD OF WARNING. There are many white soaps, each represented to be "just as good as the Ivory"; they ARE NOT, but like all counterfeits, lack the peculiar and remarkable qualities of the genuine. Ask for "Ivory" Soap and insist upon getting it.
