

THE GREAT DISCOUNT SALE

In crowding our store with throngs of people desiring to take advantage of the ten per cent. discount.

Our store is filled with goods on which the prices had been greatly reduced before we announced this sale; these also suffer the ten per cent. discount.

A Ten Per Cent. Discount

on the lowest prices yet reached, is an opportunity that the people of Lehigh and surroundings may never again have.

We will remain but a few weeks longer at our present location, people should not delay purchasing.

To Distinguish Only

We have a number of subscribers on our list, to many of whom we have sent bills, for two, three or more years, and we again call their attention to the matter by marking a blue X opposite the direction tab, and earnestly request that they make an immediate response. The date on the bill will show them just how much they owe, thus:

Jos. Paquet, mar 7 85 shows that he owes from March 7, 1885, would be $1.00 up to March 7, 1889. Other dates can be computed in the same manner. Let us hear from you at once by Postal Note or Money Order payable at the Lehigh Post-office.

-Our young friend Robert Hengen has purchased the good-will and stock of Charles Schweitzer's blacksmith establishment in East Weisport.

-Two women who had their "mad up" afforded lots of amusement for some of our people the other day. Oh, my, but didn't they tongue lash each other.

-It is settled, fact, Marsh and Zern will erect on the site of the old polling mill offices a three story brick building 35x50. It will be for store, office and lodge purposes.

-William Boyer has erected cribbing at the rear of his store building, along the canal. This gives that gentleman considerable more space to carry on his improvements. The other property owners along the canal should do the same.

-The following officers have been elected in the Lutheran and Reformed Church, to serve during 1889:

Supts.-J. M. Smith and M. Fry. Secretary.-H. C. Frapp. Treasurer.-F. F. Kistler.

Organist.-Miss Madeline Kistler. Librarian.-Miss Hattie Markley.

-Dennis Notstein has been employed, with his portable steam saw mill on the island here for the past month converting into lumber the logs caught in the Lehigh river by Horn and Yeckel during the past season. Already they have saved up 10,788 lathes 70,000 boards, sills and posts. The work is likely to continue for another month or more.

-The numerous friends and neighbors of Mrs. Daniel Kroske, exceedingly surprised the latter party one evening last week, by unceremoniously dropping in upon her with loads of the necessary articles of living. Widow Kroske's heart was full to overflowing with prayers of thanksgiving to the kind friends who so generously contributed to her comfort.

-Bernard Voght died on Friday morning at the age of 74 years. For a quarter of a century he has been a citizen of Weisport. For a number of years he was in the saloon and restaurant business, retiring from the same a general store he continued in the building occupied by Biery's drug store, up to the time of the death of his wife, some six or seven years ago. Two years ago he was elected tax collector and later secured the contract to carry the mails. Both these latter trusts he filled carefully. He was buried on Monday, a large company of friends following the remains to their last resting place in the East Weisport cemetery. Revs. Brown and Sandt officiated.

X O R Installation

On Monday evening, long before the appointed hour for the commencement of the exercises, the large gallery and auditorium in the Opera House were crowded with the ladies. And the audience, people from Weisport, Slatington, Mauch Chunk, Slatington, Parryville and the Mauch Chunk Valley had assembled to do honor to the Knights of the Golden Eagle, whose noble principles of charity and good-fellowship shone brightly and above each Castle with a halo of brightness. At a few minutes before eight o'clock Carbon Castle, headed by the Arion Cornet Band, marched in order from their hall to the Opera House, filed in couples down the aisle and part of the programme commenced by the singing of the opening hymn, followed by prayer by High Priest, J. M. Hannan. At this point the presiding officers vacated their seats for the Grand Officers of the Castle who were to install, Grand Sir Herald, N. V. Morthimer, Jr., Grand Sir Kutz, Dillie Snyder, C. A. Buck, I. S. Koch, Dr. C. T. Horn, advanced to the front of the stage and at the completion of the closing ode performed a series of evolutions with the sword. The Grand Officers were dressed in the rich Comandry Trimmings and attracted much attention, and won the admiration of all by their magnificent bearing and Knightly demeanor.

Part second opened with a choice musical selection by Arion Cornet Band and continued with a beautiful duet by the Williams family of Slatington. Words of sweetest melody filled the air with entrancing strains and won for the singers a well deserved applause that shook the hall to its centre. Miss Mary Dreihelms followed with a recitation, which she delivered in a creditable manner. Her recitation, which people's little favorite, made her appearance on the stage at this juncture and in her usual piquant manner won the hearts of the audience and by the characteristic of a "I think it so nice, don't you?" Miss Maud Wheatley followed with a recitation which delivered in her usual style and grace, won for the little lady a deserved applause "Sailing on the Lake," by the Williams family, was followed by a speech from Jimmy Butler, or L. A. Werner in disguise, which was very well rendered. The musical selection by the quartette, C. A. Harding, C. A. Buck, W. Smith, W. R. Kennel and Dr. Horn were well received, while John E. Hummel scored a wonderful hit as a musical prodigy in his performance on the mouth accordion. Messrs J. M. Behrig and Griff Manta were encored at the finish of a bang, while Bert Durling's "Old Mother Hubbard" was well received. The songs added by Prof. F. J. Stetler were short, pertinent and to the point, in consonance with that gentleman's record as a sly, interesting and instructive speaker. A vocal selection by the Williams family and a musical selection by the Band closed the evening's exercises for an audience well pleased and satisfied in every respect with the committee H. R. Kreidler, Daniel Balzer, H. V. Morthimer, Jr., I. S. Koch and C. W. Bower.

The pianist for the evening, Mrs. C. W. Bower, disposed of her duties as usual in a creditable manner. Her rendition of a duet combined with a natural ability and practical experience gave charm to all Mrs. C. W. Bower's instrumental selections.

Another Sad Death

James Rehrig, a son of William and Amelia Rehrig, aged twenty years, employed as first brakeman and fatal accident near the Rolling Mill, Allentown, on Wednesday morning at one o'clock. The train was moving at the rate of eight or ten miles an hour, and in starting out again a coupling was broken. Rehrig jumped from the cars to make the coupling and it is supposed that in running along the tracks he was struck by a passing train and thrown under the wheels of the freight car. He was not missed by the train bands until they reached Rockdale. During this time his body was discovered and taken to the Allentown depot. The doctor who attended him, says he was a fine, healthy, kind parent, brothers and sisters to mourn his untimely and painful death.

The funeral obsequies will take place at the Lutheran church on Saturday afternoon at one o'clock. The Jr. O. U. A. M., of which he was a member will participate in a body.

Farmers' Institute at Slatington

A farmers' institute and general farmers convention will be held at a roomy hall, Slatington, on Friday and Saturday, February 24, 1889. An extensive programme, consisting of essays on topics directly of interest and importance to agriculturists and others, has been carefully arranged for the occasion and will no doubt prove of benefit to farmers. Our agricultural friends should turn out en masse on the above dates and encourage by their presence the leader in this line for farmers, the American Institute, for further particulars address W. M. Bealinger, Walnutport, Pa.

The State Teachers' Association

The Executive Committee of the Pennsylvania State Teachers' Association, composed of Superintendents D. S. Keith, T. A. Snyder, Z. X. Snyder, J. H. Minchener and W. G. Brumbaugh, met at Harrisburg Saturday and fixed July 9, 10 and 11, 1889, for the meeting of the association at Allentown. A programme embracing addresses by the leading educators of the country will be announced. Hon. E. E. Higbee, Superintendent of public instruction, is chairman of the association.

Look, Act and Save Money

You can save your day's wages and care here if you buy your suits and overcoats for men and boys, plush coats and new-made for ladies, at Sondheim's O. P. S. C. Hall, Mauch Chunk. Prices on our large stock of goods have been marked down from 10 to 25 per cent below cost.

Public Sale Register

On January 26, on the premises in Mahoning township, Amardus Nicholas will sell at public sale a variety of valuable personal property.

A Great Surprise

Is in store for all who use Kemp's Balsam for the Throat and Lungs. The great guaranteed remedy. Would you believe that it is so meritorious and that any druggist is authorized by the proprietor of this wonderful remedy to give you a sample bottle free? It never fails to cure cough or chronic bronchitis. All druggists sell Kemp's Balsam. Large bottles 50 cents and one dollar.

LABOR'S BUSY HIVE.

Fresh Notes from Labor's Gravel that will Interest Railroaders and others who toil.

Eastern is agitated by the prospect of having a clock factory and an oil mill factory.

Retrenchment is the watch-word of the Lehigh Valley now. All work not absolutely necessary has been abandoned until spring and consequently many employees are being laid off for a few months.

There is such a rush of freight upon all the roads just at present that it is almost impossible to move the cars fast enough to cope with it and the cars shops can not build new cars quick enough to supply the demand for them.

Another engine has been completed for the Perth Amboy yards at Hazleton shops. It is a six wheeler, painted black with gold pointed lettering, figuring and striping. It will be shipped away next week. The name is "Oboron," No. 473.

Reading capitalists are talking of building a gravity railroad eight miles long, around Mount Penn, overlooking the city. About half of the money needed has been subscribed. The railroad is intended as a rival to the Switchback at Mauch Chunk.

The P. & R. company is about equipping the flat cars used by the material or "gravel" trains with air brakes. The haul brakes interfere with the unloading of the cars. About 75 cars formerly used in the oil trade are to be utilized for the purpose, the tanks have been taken off.

The new Lehigh Valley engine, No. 463, "H. S. Drinker," built at the Weatherly shops, has been put on the road. This engine will be used to draw heavy passenger trains on the Lehigh Division between Easton and Mauch Chunk, and is adapted especially for making better running time. In this respect the engine will be superior to all other on the road.

On the large number of P. & R. passenger cars requiring repairs, orders were given at the car shops in Reading to put all hands in that department on 10 hours. The men employed in the paint and tin shops are also working 10 hours. It is stated that there are at least 72 passenger cars requiring more or less repairs and in order to have them ready for the usual summer traffic it will keep the men busy about 175 men are employed in the passenger department.

A rumor got among the employees of the Philadelphia and Reading and Jersey Central Railroaders a few days ago that an order had been issued for their respective companies requiring them to shave their heads where any were worn and to wear mustaches neatly waxed and appropriately trimmed. The penalty for a non-compliance with this order was a loss of position. Once there was a storm of indignation and there was talk of committees, strikes, ruin and revolution. Matters began to look serious when the general passenger agent of the New Jersey Central denied the truth of the rumor.

Lower Townsmen's Items

L. F. Kern is engaged in painting and papering Griffith DeLong's dwelling house.

Mrs. Josiah Strupp had a party on New Year's day to make a new roof on her dwelling house.

Henry DeLong is the happy fellow of this place, owing to a little girl that made its appearance at his home.

As far as we could ascertain there were four proposals filed for mail route between Bowmanstown and New Ringgold.

Rumor has it that Jacob Blose will be a candidate at the spring election for supervisor; he no doubt will be the right person for that position.

The C. R. R. of N. J., intend to build a bridge across the Lehigh at Allentown. The contract was awarded to a firm of filozones, who have commenced to quarry stones for the same at Bowmanstown. They wish to engage about 70 men, stone cutters and laborers.

The dedication of the Evangelical church near Lehigh Gap, took place on the 30th of Dec. 1888. The collections during the day and evening amounted to over four hundred dollars, which with the amount raised by subscription, was sufficient to pay all costs and expenses to remodel the church which cost over a thousand dollars. Well done!

Washington Camp No. 29, P. O. S. of A., of Bowmanstown elected the following officers to serve ensuing term, commencing Jan. 1st, 1889.

Past Priest.-R. E. Ash. President.-T. J. Weston. V. President.-Wm. Walp. W. of F. & C.-E. H. Beltz. Recording Sec.-O. O. Blose. Asst. R. Sec.-O. F. Balliet. Fine Sec.-Fulton Blose. Treasurer.-H. M. Maldenald. Conductors.-Roger Brown. Inside Guard.-James Hagenbuch. Outside G.-Jerome Hoffman. Chaplain.-Daniel F. Romig. Right Sentinel.-Victor E. Brown. Left S.-Josiah Beidelman. Trustee.-R. F. Zollner.

The above were installed by District Priest, H. W. Rinker, of Camp 117, on the 2nd day of January 1889. CORRESPONDENCE.

The Storm Wind

A cyclone from the West swept over the State Wednesday, causing the loss of many lives and inflicting incalculable damage to property. Pittsburg and Reading suffered the most. In the former city a four-story building on Diamond Street, near Wood, in course of erection was blown down, the walls falling upon other buildings. Eight or ten persons were killed and forty or fifty injured. In Reading the cyclone blew down the Reading silk mill and the Philadelphia and Reading Railroad paint shops, which also caught on fire from an explosion of gasolene. It is thought that at least six people were killed in Reading and fully 100 injured.

The storm possessed every feature of a tornado. The signal service officer said the storm came from the Southwest. It made its appearance in Texas on Monday, reaching Arkansas on Tuesday, and struck Chicago at eight o'clock on Wednesday morning. The storm then swept in a direct line for Pittsburg, which, however, escaped the greatest severity, as the track of its force lay Northwest of that city. Just before the storm struck Pittsburg the barometer recorded 29.08, the lowest point reached here since the establishment of the signal service in Philadelphia.

MAUCHCHUNK NEWS.

Equilibrists of Local Import Picked up and Put Together for County Readers.

The search for the body of William Eitner, the miser lost in the Nequepomis mines, has been discontinued.

The newly elected and appointed associate Judges, Charles Seidel and Wm. Stroh, served for the first time at the term of Lincoln court this week.

The meeting of the Lyceum in Dolon's building on Sunday evening was an interesting occasion. The programme consisted of recitations, singing, etc.

Sheriff Levan, of Frankling, moved to town this week, and is now nicely established in the county prison. He has nine prisoners to take care of at this time.

We note by a programme before us of the Farmers' Institute to be held at Slatington next month, that Attorney A. H. Bonte will read an essay on "Anthracite Coal."

It is always a pleasure for us to refer our readers to the advertisement of Rex's Lion Marche, because they are live merchants and offer wonderful bargains in dry goods, etc.

County Auditors Paul Wagner, A. H. Peiers and R. B. Behn, with the assistance of Brother Rinker, of the Herald, are working out the document known as the County Statement.

The spouses in the Mud Run cases are made returnable to Court on next Wednesday. It is not likely, however, that the cases will come up before Thursday morning. Only one case will be tried at this term of court it is thought, the other six cases will be tried at a special term sometime in March or February.

George Kline, a liverman of Summit Hill, had John Snyder and Moses Hantz of the same place, arrested this week, and taken before
