A GREAT ISSUE.

The most vital issue now before the pe ple of Pensylvania is, be ond question, the Prohibition amendment. It is gigantic it proportions, inasmuch as it directly or in directly concerns every man, woman and child in this great commonwealth; in a moral sense it might truly be said to over shadaw the slayery question of over a quar ter of a century ago. On account of the importance and magnitude of this great issue the CARBON ADVOCATE opens its columns to the use of its readers in discussing this question that is of paramoun import to all. All communications musbe plainly written, on but one side of the paper, and must be short and to the point We don't want yard-long sentiments of personal abuse, but facts and arguments that will interest the christian and the saloon-keeper alike.

BY A VOTE OF THIRTY TWO TO THIRTY continuous discussion, passed the Senate on Tuesday. The measure differs essentially from the tariff bill proposed by the Demo crats, but on the whole it is perhaps, as fair no such crush to be seen at any ball in a document of the kind as a Republican New York. AND FOR THE DEMOCRACY.

THE SUS believes that the campaign for the election of a Democratic Congress in 1896 and a Democratic President in 1893 should begin on a about the fowth of next March. The Sus will be on hand at the beginning and until the end of the most interesting and important political conflict since the war, doing its housest utmost, a ever, to secure the triumph of the Democratic carry and the permanent survenue.

The great fact of the year is the return to absolute power of the common enemy of all good Democrats—the political organization for whose overthrow The SUN fought at the front for 15 years, the memocrable years of Grant and the Fraud Hayes, and Garfield and Arthur.

It is the same old enemy that Democrats now confront, and he will be intrenched in the same strong position. It has been carried one: by brave and hopeful fighting. De you not believe with The SUN that the thing can be done again? Want and see!
