citizens of a great Commonwealth. The idea, which first originated in a series of newspaper articles entitled "State Cele crities," has been fully developed in the book in question, and, is carried out in a very comprehensive and vet exhaustive way. The biographies include those of civil and military officers, journalists and men who have achieved distinction in literature and in the aciences. They are not mere enlogies, but give the story of the lives of their subjects from year to year, and are valuable as showing how largely they have helped to form public opinion and to contribute the material and intellectual growth of the community. Each biography is preceded by a portrait of the subject, reproduced by a new phototope process, which has a very artistic effect. Speaking of St. Patrick's day reminds me that the two facilions of the Ancient Order of Hibernians have not yet shaken hands ever the bloody chasm. The association is about evenly divided and is several thousand strong, so that if the should give us a regular Order the Boyne or Vinegar Hill. We tided the matter over last year and the gerelemen radiant in vonderful rosettes and sas es, heavy with gold lace and green feat The typography and binding of the book are examples of the best Philadeiphia workmanship, and when the seties shall have been completed it will form a work of much historical value, and a record of in dividual, worth and success, to which every Pennsylvanianian can point with every Pennsylvanianian can point with pride and satisfaction.

American balls, German balls, Irish balls, French balls, Russian balls, balls by Jews, Christians, Turks and Chinese; and by the way let me not forget that large and intelligent constituency represented by my colored brother and sister who, during the pasweek, have treated us to that delightful en tertainment known as a "Cake walk." Now there may be some distance between a cake walk led by Brudder Augustus Thom son, an artist in kalsomime and lime, and Miss Jerusha Simmons, artistic laundress of Sullivan street, and the fancy dress ball for the Society of Decorative Art, where Henry Clews led the "Sir Roger de Coverly" and the Vanderbilts and Astors were in the German, but when it comes down to hard, square, solid enjoyment, where you get square, solid enjoyment, where you get less than sick wives and daughters. But it was quite another thing when the elite four hundred met quantum famille last week. There no outsiders got a peep within the sacred portals; they tried to keep out the wicked reporter, but the wicked reporter got in all the asme, and now Ward McAllister and Arthur O'Leary are cudgeling their brains to find out who new Ward McAllister and Arthur of Leary are cudgeling their brains to find out who the wicked reporter is. I believe there is a barbaric strain in our libert sequing flown from the dusty centure. Monday, March 11, 1889.

Is seleve there is a barbaric strain in our blood coming down from the dusty centure. With neither time nor circumstances has been able to purify. A strain which delights in gaudy colors and semi barbaric bedeckment; where the wire ring in the access and the iron bracelet on the ankle is exchanged for the golden hoop upon the finger and the jeweled asp upon the arm. On the floor there were grand old bankers, erudite viofessors, great lawyers stuffed full of Blackstone and Story, rigged out as kings and dukes and clowns, and apparently as happy as schoolboys after the first snow. In the throng were old dowagers covered with pomade and diamonds who have attended every society recention since—since—no, won't I tell you how long, but a very long time ago. There were many beautiful women there, and many more who only made their ugliness more conspicuous by their lavish adornment. The dispiay of diamends and jewels was wonderful. Mrs. Astor were a dress that for costliness and beaut, is matched by that of no crowned head in Europe, and it was estimated that her diamonds worn on that occasion were. blood coming down from the dusty centu-ries, which neither time nor circumstances head in Europe, and it was estimated that

It generally starts in with a great flourish of trumpets and invariably winds up in disappointment and grows. Young men about town who expect to see a reproduction of the Mabl le or the Chateau Rouge pay five or ten dollars for the privilege and are mad as heps be cause the ball is not as bad as they expected. It is safe to say that the only reason an Americans attend at all is that they expect to be shocked. This has got to be so well understood that the police are always out in heavy force and they generally have their to be shocked. This has got to be so well understood that the police are always out in heavy force and they generally have their long night locusts within reach. The aver age Frenchman who delights in the bail of the Circle Francaise is a red hot Republican. I mean French Republican, and he does not like his liberty to be curtailed at his favorite bail, either in high kicking or cham pagne. Now all sales of whiskey or anything else that a man could get respectable drunk on steps at one o'clock A. M. and until one o'clock nobod expects to see much fun at the French bail. Very pretty, magnificently dressed, but very naughty are some of the syrens that gild this festive eccasion. They are of a class that does not usually attend society balls in New York, but at the Circle Erancaise there is no unpleasan, hunting for pedigrees. At one o'clock the police shut down on the wine room, then there was weeping and wailing and gnashing of teeth. Though the floors and reception rooms awarmed with police and detectives there was some very high kicking as it approached the wee hours, and no man or woman went to bed thiraty it they had the money to pay.

The Leiderkranz and the Arion are the two great society balls of our German population, and are among the jolliest and most popular balls given here during the season. Nothing delights the German heart more than a masquerade, and on certain occasions as high as one thousand dollars have been paid by ambitious individuals for the privilege of being king of the festival Though the commany a tending these balls always large and ample latitude is allowed for mirth and enjoyment and all classes of respectable people are admitted, a close scrutiny is kept upon all who attend, so that while they have lots of roaring fun and a good time generally, it is that kind of a good time where the most respectable and streamspect German feels perfectly safe in

New York has no more worthy charity than that opened last week in Mott stress, right where it was most needed, in the midst of the slums; where poverty, sin and crime do much abound. It is a monument streeted b John Jacob Astor to the memory of his beloved wife, and is one of the most world and for Indianate. Schools in M. Rapsher, of Mauch Chunk, says the Prespectus, will adorn its pages and we predict a large sale for the work in this section of the State when it is put on sale.

We, the undersigned Auditors of the County of Carbon, State of Pennsylvania, elected and didysworn according to law do report that we met in the office of the tounty Commissioners, and ted adjusted, and settled according to hav, the accounts of George Dolar, Trassurer, Henry Miller, D. J. O'Donnell, and Jacob S. Hawk. Commissioners, and James Gallager, Sheriff of said county, for the year ending Dec. 31st 168; commencing the work on the 1st Monday of January, 1888, and completing it on the 22rd day of January, 1888, and completing it on the 22rd day of January, 1888, and completing it on the 22rd day of January, 1888. And it is said accounts settled as above stated and o'record in the office of Predictionary, are corect. We also find that from the above balances due by collectors the percentage for collection and in some instances exomerations are to be deducted.

We also rever study call public attention to the fact that in our openion, in some of the several townships and bottoughs, assessors and registers have charged of Thianity for their services. Notable instances are the assessors of Banks, the registry of Beaver M whow, the assessors of telegition, weatherly, Lower rowmensing, Larsford and Mauch churk Townsh p; and the registery of 2nd Ward Mauch churk Biorough.

We also recommend to the Board of Commissioners, that they as much as possible carry a system of book's cepting into the office of County omnissioners; also that an account the opened with the several parties who rent from the county.

In testimon, whereof we have hereunto set our hands and seems at the office aforesaid this 23rd day of Jan. A. D. 1985.
