LABOR'S BUSY HIVE.

Interesting Items Gleaned for the Ever Busy World of Labor.

The Hersh Furnace will likely start up during March. -The Lehigh Valley Railroad Company has put in operation at the tunnel at Pattemburg a stone crusher, which does the work of twenty five men.

The Lehigh Valley officials have issued an order that no passenger can be carried over the road on freight trains except on special permit from the superintendent's office.

The Glendon Iron Company ordered all of its ore mines in Williams Township, Lehigh county, closed and the pumps and buildings removed, throwing fifty men out of employment.

Treasurer and Purchasing Agent W. C. Alderson, of the Lehigh Valley Railroad, says the company's steel rail order for 1889 is at least as large as for last year.

Easton is booming, having secured a clock manufacturer, a wood-turning establishment, a boot and shoe factory, an increased organ works, and now a party wishes good for starting a jute thread mill. Help for Easton.

A notice has been issued by the Pennsylvania railroad that hereafter any corpse shipped over its line shall be accompanied by a health permit showing it to be free from contagion, and that one first class ticket full fare, will be required for a corpse, no matter what the age of the deceased may be.

While the railroad track is a nice level place to walk upon and many people choose it in preference to roads and pathways, nevertheless it is against the rules of the railroad company. Any person not in the employ of the railroad walking on the track is liable to prosecution for trespass, a rule that should be rigidly enforced and many lives would be saved in consequence.

A notice posted at the Glendon Iron Company's yards states that a general reduction of 12 per cent in wages will go into effect March 1st, and foundries and machine shops in South Easton will be closed.

It is said that Hongarians will be employed, though this is not warranted by what has been said by some of the bosses, who indicate that overproduction in the iron market is the cause.

Persons contemplating the purchase of carpets will act wisely if they first call on Kemmerer & Schwartz, north Bank street, and inspect their large stock and learn the very low prices at which they are selling the same—all grades and styles—you are sure to be pleased.

We have a number of subscribers on our lists, to many of whom we have sent bills, for two, three or more years, we now again call their attention to the matter by marking a blue X opposite the direction tab, and earnestly request that they make an immediate response. Y. M. C. A. Convention. The Lehigh District of the Y. M. C. A. met in convention at this place Saturday and Sunday. The following programme was carried out:

Saturday at 10 A. M. in the Reformed church, the convention was opened by Mr. McGowan. The meeting was opened with singing service, conducted by Mr. Allen, of Lafayette College. The following topics were thoroughly discussed by East of Bethlehem, and James of Allentown: "Why should the Association meetings be for men only instead of for all classes?" "Can ladies assist in the Association work?" and "Why should the business men of the community support the Young Men's Christian Association?"

Sunday at 8 A. M. an interesting conversation meeting was held in the M. E. church which was led by the State Agent of the Y. M. C. A., Mr. H. H. Hays. After the conversation meeting delegates spoke in the Reformed, Evangelical and M. E. churches of Lehighton and the Evangelical church of Weissport.

Sunday evening after the regular services of all the churches were over, a mass farewell meeting was held in the Reformed church. The church was crowded to overflowing, many people having been turned from the doors. Many spicy speeches were made by the delegates to their experience of the convention. The meeting was closed by a farewell song, during which all the delegates and members of this Association joined hands bidding their christian friends good-bye and sending them home better prepared to serve their Master, whose spirit shone down upon them during the convention. OPEN TO EVERYBODY.

We do not hold ourselves responsible for opinions expressed under this head. Persons contributing, and sign their names legibly, the latter not for publication but as a matter of good faith.

What Liberty Will it Abolish? One of the pneumatic dynamite guns of the pattern designed for the cruiser Vesuvius was recently tried at Fort La Fayette and the result was eminent: successful. The problem is quite well solved in relation to coast and harbor defences, judging from the opinions of some of our scientists as well as from one of Uncle Jonathan's editors, the London Engineer, who comes out in language as follows: "We may allow something for pardonable exasperation and still we are enough left to induce the belief that Uncle Sam has got hold of a craft which an iron clad would not care to fight for the fun of the thing." We are evidently making great strides in the improvements of the day. Look for instance at our railroads, steamboats, telegraph, telephone, the use of electricity, with many of our lesser inventions adopted by the people and have proven beneficial to the community at large.

But in the midst of all this we have a great cancer upon our body politic, the liquor licensing system, upon which there is little or no improvement, unless it should be high license, which we think only makes the liquor traffic more profitable, degrading and debasing in its consequences and more injurious to the community. Now whilst there is so much of our treasure expended for innocents every year, so many families ruined, so many heart-broken mothers weeping over their fallen sons who have become inebriates through the use of alcoholic drinks, we should not be so slow to take the means of abolishing the liberty that some people take, namely, of virtually taking the bread from poor people's children, clothing them in rags, compelling their mothers to toil at the wash tub to earn something to purchase coarse food to sustain themselves and offspring. But what liberty will it abolish that is beneficial to the community? I know of none. Are not all laws intended to prohibit evil? Certainly they should be. OBERKNECHT.

Retrospect. The borough election is over and a glance at the outcome brings to view some very stern facts. The Democrats were lenient enough and disinterested enough to sacrifice the best offices for the sake of the Magnificent. The Republicans certainly have reason to rejoice over the result. By supporting the side show they had nothing to lose but all to gain, and it is no marvel that the Republicans have a knot and regard the Democrats as being "up to the neck" in a hundred majority and the best offices in the hands of the minority means treachery and lack of duty. The party promoters are either treacherous themselves or are loathe in the trust imposed. It's a pity that not ever one who is a Democrat feels his duty to support his party's ticket. The Republicans always do it. Why should not the Democrats?

They have the greater number to choose from and consequently should have as good a reason for this coolness and indifference must have its cause. Some body is to blame. The organization seems to be rotten at the core and at the mercy of those who belong to it for the sake of avarice. We cannot expect harmony and good results until treachery is eradicated and the treacherous are deposed.

A DEMOCRAT. Lehighton, Feb. 22, 1889.

Y. M. C. A. Organization. One result of the convention of the Y. M. C. A., held in this place on Saturday and Sunday was the re-organization of the Association in this borough. On Monday evening a meeting was held in the Presbyterian church for this purpose, and after the adoption of a new constitution and by-laws, the names of some of the most prominent business men of the town were presented for nomination for a board of directors to serve during the year.

The following gentlemen were elected: W. W. Bowman, from the Evangelical church; M. O. Bryan, from the Episcopal church; and Dr. W. G. M. Seiple, from the Reformed church. One hundred and twenty-five dollars were raised and subscriptions for Association purposes. A ladies auxiliary will likely be organized on Tuesday. Mr. Rankin, secretary of the work in Allentown, has promised to be present and assist in effecting this work. C. S. V.

Devil's Miss II. "Hearts of Oak" is a play that is bound to please the masses. It has an abundance of comedy and pathos, in fact there is something to suit almost every taste. The play was staged by Mr. Herne's company, the special scenery being worth of special notice. In the fourth act a baby is the prominent character and it truly a wonderful youngster. Although it had to undergo much rough handling it never uttered a sound, but through it all looked delighted.

Miss Price who plays the part of Crystal is a pleasing actress and made a very favorable impression. Mr. Kernen was very successful as Terry and Phyllis Leach and E. L. Clark, as Owen Garrowsay and Uncle David respectively, are to be commended for their excellent acting. The others in the cast did justice to the characters assigned them. "Hearts of Oak" will be repeated again this evening. Lowell Times.

Don't miss meeting this play in the Opera House on Monday evening, for the benefit of Police Co. of Red Men. Admission 50 and 75 cents.

"Othello's occupation's gone." He used to spend days and nights cursing the fates and the rheumatism. Now he only lies down and laments to think how easily he was cured by Serravallo's Tonic.

Wm. H. Vanderford, Esq. Editor of the Democrat and Advocate, Westminster, Md., writes, that he has used Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup and knows it to be a good medicine. Buy it. Try it. Serravallo.

Some time after the prayer he tried to force his passage through an aisle on the Democratic side of the House and got wedged in, to the great amusement of the ladies in the galleries. Afterwards he spread sail in the Speaker's arena and held a confab with Chief Stenographer McElbain.
