Under a spreading chestaut tree The village blacksmidt stands, And in a brimming basin he Would wash his brawny hands; But something else than water clean His sooty palm demands.	And when the soap escaped his grasp, With wonder he did note That on the water's surface dark The cleansing bar did float, As swims upon a turbid lake A pearl white fairy boat.
Week in, week out, from morn till night,	"Thanks, thanks," said he, "my worthy friend,
He might have rubbed, I trow,	For this which thou hast brought ;
Had I not given him a cake	No village blacksmith should forget
Of IVORY SOAP, when, lo !	The facts this Ivory Soap has taught;
Full soon those honest hands of his	For hands like mine it is the best
Were spotless as the snow,	That can be found or bought."

A WORD OF WARNING.

There are many white soaps, each represented to be "just as good as the 'lvory';" they ARE NOT, but like all counterfeits, lack the peculiar and remarkable qualities of the genuine. Ask for "Ivory" Soap and insist upon geiting it.

A FEW WORDS WITH YOU.

CARPETS!

Our Carpets are almost gone; the prices at which they were offered was such an inducement that as a result we are nearly drained. Only a few more patterns left, and if you want any at the figures they have been offered at you will have to hurry. There is money in it for you, even if you will not need them until next Fall.

SHOES!

Now, as to Shoes; this is our specialty and our stock is nicer, neater, cleaner, cheaper, bigger and better than ever before. We can suit all in footwear, tennis included.

The Cobbler's Lament.

BY THE BARD OF OPEAR HALL. The cobbler sat humming from morning till night,

With foot-gear to mend and to turn; Stitching patches or pegging on soles while he swore

At such trash; which never was bought of ZERN.

Now we are relieved ! the agony is over ! and if we survive this effort as we believe we will you'll hear from us again. We would say that nothing saved us from instant collapse but the elasticity of the suspenders we wore. We have more of them in stock ; lots of 'em. They'll stretch like a lawyer's conscience, and what is better, they'll contract again. But the prices are the same to all-contracted to smallest dimensions.

Come and see what we've got. Try 'em, buy 'em, 'you'll be satisfied, so will we.
